Ford raps Agnew's remarks about Jews

President says statements in novel are wrong and 'unsavory'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says former Vice President Spiro Agnew's recent remarks about Jews "are wrong, both substantively and morally, and they struck me as an unsavory footnote to a chapter in our history that would best remain closed."

The White House made public on Friday a June 22 letter from Ford to Seymour Graubard of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. The ADL said Graubard had asked about Agnew's remarks about Jews in his novel, "The Canfield Decision," and in interviews about the book.

The ADL said Agnew's remarks maligned Israel, Zionists and American Jews. It accused him of expressing "anti-Semitic canards."

In the novel, Agnew refers to Jewish cabals and Zionist lobbies. He said in interviews promoting the book last month that neither he nor the novel is anti-Semitic.

But Agnew said the American press is unduly influenced by Zionist opinion and U.S. policy in the Middle East is less than evenhanded.

"As you look around in ... the big news business you see a heavy concentration of Jewish people," Agnew said. "Now I'm not saying this is wrong, I'm saying it has to color to some extent their comprehension of what takes place."

"I'm not a bigot," he said. "But neither am I the kind of person who runs away from saying what he believes.

"From what I've seen ... of the powerful leadership of the American Jewish community, they're far too sensitive ... Now I understand that some of this comes out of years of ... oppression. But I think now they're big boys and they have to grow up and accept a certain amount of criticism ... criticism is not bigotry."

In his letter, Ford said Graubard had sought "my reaction to Mr. Agnew's recent public remarks."

Wrote Ford:

"I believe those remarks are wrong, both substantially and morally, and they struck me as an unsavory footnote to a chapter in our history that would best remain closed.

B1 bomber program is approved

Committee approves production of new supersonic planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees agreed Friday on a production go-ahead for the controversial B1 supersonic bomber.

In approving a compromise $32.5 billion weapons purchasing authorization bill, the conference deleted a Senate-approved restriction delaying a production contract for the first three planes at least until next Feb. 1.

The delay was designed by its sponsor, Sen. John Culver, D-Iowa, to give the next president, whoever he might be, a chance to review completed test data and decide whether the planned 244 B1 replacements for the B52 are worth the estimated $22 billion cost.

President Ford has indicated support for the B1 program, while Jimmy Carter, the potential Democratic presidential nominee, has expressed doubt about the wisdom of proceeding.

Culver said he would "continue to oppose this wasteful and unnecessary program." He said it will be an issue when the compromise bill returns to the House and Senate for final votes, and again during Senate consideration of the followup defense appropriation bill.

The Pentagon plans to award initial contracts for B1 production in November.

"Even if the next President cancels this program, we will waste over half a billion dollars before we can turn off the tap," Culver said.

The $32.5 billion weapons bill is $2 billion under Pentagon budget requests.

It includes $7.6 billion for Navy shipbuilding and conversion, authorizing a new Trident submarine, four nuclear attack submarines, and advance procurement items for a fourth Nimitz class nuclear powered aircraft carrier.

$250 million school aid bill defeated

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Republicans and dissident Democrats defeated a $250-million school finance bill late Friday and thwarted Democratic leaders' attempt to pass a $12.86-billion state budget.

The deadlock forced legislators to delay their scheduled five-week recess until at least Monday.

The school aid bill got a 52-0 Assembly vote but fell two votes short of the needed two-thirds majority in the 80-member house. All 25 Republicans and two Democrats, Ken Meade of Berkeley and Tom Bane of Van Nuys, did not vote for it.

Meade and the Republicans have refused to vote for the budget until a school finance bill is passed. Meade said Oakland schools, some of which are in his district, can't open next fall without more state aid.

The Senate earlier passed its own $262-million school aid bill and then adjourned as the Assembly lingered in a stalemate.

The Senate-passed bill met Assembly Republicans' demands for more money — $18 per pupil — in the schools' foundation program, which places few restrictions on spending.

The Assembly bill ties up more of the money in special aid programs such as bilingual education.

Teacher groups and school boards backed the Senate version of the bill, which would make more money available for salaries.

Republicans credited Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.'s new willingness to approve $250 million more for schools to their resistance on the budget.

Assemblyman Jerry Lewis, R-Highland, said his GOP colleagues should use their newfound power to "push the governor to the wall" and get a greater commitment of money.

Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy told reporters the delay "is not going to present a crisis" but could become inconvenient for school districts if it continues.

QUICK WORK HALTS BLAZE

About 25 acres of brush were burned Friday evening in Sycamore Canyon north of San Dimas. Los Angeles County firemen and the U.S. Forest Service were kept busy mopping up after the valley's first brushfire of the season. Here, fireman Paul Rippens hoses down a hot spot. The blaze barely missed a sheriff's detention camp in the canyon. Residents in homes below the canyon were worried about the fire, but firemen knocked it down in one hour, after it broke out at 4 p.m. About 150 firemen and three helicopters battled the blaze.

$5 million CCC measure for 1,200 jobs approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A $5-million California Conservation Corps to give 1,200 young people jobs, backed by Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., was sent to Brown's desk Friday.

Assemblyman Howard Berman, the Democratic floor leader, had to work several minutes gathering up needed votes before he won the needed two-thirds Assembly vote of 5422.

The Senate voted 28-1 to approve Assembly amendments a few hours later, sending the bill to the governor.

One supporter, Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello, said he had worked in the federal Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s, and considered it cheaper to put young people to work than to house them in detention centers.

But most of the debate was critical of the program.

Assemblyman Eugene Chappie, R-Roseville, termed the bill "great eyewash." Others said the idea was laudable but the bill wasn't well thought out.

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, said it was all very fine to get young people out enjoying "the wonders of nature."

But he termed the program "an expensive boondoggle" and said there were better ways to spend money to fight unemployment.

Under the bill, the California Youth Conservation Corps and the California Ecology Corps would be replaced by the newly created corps.

It would put unemployed persons under age 25 to work in fire prevention, erosion control, and urban park projects.

The bill's sponsor is Sen. Jerry Smith, D-Saratoga.

The bill is SB 1575.

Rules blacks can't be barred on race issue

Supreme Court acts to curb prejudice in private schools

A lawyer for an affluent private school in Virginia says it's "a restriction on the liberties of Americans," but the children of a black Miami bus driver saw it as one less lock on the door of a private school.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled 7 to 2 Friday that private schools cannot exclude blacks from enrolling because of their race. Religious schools were not included in the ruling.

"It means that private individuals operating private schools are not going to be able to select their pupils as they previously thought they were able to do," said Andrew Lipscombe, a lawyer for Fairfax-Brewster School in Bailey's Crossroads, one of the two Virginia schools named in the decision. The other was Bobbe's Private School in Arlington.

"Parents are not going to be able to have the association for their children that they wish, even in private situations — situations which in small, private schools are intimate," he added.

Many of the schools in the South sprang up following the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court integration decision and subsequent approval of civil rights laws. Others have been created recently in the North following school integration court orders.

For Valeria and Jacqueline Brown, ages 7 and 10, the decision brought them a little closer to a classroom in Dade Christian School in Miami.

But it was only a limited victory for bus driver Johnny Brown and his daughters because the court did not address itself to religious schools, and Dade Christian is sponsored by the New Testament Baptist Church.

"We had two blocks to get over and one of them has now been removed," said Brown's lawyer, Ellis Rubin.

Dade Christian maintains the Bible teaches that the races should live apart.

'Old Black Magic,' 'Blues in Night'

Johnny Mercer dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Johnny Mercer, the mellow-voiced blues singer who turned lyric writer with such hit songs as "Laura," "That Old Black Magic" and "Blues in the Night," died Friday. He was 66.

Mercer, who had undergone brain surgery Oct. 25 at Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena, died at his home in Bel Air, according to his business manager, James D. Freeman.

Cause of death was not immediately known.

After a career as a performer, Mercer became one of the music world's highest paid lyric writers. He was in demand for putting words to movie theme songs, especially after his haunting lyrics for the 1944 mystery, "Laura." He once remarked in a self-deprecating way:

"I tried to be a singer and failed. I tried to be an actor and failed. So I just naturally fell into lyric writing."

His efforts won him four Oscars: "The Atcheson, Topeka and the Santa Fe" in 1946; "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening," 1952; "Moon River," 1962; "Days of Wine and Roses," 1963.

Mercer was born in Savannah, Ga., and he never lost the soft drawl of his native country. He went north in 1929 to try his luck on the Broadway stage as an actor. Producers turned him down. In an effort to win a role in an edition of "Garrick's Gaieties," he wrote a song for the show, "Out of Breath and Scared to Death of You."

Flees with $522 and worthless food stamps

Pomona bank robbed by gunman

A gunman with a pockmarked face and long sideburns robbed a Pomona bank of $522 Friday, police said.

The robber walked into Lloyds Bank of California, 1095 N. Garey Ave. about 11:30 a.m. and handed a note to teller Linda Lou Friedman. The note said, "I have a gun."

Officers said the man had placed a brown leather briefcase on the counter and pulled open his jacket, exposing a handgun in his waistband. When the teller apparently moved slowly, he ordered her to "hurry up."

Mrs. Friedman handed him the $522 in $5 and $1 bills, police reported. The man also grabbed a canvas bank bag containing $1,000 in worthless cancelled food stamps from McCoy's Market.

He apparently left the bank on foot, investigators said. No car was seen leaving the location.

The robber was described as black, 25 to 30 years old, six-foot, 150 to 170 pounds, wearing a green watch cap, green shirt and plaid pants.

Detectives reportedly were checking as to whether the man was the same one who robbed the Home Savings and Loan Association on the Pomona Mall March 18.

Police seek landslide victims

TOKYO (AP) — Hundreds of police and rescuers dug through the mud looking for victims of landslides and floods in western Japan that killed at least 27 persons, officials said today.

The landslides, triggered by up to 33½ inches of rain in the past three days, left eight persons missing and 22 injured, officials said. Most of the damage was in the state of Kagoshima in southwestern Kyushu, the largest of Japan's four main islands.

No total damage estimate was available, but officials said damage to roads and other government property alone was more than $80 million.

Police said the rain touched off nearly 500 landslides, washed out 33 bridges and damaged or flooded more than 3,000 homes.

Japan National Railway said its tracks were damaged in 58 places in western Japan.

19,000 lose their jobs

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Nearly 19,000 airlines groundworkers were laid off Friday in the sixth day of a strike by Canada's commercial pilots in a dispute over allowing air controllers at some Quebec airports to speak French as well as English.

Tourist hotels also were discharging employes because of a severe slump in business.

$80,000 deficit noted

Budget of $15.7 million gets approval in Ontario

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

The Ontario City Council Friday adopted a $15.7 million budget for 1976-77 which shows an $80,000 deficit of appropriations over revenue.

City Manager Roger Hughbanks told council members that this, in itself, would not affect the present tax rate now set at $1.88 per $100 in assessed valuation.

Hughbanks said the future tax rate, including any increase, will hinge upon the employe salary negotiations now being conducted and the final assessments of city property which will not be known until August.

City Finance Director A. C. Gabriel, said he anticipated an 8.5 per cent increase in the assessments, but that his figure is just an estimate.

In last-minute revisions of the budget Friday noon, council members increased the allotment to the Ontario Chamber of Commerce by $7,500, making the total contribution $32,500.

The council also approved donations to one group of community organizations but denied the requests of six other organizations.

Approved in the budget were allocations to Mounted Police, $500; Mountettes, $200; Police Reserves, $500; West End Opera Association, $1,000; Valley Oratorio, $300; and West End Symphony, $1,000.

By a 2-2 vote, with Councilman Homer Briggs absent, the council turned down requests for funds from Alcoholics Rehabilitation, Reach Out West End, West End Boys Club, Suicide and Crisis Intervention Service, Inland Empire Human Development Corp. and West End Drug Abuse.

In denying the request, Councilwoman Faye Myers Dastrup said she didn't feel it was the function of the city to fund these agencies.

"While it's been done in the past, maybe this is the year to stop," she said.

"If the Boys Club gets money from the city, so should the Boy Scouts and the YMCA," added Councilman Beecher Medlin.

Councilman Robert K. Abel voted for the contributions and grumbled: "If we're going to deny these groups, then we shouldn't fund the opera or symphony, either."

Mayor Paul Treadway also supported the contributions and pointed out that the matter can be brought before the full council later.

Hughbanks expressed optimism about cities again obtaining general revenue funds since the measure has already passed the House of Representatives.

But he also warned the council that it needs to be concerned over reducing the city's reserves in view of increased salaries and other rising costs which might face the city in the future.

The paramedic program approved by the voters will increase the property tax rate by 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation on July 1.

Chino board picks CSEA as bargainer

By JON MORRIS
PB Staff Writer

The Chino school board has officially recognized the local chapter of California School Employes Association (CSEA) as the exclusive bargarining agent for non-teaching employes.

Board members had previously rejected CSEA chapter 102 as the classified employes' agent under the new state collective bargaining law.

Administrator had recommended calling for an election to offer employes a choice between CSEA and "no representation."

However, officials said if agreement could be reached on which employes to be included in the bargaining unit, an election would be unnecessary.

Agreement on the unit was reached, officials indicated.

No other classified employe unit except CSEA filed a request for recongition as bargaining agent.

In a related matter, CSEA has presented its initial salary proposal to the board which requests 13.5 per cent increase, or $100 across the board.

Full medical and dental coverage, paid income protection insurance, a floating holiday, vacation extensions and other fringe benefits are requested by the workers.

In other business, a parent attitude survey has showed a majority favoring the year-round school program by 70 per cent-plus margins. Those surveyed were parents of children who attended the program at the elementary and junior high levels in the past year.

Only 12 per cent at the elementary level and 16 per cent at the secondary level were displeased with the year-round plan.

The proposal to extend YRS to Chino High School met with a more negative response, however. Forty-four per cent of the elementary parents and just 36 per cent of the secondary parents favored the move. Twenty-nine per cent at the elementary and 44 per cent at secondary level opposed it.

Responses came from nearly 4,000 parents out of more than 10,000 who received questionnaires in April.

In yet another action, board President Al McCombs cast the deciding vote with only three members present, to designate the Chino Champion as the district's official publication for the 1976-77 school year.

McCombs is the publisher of the bi-weekly newspaper.

A majority of the board was needed to approve it and since only three members were there, McCombs decided the issue.

"By law I can vote for it," he said.

Assist. Supt. Al Searfoss, noted that the state conflict of interest law says if his vote is needed for action on the issue, he may vote.

Arraignment set July 8

Hit-run suspect released from jail; no bail posted

A young Chino man, charged with murder and felonious hit-run driving in the death April 21, 1975 of Simeon Lee, 45, has been released from custody without having to post bail.

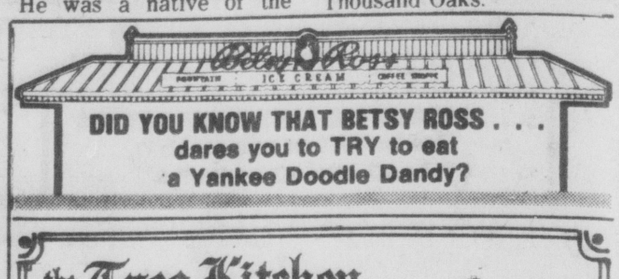

The action was taken by Pomona Municipal Court Judge Thomas F. Nuss Thursday when the defendant, Robert Charles Stone, 19, appeared with his attorney, Raymond Youngquist, before Nuss to request a reduction of the $15,000 bail set the day before by Judge James H. Piatt.

Piatt had ordered Stone jailed Wednesday after the young man surrendered himself to the court on a warrant issued by Nuss.

At the arriagnment Wednesday Stone's preliminary hearing was scheduled for July 8.

He is accused of running down Lee at night on the parking lot of Pep Boys at 336 E. Holt Ave. in Pomona. Lee had moved from Thousand Oaks to the city two days earlier in order to attend Cal Poly. He was a native of the Philippines.

Stone, of 12552 Ramona Ave., was charged in the death after police received information as the result of a $1,000 reward offered by relatives of Lee who live in Thousand Oaks.

Shooting of redtail hawk in S.D. angers naturalist

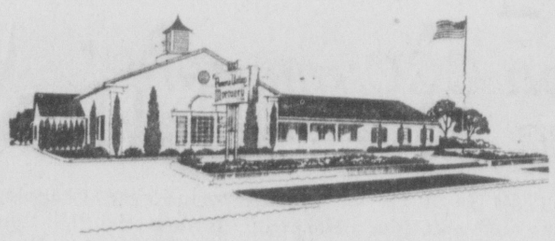

A naturalist at San Dimas Canyon Park voiced dismay about the shooting of a redtail hawk in the nature park last weekend.

"Nothing this cruel has ever happened here before," said Harold W. Jones, naturalist at the county-operated park. "Some one just opened fire on a helpless, caged bird."

According to Jones, the redtail hawk is a bird of prey that is considered an endangered species by naturalists and concervationists. It is protected by law and cannot be shot or kept in captivity. Only zoos and nature centers can be licensed to maintain such a bird in captivity.

The shooting occurred between 5:30 p.m. June 19 and 9 a.m. June 20. Sheriff's officers said the bird was wounded with what appeared to be an air gun just below the eye. The vandal also blew out five 200-watt light bulbs and punctured a clear glass pane door to a pine cove display.

Authorities are investigating the possible poisoning of show rabbits valued at $1,000 and belonging to a 15-year-old boy in Walnut.

The animals were found dead in their hutches at the rear of property owned by John Hamilton at 20136 Ferndoc Ave. There were two cases of sudden deaths among the animals and the Hamiltons suspect that they were poisoned.

Lawford marries

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Actor Peter Lawford got married Friday but someone forgot to bring the script.

In a ceremony that ranged from confusion to comedy, Lawford took as his third wife the former Deborah Gould of Miami. He is 52 and she is 25.

The seven-minute ceremony in the chambers of Arlington special judge Francis Thomas started on a confused note when Lawford forgot to bring the marriage license.

$3,100 to $62,000: hike in malpractice insurance at MSAC

The cost of malpractice insurance became an unexpected reality at Mt. San Antonio College this week leaving the board of trustees in shock.

James Simpson, vice president in charge of business services, told the board that last year the district paid $3,100 for "umbrella type" insurance that would protect four doctors who extend their practices to the college.

Simpson said each of the doctors spent about six hours a week at the college, treating those students who needed help. The college was paying them $27 an hour.

Simpson told the board Wednesday he has been informed that the malpractice insurance would go from $3,100 last year to $62,000 in 1976-77.

Board members sat stunned, unable to believe the 20-fold increase in the rates in one year.

Simpson said he was looking into the premiums and hoped to have a reduction in the rates.

Multimillion dollar subsidy

Pomona reoffered grant

A multi-million dollar federal grant program, once rejected by the Pomona City Council because it incorporates a subsidized housing program, is again being offered the city.

Congressman Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., announced today in Washington, D. C. that the Community Development Block Grant program, which would bring the city at least $877,000 per year for the next three years, is again being extended to the city.

This time the requirements of the subsidized housing program, Section 8 as it is known, are reduced, but the council will still have to accept the program in concept.

When the council rejected the grant earlier this year, however, the three members against it, Councilmen Charles Bader, Adrian Wright and Georgia Grove, seemed solidly against accepting even one subsidized housing unit in the city, let alone the 75 or 100 that would now be necessary.

There has been no indications any of the dissenting council members have altered their position.

What has changed since the council's action, according to Pomona City Administrator Jerrold Gonce, is that the city has convinced the federal government to allow two local senior citizens housing projects to be counted against the number of subsidized housing units required under Section 8.

One of the senior citizens complexes is Drake Manor in north Pomona, already built and occupied, and the other is the complex proposed by a non-profit affiliate of the Pomona Valley Council of Churches.

With those two projects now included, only about 75 or 100 new or rehabilitated residential units would be necessary to meet the federal guidelines, and receive the funds.

Gonce argues that most of the 75 or 100 families that would be aided under the program are already here in Pomona — meaning that the program would not be an enticement for poor families to move here.

That has been the main fear expressed by council members to date.

Ironically, even if the council continues to reject the program, Section 8 housing will exist in Pomona under the auspices of the county.

Gonce said that 16 such units already exist in the city.

Pomona is the only valley city to reject the program. Ontario, Chino, West Covina and other surrounding areas have already qualified for the grant program under the same conditions being required of Pomona.

Gonce said he would ask the council to again consider reversing its previous action at the first council meeting in July.

Not enough office space heads problem list at adult school

Inadequate office space tops a list of problems confronting the Claremont Adult School, according to the head of the school.

Charles W. Freitas suggests two alternatives for the coming year:

— That the school office be moved to an elementary or intermediate school site where a core of daytime classes could be provided. Freitas said that a small office or shared location at Claremont High should be retained to provide students and teachers of the night program there with needed services.

— That the Claremont Adult School office facilities remain at Claremont High but be located in an adequate office facility.

He told the school board that the district might consider buying or leasing a trailer or bungalow.

Freitas listed four main complaints about the program, but explained that they are only a few that evolved since the program was started in 1974.

He explained that all teaching supplies and materials are stored in the office, and that in the past two years need has increased for more space.

Freitas said that files have increased from two to 14 to handle records, that desks have increased from two to four, and that one additional typing station has been added for clerical work.

Freitas said that it is uncomfortable for prospective teachers or aides to be interviewed where telephones are ringing, people registering, and numerous other disturbances are occurring.

"The adult school interviews more applicants than any other school in this district because of the newness of the program, the scope of the curriculum, and the parttime status of the teaching staff, Freitas said.

He explained that a present or prospective student feels uneasy when he is explaining his educational background to a counselor if he feels others are listening.

Freitas said that no matter which alternative the board chooses, there is a definite need for daytime classes.

As a first-year program in 1974, the adult school began its operations in Room 400, a 21-by-15-foot room formerly used by the high school student council.

The council this year asked for the return of the room.

As the program has grown, a secretarial position was expanded to full time, and two parttime aides were hired.

The school's teaching staff numbers 50 to 80 parttime teachers and about five teacher aides.

Because of lack of space, the school has had few daytime classes, but each class has had maximum sign-ups, Freitas said.

Asked about the five percent growth cap placed on it by the state, Freitas said that the cap might come off this year.

Board member Mary Ellen Kilsby said she preferred that the adult school program be held at an elementary school instead of the district buying a portable.

Freitas said that 75 per cent of the students in the daytime classes are women, and that there is a great potential for more classes.

"We need a central location," he said. "The gain would be much more."

The Claremont school board in April voted unanimously to move the adult school, including offices, daytime classes and appropriate evening classes to Sycamore this fall.

When the recall of three school board members succeeded, the "new" board voted June 7 to rescind the old board's action and to leave the office facilities where they are.

The board did not take any action on Freitas' recommendations.

Procedures in disaster told

A booklet outlining recommended emergency procedures if a natural disaster interrupts natural gas, electricity or water service is available to valley residents at any office of the Southern California Gas Co.

The booklet is entitled "Your Utility Services — Do's and Don't's that should be followed in case of a disaster."

BELLES AT THE BELL

Five contestants in Miss La Verne Contest pause at city's Liberty Bell as they prepare for the contest July 3 that will determine who will represent the community during the next year. The girls are, from left, Teresa Beltran, Renee Marchese, Cherlyn Wanamaker, Teri Burton and Cheryl Burton. The queen will be chosen at a pageant at La Verne College.

La Verne plans fete

A communitywide celebration, complete with a queen contest, a parade, pancake breakfast and fireworks display, is scheduled for the July 4 weekend in La Verne.

Everything except admission to the queen pageant and the breakfast is free, according to Howard Blackburn, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce which is coordinating the Bicentenniel event.

Because the celebration falls on a Sunday, a religious tone will be injected into the celebration with a community church service scheduled at the Bonita High School football stadium during the morning.

The Bicentennial queen will be crowned at a pageant at the Dailey Theater in La Verne College at 7 p.m. July 3.

Tickets to the pageant cost $1 each and are available at the chamber office as well as from contestants.

Seven contestants are vying to represent the city during the Bicentennial year. They are Lori Weyers, Teresa Beltran, Cheryl Burton, Teri Burton, Renee Marchese, Christina Marquez and Cherlyn Wanamaker.

The pageant will be under the direction of La Verne Burns and Robin Espinoza.

The observances will pick up the next morning with an old fashioned pancake breakfast between 7 and 8:30 a.m. and again between 9:30 and 11 a.m. at the Bonita High School stadium.

A community church service will be held at the stadium between 8:30 and 9:30. The program is intended as a supplement to the usual Sunday services which will be held at the city's churches and will feature music by the Bonita High School band, and Bonita chamber singers.

In line with the Bicentennial theme, the program also will include a pageant on the religious heritage of La Verne, "Faith of Our Fathers — and Mothers." The pageant has been written especially for the event by Frank Ramirez, who has been involved in theater at La Verne College, and is based on a questionnaire sent to churches serving the community.

The traditional July 4 parade will start at 1 p.m. with groups forming at noon at the Bonita Stadium. Because of unusually heavy interest in participation, the route has been extended.

The parade will wind along downtown to Kuns Park where participants and spectators will be offered a free watermelon feed. Melons will be furnished by the La Verne Merchants and Businessmen's Committee and will be served by the parks and recreation department.

The feed will be followed by family games.

The Bicentennial celebration will end with free fireworks at the Bonita stadium starting at 8 p.m. under the direction of the La Verne Fire Department.

Faces lengthy sentence

A young Pomona man convicted a month ago of a variety of offenses including felonious assault, attempted armed robbery and burglary involving great bodily injury, faces a lengthy period in state prison.

He is Richard Miles, 22, who was sentenced to federal prison last January and who now has been sentenced to state prison by Pomona Superior Court Judge Sam Cianchetti.

A federal prison term of from two to six years was levied after Miles' conviction in U.S. District Court where he was charged with selling an illegal firearm to a government undercover agent. The state prison term was the result of his conviction last month in connection with a robbery attempt last November at the Top Hat Liquors, 565 Dudley St., where an employe was wounded.

The victim, Keith G. Olson, 22, of Claremont, was shot during a struggle with one of two men who tried to rob the place. The pair fled after the shooting, but one turned and fired into the store as they fled. Miles was arrested several days later.

In sentencing Miles, Cianchetti ruled that he may serve all of the state charges except one at the same time he is serving the federal prison term. But the exception, the offense of burglary involving bodily injury, is the most serious and calls for a 20-years-to-life term. That term must be served after the others have been satisfied, Cianchetti ruled.

Cub scout picnic in S.D.

Cub Scout Pack 417 in La Verne will hold a family picnic and fire ring Sunday in San Dimas Park, and a family camp-out and visit at Camp Pendleton July 17-18.

The pack is planning a family swim party and cookout at Las Flores Park in La Verne as an August activity.

At the last pack meeting, awards were presented to Darin Riggs, Gregory Reno, Dan Bennett, Steve Lossing, Glenn Buetler, Jason Burdick and Brent Morgan.

Morgan also was cited as top ticket salesman for Scout-O-Rama. He sold 100 $1 tickets to win a free week at Holcomb Valley Scout Camp.

Escapee captured

Garden Grove police have arrested a 29-year-old CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR MEN inmate who had walked away from the Chino prison June 14.

Richard Burton, serving a term for possession of narcotics and parole violation, was turned over to prison authorities in Garden Grove and returned to prison Wednesday.

Burton somehow walked out of the prison without being seen and hitchhiked to Garden Grove. When spotted by Garden Grove police he was sitting in a park. He offered no resistance to the arresting officers.

Picnic on July 11

The annual Worthington, Minn. picnic will be held Sunday, July 11, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Pearson Park in Anaheim.

S.D. chamber speaker takes the positive view at installation

A message from the guest speaker at the San Dimas Chamber of Commerce's installation banquet Thursday night: "Sing the song of America on the happy and positive side."

Stary Gange, a consultant with Southern California Gas Co., delivered a witty, impromptu address entitled "Energy That Makes America Grow," before the 100 persons attending at the San Dimas Canyon Golf Course.

Gange quipped that "Washington, D.C. is not a happy place. It is the only mental institution run entirely by its own inmates. Small towns will be the places for the re-building of the spiritual values of America."

As a high school boy, he asked a minister "Is this the only world we have?"

"He said yes. I asked if there was anyway to get out without dying. He said no, so make the best of it."

"So many people are so unhappy, dragging their way through life as though they're getting another crack at it. We have problems, yes. But lots of times it's challenging to walk into a group that is very unhappy and see if you can change the mood of the meeting," Gange advised.

Gange reported that he was 16 when the World War I Armistice was signed and 40 when World War II began, so he then asked "What do I do to pay the rent on the space I occupy in America? So I started volunteer work and speaking. I sing the song of America on the happy and positive side."

"The years ahead are going to be the best years for which all of us were made," he continued. "I'm not afraid of tomorrow. I've seen so much of yesterday. I once told some young boys in a correctional institution to give of your time, your energies and your talents. Make an advantage of a handicap. You can make a U-turn on a one-way street and become a success.

"There are so many positive things going on. Look for them. So many people read and believe the things on the front page of the metropolitan newspapers. Read the inside pages and worry on different levels.

"These are good years, our years and we're not coming this way again. Don't be afraid of tomorrow. It is a wonderful day and year we've been looking for. Get on your way to do things that must be done in this America of ours. A few people with courage can be the majority," he advised.

Judge Tom Nuss of the Pomona Municipal Court acted as installing officer for the 1976-77 officers and directors. The incoming chamber executives are Loren Wendt, president; John Perry, vice president; Jerry Jernigan, treasurer; and Lee Bell, Mike Cornett, Dick Gruszka, D.F. Hooper, Charles Krauskopf, Bill Masters, Butch Otting, Ursula Saulnier, George Twining, Bernice Walther, Sam Wesley and Dr. Doug Wyler, directors.

State GOP voters favor change in election system

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An overwhelming majority of California Republicans believe their party should change its winner-take-all primary election system, according to a poll released today.

By a margin of 63 to 25 per cent, Republicans favor a system where delegates would be allocated according to the size of the popular vote in a presidential primary, according to the nonpartisan California Poll.

Free clinic offers public check for mouth cancer

A free clinic to check for mouth cancer is being sponsored Wednesday and Thursday by the West End Branch of the American Cancer Society.

The check-ups are being cosponsored by the Loma Linda University Dental School, according to Dr. Gordon Rick, member of the education committee of the San Bernardino County American Cancer Society.

A mobile van from the university's dental school will be at the new ACS Treasure Chest, 219 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The public is invited to utilize the two-day opportunity to have a free mouth cancer check and to learn more about mouth cancer.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the ACS office Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 983-2784.

JOHNNY WONDER

Piranha (pronounced pih RAHN yuh) is a small, blood-thirsty fish found in the rivers of South America.

They are perhaps the most ferocious fish in the world and are justly famous for their razorlike teeth, strong jaws and nasty temper.

Piranhas often travel in schools of several hundred. Seldom growing over 15 inches long, these vicious little fish, attacking in great numbers in a kind of feeding frenzy, swiftly chew up any animal unfortunate enough to come into contact with them.

Thousands of piranhas can strip the flesh of an animal as large as a horse in just a few minutes, leaving only a bare skeleton.

On rare, unlucky occasions, people have suffered the same fate.

The piranha's teeth are so sharp and its jaws so powerful that it can chop a piece out of a man or an animal as neatly as the sharpest razor.

Their usual diet, however, consists of other fish — sometimes even other piranhas!

A pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

KARL ROBERTS

Scout moving up to Eagle

Karl Roberts, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Roberts Sr. of Claremont, will be elevated to the rank of Eagle Scout at a Court of Honor Monday at 7 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Pomona.

He is a member of Boy Scout Troop 102 and has served as troop scribe and patrol leader.

Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., will take part in the ceremony and present Roberts with an American flag which has been flown over the Capitol in Washington, D.C.

Roberts, a June graduate of Claremont High School, completed school with a 3.9 grade point average. He was a member of the Science Club, Volleyball Club and Key Club on campus.

He plans to continue his education at UC San Diego.

The Eagle Scout award is the highest award attainable in Scouting. Only two per cent of all scouts nationally attain this rank.

Damien debaters in top 8

A debating team from Damien High School in La Verne was rated among the top eight teams in the country at the National Forensic League's national speech championship tournament in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mark Beltramo, valedictorian of the 1976 graduating class, and Steve McNamara, who will be a senior at Damien next year, represented the Southern California District in the competition.

They qualified by winning the district tournament held at Loyola University in February. Nationals were held June 13-17 at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Eighty-eight teams competed for national honors. The only teams to beat Damien in the final round were from Pennsbury High School in Pennsylvania and West Valley High School in Des Moines, Iowa.

Damien's losses to the first and second place teams occured in the sixth and eighth rounds of the 10-round tournament.

This was Damien's best performance in national finals although Damien speakers consistently have been nationally ranked.

During the year Damien debaters won first place at UCLA, Stanford University and Southern California championships.

Beltramo and McNamara were quarter finalists at the California finals held in May at the University of San Francisco.

Another Damien team, Bob Mocharnuk and Paul Hudson, were 1975 state champions. Beltramo and McNamara traveled to Colorado with their speech coach, Mrs. Barbara Busse.

Pomona NAACP wins high honor

The Pomona Valley Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has won the Thalheimer Award for excellent achievement from the national headquarters of the civil rights organization in New York City.

Gloster B. Current, director of branches and field administration for the national office, recently announced the award to the local branch for continued efforts in the areas of fair housing, employment, education and administrative acountability of public officials and city employes. The Thalheimer Award is the highest recognition an individual branch of the NAACP can receive.

Gertha Speiginer, president of the Pomona Valley branch, voiced pleasure with the news of the recognition.

"The NAACP is here. Our movement may be slow and quiet. We are often accused of doing nothing, but we are here, working 24 hours a day to correct the situations of inequity and deal with the fear of change," Mrs. Speiginer said. "I am impatient with injustice. The NAACP is an instrument to weld positive change. There is still a long way to go before such an organization is not needed in America."

Assemblyman William McVittie, D-65th Dist., recently presented Mrs. Speiginer with a plaque of commendation from the state legislature.

In presenting the resolution from the state Assembly, McVittie applauded the NAACP president as "the one person who stands out in local leadership."

Mrs. Speiginer, first vice president of the Southern Area Conference, NAACP, also won the President's Award this year from the San Gabriel Valley Branch, NAACP. President Dorothy Davis presented the second such award in the chapter's history to Mrs. Speiginer for outstanding and dedicated service.

Dr. Barnard's technique

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Heart surgeon Christiaan Barnard says he removed half the original heart from the man in whom he implanted a second heart in 1974.

Barnard, a pioneer in heart transplants, said he operated Monday on Leonard Goss, and that Goss now has, in effect, 1½ hearts. He said the patient is doing well.

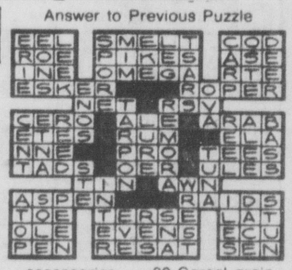

Barnard said Goss, 48, had developed a dangerous infection in the original heart.

Barnard said he faced strong opposition from his surgical team in Cape Town's Groote Schuur Hospital. He said the team charged him with indulging in "meddlesome surgery" but that he felt he had to carry out the operation to save Goss' life.

Sinatra to wed in Oct.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Kirk Douglas will host a wedding for singer Frank Sinatra, 60, and longtime companion Barbara Marx, who is about 44, in Douglas' Beverly Hills home Oct. 10, according to Sinatra's spokesman.

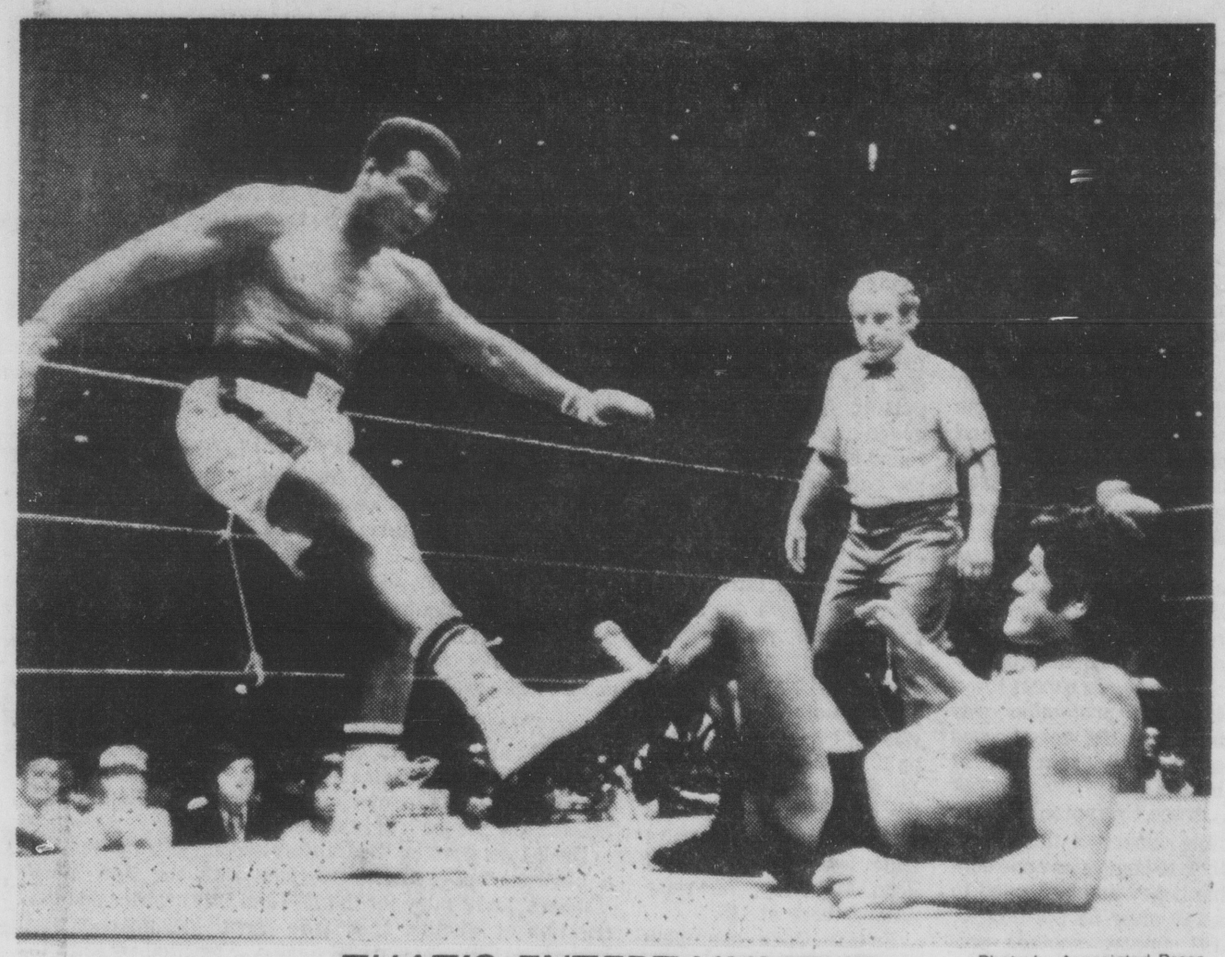

The spokesman, Lee Solters, said Tuesday that a reception is planned at the Hillcrest Country Club. Best man will be Freeman Gosden, the original Amos of the "Amos and Andy" radio show, with Mrs. Sidney Korshak, wife of a prominent attorney, serving as matron of honor, said Solters.

Mrs. Marx is the former wife of Zeppo Marx.

Halicki blanks L.A.

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — Manny Mota is still looking for his 100th pinch hit and Dusty Baker is hungry for a RBI.

Ed Halicki, the San Francisco Giants' 6-foot-7 righthander, is making the highlight of his career blanking the Dodgers and he did it again Friday night by striking out Mota with the bases full in the ninth inning to record an 1-0 victory.

Just three weeks ago, Halicki (6-10) hurled a two-out shutout over the Dodgers. L.A. has been blanked just three times this season at home and Halicki has two of them.

Mota, who hasn't had a successful pinchhit since May 23, swung and missed on Halicki's 1-2 pitch which the hurler described as a low slider.

"It was a slider down in the dirt," Halicki said. "It got him on a tough pitch."

Mota was batting for Baker, the advertised power hitter acquired from the Atlanta Braves during the winter. Baker has driven in only three runs in June and hasn't had a RBI in 10 games.

When Manager Walt Alston called for Mota to hit for Baker, Halicki was disappointed.

"I knew I could get Baker out," he said on the Dodgers' post-game radio show, "but I knew Mota would be tough because of his reputation."

The Giants elected to give Bill Russell an intentional walk to get to Baker, who has been dropped to the seventh spot in lineup because of his ineffective hitting.

"Russell hits me well," Halicki explained.

Baker said it was only the second time he has come out for a pinch-hitter in his major league career and Henry Aaron hit for him the first time.

"I guess you can't have two better hitters than Aaron and Mota hit for you," Baker said. "I'm disappointed I haven't hit the ball well."

Alston explained why he went to Mota. "I'm more interested winning the game than hurting somebody's feelings."

The Dodgers wasted an outstanding pitching performance from Burt Hooton (5-8), who didn't allow a hit until Bobby Murcer singled to left with two outs in the seventh inning.

San Francisco finally broke up the scoreless battle in the ninth when Chris Speier hit a two-out bloop single to center to score Derrel Thomas, who opened the inning with a single and went to second on a sacrifice bunt.

Ted Sizemore opened the bottom of the ninth with a single to left and advanced to second on Steve Garvey's ground out. Reggie Smith followed with a dribbler which went through the Giants' infield for a hit as pinch-runner Davey Lopes took third and Smith ended up at second.

Ed Goodson came close to winning it for L.A. but his hard drive down the right field line went foul and Halicki then struck him out. Russell then drew the walk and Mota fanned.

Halicki allowed only seven singles and the one intentional walk while striking out 10.

Asked to explain his success against the Dodgers, Halicki said, "I like this mound, stadium and crowd. I also became a Dodger hater in 1963 when they swept the World Series from the Yankees. I was 13 then and the Yanks were my team. I guess I am just carrying out my frustrations."

Now the Dodgers are frustrated.

DODGER DATA — Doug Rau (6-4) is slated to face John Montefusco (7-7) in this evening's 7 p.m. contest while Don Sutton (6-7) is the probable in Sunday's 1 p.m. game against John De'Acquisto.

Looking ahead a bit, San Diego's Randy Jones will probably pitch against the Dodgers here on Sunday, July 4.

Alston will miss tonight's game to be the best man for his grandson, Robin Ogle, at his wedding in Albuquerque, N.M.

Fans wll be permitted on the field from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Sunday for Camera Day.

Friday's loss was only the Dodgers second one-run defeat at home in 13 decisions.

Great fielding by Bill Buckner, Sizemore and Russell helped Hooton, who ended up pitching a four-hitter.

Ali 'bout' strictly dullsville

TOKYO (AP) — A "Martial Arts Championship" between standing boxer Muhammad Ali's gloves and lie-down wrestler Antonio Inoki's feet ended Saturday in a draw with neither hurt, both declaring themselves satisfied and a handful of spectators shouting for their money back.

Ali, the world heavyweight boxing champion, managed to land only two punches as he spent the match dodging Inoki's leg sweeps and kicks.

Inoki kicked him down a couple of times and once ended up sitting on him briefly.

How did the champ feel being down, with a wrestler on top of him?

"I was just letting time go by while I collected my $6 million," he said.

"Inoki is the best in his type of fighting, I'm the best in mine, and this shows that when two great stars fight each other, they don't get hurt," Ali added.

Asked how he could salvage a draw when he landed only two punches, Ali said he felt he was on the offensive and that counted for a lot.

He said he was not hurt except for his legs being bruised by Inoki's kicking.

Inoki said he felt he was hampered by the rules for this strange encounter, but added, "I have no regrets about the draw match."

At the final gong, a few bits of garbage were thrown into the ring. As the decision there were a few shouts from the $17 seats—cheapest in the house— from customers demanding money back.

But generally there was no outburst of protest against the verdict from the approximately 14,000 spectators in 16,000-seat Budokan—Martial Arts Hall— where a select group of Inoki's backers paid up to $1,000 for a ringside seat.

American referee Gene LeBell scored it 71-71, Japanese boxing judge Ko Toyama had Inoki winning 72-68 and judge Kokichi Endo, a Japanese wrestling specialist, gave the fight to Ali 74-72.

Ali weighed 218¼ pounds for the match and Inoki weighed 221½. Ali received $6 million and Inoki, president of his own wrestling association here, could earn as much as $4 million.

Despite massive pre-match publicity and countless threats of violence by both contestants, it was a tedious confrontation, with neither combatant making very much contact. Each was afraid to approach the territory which the other man had staked out for himself—Inoki dominating the center of the ring, Ali dancing along the ropes.

Inoki, challenging Ali's assertion that he could beat anybody any time, set the tone for this match at the opening bell when he rushed from his corner with a flying leap, landed on his backside and tried to snare Ali with his legs.

He kept this up throughout the 15 rounds and managed to bruise Ali's legs with his continuous kicking.

Ali circled around the ring, taunting the big Japanese wrestler and sticking his tongue out at him. But he stayed out of range of Inoki's long legs and did not throw a single punch until the seventh round. He grazed Inoki's ear with a jab in the 10th round, but did not land anything approaching a solid blow until late in the 13th, when an Ali left shook Inoki's head.

He landed one more sudden left to Inoki's head in the 14th round, but the wrestler was unfazed by the blow.

In the last round, the referee felt compelled to shout "Go, go, go," to the two fighters, and at the end fans at the Budokan Martial Arts Hall showered the ring with garbage—waste paper and orange peels.

The first real action of the bizarre boxer-wrestler confrontation came in the fifth round when one of Inoki's dozens of leg sweeps knocked Ali down briefly.

In the sixth, Ali tried to counter Inoki's tactics of lying on his back and swinging with his feet by grabbing the wrestler's legs. Inoki, who had spent most of the match on his back looking like an overturned beetle, quickly bounced up and sat on top of the surprised Ali. But with Ali under the ropes, the referee had to stop the action.

Ali also went down briefly after a couple of other Inoki kicks, but each time was back on his feet immediately.

Dr. Freddie Pacheco, Ali's personal physician, said Ali had suffered scrapes to the left shin bone and severe hematoma to his calf and thigh, but the doctor said Ali would be able to resume training in two weeks.

Ali's next scheduled defense of his heavyweight boxing crown is Sept. 28 at Yankee Stadium in New York, when he is slated to meet Ken Norton.

One brief variation to the pattern of Inoki lying on his back and kicking and Ali dancing along the ropes came in the 10th round when Ali stood in a corner waiting for Inoki. The wrestler grabbed Ali around the waist, but the referee broke it up because the two were in the ropes with Inoki's head butting against Ali's chest.

The rules, such as they were, of this encounter banned butting.

A more serious bout of grappling came in the 13th. Inoki had his arms around Ali's waist while Ali made funny faces and the referee struggled to move the two away from the ropes.

Inoki gave Ali a knee in the groin as the referee broke the clinch, and Inoki was penalized one point.

The referee examined Ali in his corner and the boxer made a move to leave the ring, but then returned immediately to the fight and landed his first punch of the day.

Nearly 14,000 fans were on hand at the Budokan and they seemed to accept the draw without much protest.

A's players vow to strike

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's voted Friday night to go on strike Sunday if owner Charles O. Finley did not use pitchers Vida Blue and Rollie Fingers and outfielder Joe Rudi by that time.

Player representative Jim Todd told reporters that the A's had held two meetings before their game with the Minnesota Twins and "decided to go on strike because Finley would not let them play."

Added Todd, "It is not in the best interest of the players the way it stands now."

Todd emphasized that there were no negative votes in the strike vote, although some players did abstain from voting.

Finley, contacted in Chicago and told of the players' decision to strike by Sunday, was quoted by Todd as saying: "If they go on strike. I'll call up 25 players from the minor leagues to play for me. I'll suspend any striking players the rest of the year."

Blue, Fingers and Rudi, three all-star players, have been a cause celebre since Finley attempted to sell them for $3.5 million on June 15. After the A's owner sold Blue to the Yankees for $1.5 million and Fingers and Rudi the Boston Red Sox for $2 million, the sale was negated by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for "not being in the best interests of baseball."

Kuhn not only used his power of office to stop the sales, he also ordered Finley to use the three superstars "in a normal manner."

However, Finley, obviously afraid of possible injury and loss of value to the trio, has steadfastly refused to use the players. He filed a $10 million law suit in Chicago Friday, hoping to overturn Kuhn's ruling.

Todd's official statement to the press:

"We have given Mr. Finley an ultimatum that if these three gentlemen are not in their former capacities, the way they were used formerly by Sunday, that we were going on strike and would not play.

"...Mr. Finley has told me that if we do this, he will bring up 25 players from the minor leagues and if he can do it, he will suspend us from baseball for the rest of the summer."

Royals snap losing streak vs. Angels

KANSAS CITY (AP) — John Mayberry erupted from a slump and drove in five runs with a pair of towering homers to power Kansas City past the California Angels 6-3 Friday night and end the Royals' six-game losing streak.

First baseman Mayberry, 1-for-19 when the game began, also made a spectacular play in the seventh inning, a diving, tumbling, shoestring catch of a pop fly bunt that killed a potenial Angel rally.

Jim Wohlford rapped out three hits, stole two bases and scored twice for the Royals.

Mayberry put loser Gary Ross, 5-9, in a 3-0 hole in the third inning with his first home run, scoring Wohlford and George Brett ahead of him.

The Angels fought back to within a run on Bobby Bonds' run-scoring triple in the fifth inning and a sacrifice fly by Dan Briggs in the sixth.

After Brett singled Wohlford home in the seventh, Mayberry again cracked a shot over the right field fence to make it 6-2.

Paul Splittorff, 7-6, was the victor. The Angels collected their third run in the eighth inning on pinch hitter Bill Melton's RBI single.

In notching his fifth consecutive triumph, Splittorff breeezed through the first two innings and then worked out of deep trouble in the third.

Three straight singles loaded the bases loaded with none out. Bonds, California's top slugger, lashed a hot grounder to Brett at third base, who threw home to force Andy Etchebarren. With the bases still loaded, Splittorff struck out Tommy Davis and got Ron Jackson on a long fly.

Mark Littell replaced Splittorff at the start of the seventh inning. The Royals said the left-hander injured the thumb on his pitching hand after being nicked by Jery Remy's grounder in the fifth inning. Splittorff was taken for precautionary X rays after the thumb began to swell.

Women to nix Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chris Evert announced Friday that the world's top women tennis stars will not compete at Wimbledon next year because the All-England Club will not give them the same prize money as the men.

The quarrel came to a head on another day of sizzling heat at the championships. the men dominated the action on the courts, but the women made the news behind the scenes.

Miss Evert, president of the Women's Tennis Association, had a face-to-face meeting with Air Vice Marshal Sir Brian Burnett, chairman of the All-England Club. She said unless the women got equal prize money, they will boycott Wimbledon in 1977 and accept an offer of another tournament in the United States.

Burnett told her her demands will not be met. He said bluntly the women spend about half as much time on court as the men, and their general standard of play cannot be compared.

"That means WTA members will not be here next year," said Jerry Diamond, executive director of the WTA.

Fred Newhouse comes back

EUGENE, ORE. (AP) — Fred Newhouse came back from the frustration of four years ago by making the U.S. Olympic track and field team in the 400-meter dash, while Maxie Parks and Herman Frazier lived up to their predictions Friday at the U.S. Olympic Trails.

The 27-year-old Newhouse recorded the world's third fastest 400 time in a semifinal heat at the same University of Oregon track in 1972, but in the final failed to make the team when he was passed in the stretch.

Friday, Parks was out fastest and led all the way in winning his second consecutive major meet following his stunning 44.82 time in the AAU championships two weeks ago. But Newhouse, an oil engineer in Baton Rouge, La., wheeled down the stretch to run second as the veteran Frazier leaned ahead of a group bunched at the finish to nab third.

Parks, formerly of UCLA, was clocked in 45.58 with Newhouse at 45.76 and Frazier at 45.84.

The time was far off the 44.1 recorded by the now-retired Wayne Collett in winning the 1972 trials, but this was a tension-packed race with no clear favorites.

Both Parks and Frazier have been erratic this year, but at the AAU Championships two weeks ago Parks said he was going to confound the experts and make the U.S. team, a statement Frazier had made a month earlier.

Marty Liquori failed to make the team in perhaps his last bid when he withdrew during the second heat of the 5,000 meter trials. The 26-year-old former Villanova runner pulled up early in the race when he aggravated a hamstring injury to his left leg.

Just seconds earlier, in fact just as the 400 was finishing, Larry Myricks of Mississippi soared 27 feet, 11-4 inches to take the lead in the long jump after Arnie Robinson had done 27-03-4. But Robinson came back on his next jump with a wind-aided 27-5½ jump to regain the lead in the event in which he is expected to win another medal in the Montreal Olympics.

Robinson, of San Diego, finished third for a bronze medal in the 1972 Games at Munich.

Placing third in the competition was Randy Williams, the defending Olympic champion, with a leap of 26-10. The 22-year-old Williams had been jumping poorly until six weeks ago, when he began looking like the same 18-year-old who did 27 feet in Munich.

The women's 400 team going to Montreal will be made up of Debra Sapenter, Sheila Ingram and Rosalyn Bryant, who was out fast in the final but faded in the home stretch.

Miss Ingram, of New York, won the near-blanket finish in 52.69.

Jeff Bennett, who nearly won a medal in the 1972 decathlon was forced to withdraw from the event, failing to make the team when he suffered another injury.

Jenner, however, fell behind and Los Angeles commercial artist Fred Dixon grabbed the first-day lead with 4,337 points. Bill Hancock of Chicago tied the American record for a decathlon high jump by clearing 7-1½ and moved into second after the first day with 4,248 points.

Jenner had 4,196 as all three men appeared to have a chance at breaking Jenner's world record 8,524 set here last year.

Favorites Rick Wohlhuter in the 1,500 and Dick Buerkle in the 5,000 easily advanced to finals of their events, both scheduled for Sunday's final session.

Chargers open camp on July 5

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers will hold their 1976 summer training camp at the University of California, San Diego.

The club said recently that rookies would report to the La Jolla campus on July 5, with veterans coming in the next week.

Feisty Finley files damage suit of his own

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Charles O. Finley of the Oakland A's filed a $10 million damage suit against baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn Friday, asking for a temporary restraining order to block Kuhn's edict which cancelled the biggest series of player sales in baseball history.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, charges Kuhn with violating antitrust laws, conspiring to deprive Finley of his rightful money from the sale of his players and several civil rights violations, said Finley's attorney, Neil Papiano of Los Angeles.

Also named as defendants were the American League, the National League, the Major League Executive Council, the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees. Thus far, the Commissioner's office, the American League office and the Yankees had no comment on the suit.

The suit stems from Kuhn's cancellation of the sale by Finley of Vida Blue to the Yankees for $1.5 million and of Joe Rudi and Rollie Fingers to the Red Sox for $1 million each.

Those sales came just prior to the baseball trading deadline of midnight, June 15 and Kuhn ruled last Friday that they were not in the "best interests of baseball." He then ordered that the three players be restored to the Oakland roster.

Finley, however, has refused to play the trio, despite Kuhn's teletype Thursday night directing Finley to "remove any restraint against the use of these players in Oakland games."

Meanwhile, Finley sent a telegram to Kuhn seeking clarification of Kuhn's teletype. Kuhn then sent a telegram to Finley Friday, warning that there would be "grave penalties" if the club does not use the three players "in a normal way.

"That is, decisions whether or to what extent these players actually participate in games should be based on precisely the same considerations that apply to other players on the A's roster and that governed these three players prior to June 15," Kuhn's telegram said.

The telegran was sent to both Finley in Chicago and A's Manager Chuck Tanner with the club in Oakland. The commissioner's message held both the owner and manager responsible for using the players.

After filing the suit, Finley said that none of the three players would start or play for the A's until legal aspects of the suit were cleared up.

Despite Kuhn's second telegram, Finley showed no sign of wavering.

"I will not play them," he reiterated Friday night. "I'm not concerned about the grave consequences. Tell him (Kuhn) to fire his guns."

Finley also said he was wiring the Yankees and Red Sox in an effort to get the players' status clarified.

"I request a specific reply to the following question," Finley's telegram to the teams read. "If the players appear in Oakland A's games between this date and Aug. 2, 1976 (when Finley's suit against Kuhn is to be heard in court), will the club accept ... (them) without recourse or offsetting claim against Oakland in the condition and with the records they have at the time any favorable decision is entered in our behalf?"

Finley said he would only play the trio is he receives positive replied from the Yankees and Red Sox.

"We'd be tickled to death to play them, but we have to protect ourselves against any lawsuits," he said. "They can sue us for playing their property. Bowie Kuhn, being an attorney himself, should know better than to send us telegrams like he's been sending."

Finley' suit asks the court to order the Yankees to pay Finley the $1.5 million and for the Red Sox to pay the $2 million, as was stipulated in the cash transaction for the three players.

According to the transcript, Finley told Kuhn at the meeting that he was having difficulty making a profit in Oakland and denied that he sold the three players in order to leave baseball.

"Am I trying to get out of baseball?" Finley asked rhetorically. "Am I trying to milk the goddam game dry to get out and make money? No! I am trying to keep it going."

Best is on hot streak

TORRANCE — George Best will seek to continue the torrid scoring streak that has brought him to the NASL point leadership when the Los Angeles Aztecs go after their 12th consecutive home victory at El Camino College against the Minnesota Kicks at 7:30 tonight.

Best, candidate for league MVP, recorded four goals and one assist in the two weekend games, moving him to the top of the NASL scoring race after 10 weeks of league play.

The Aztecs placed two players on the NASL Team of the Weeks as Bernie Fagan gained the honors for the second straight week, and Best for the second time this season.

The overtime penalty kick by Best that defeated Tampa 2-1 was his sixth game-winning goal this year, all of which have been at El Camino, and it was his brilliant unassisted goal that sent the game into the extra period.

Seals heading for Cleveland

NEW YORK (AP) — National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell all but eliminated doubt as to the destination of the California Seals Friday, saying "I'm as certain as I'm sitting in this chair" the franchise will relocate in Cleveland.

Campbell, speaking by telephone from his Montreal office, said there still are obstacles to be cleared in order for the transaction to take place. For example, the NHL Board of Governors will have to be convinced at its meeting in Chicago next Wednesday that the Cleveland territory has been vacated completely by the World Hockey Association's Crusaders, who said Tuesday they're moving to Hollywood, Fla.

It was of the utmost importance that the NHL wait until such action had taken place, for "we (the NHL) don't want to give any credence to the possibility that we had contributed to their leaving."

But the WHA Board of Trustees is expected to approve the Crusaders' move to Florida at their meetings in Toronto next Tuesday and Wednesday.

NHL permission for the Seals to relocate is expected to follow, with the Board approving a proposal by current team owner Mel Swig to move his franchise under the option granted him when he purchased the club last July.

Campbell revealed the NHL had agreed that, should Swig keep his club in its current Oakland home, "we (the NHL) would not move any club or grant a new franchise until May 1, 1978. The reason for this was to give Mr. Swig a market.

Montclair business salutes Olympics

Citizens Savings and Loan in Montclair, 5102 Montclair Plaza Mall, will be saluting the Olympic Games of past and present Monday through July 10.

Along with Olympic displays that include posters and other memorabilia, will be an appearance by former Olympic participant D.R. DeChaine, Jr. who represented the USA in Fencing on the 1968 Olympic Team. Mr. DeChaine will autograph copies of, "The Guinness Book of Olympic Records", to be given away free by Citizens during the 13-day salute. Mr. DeChaine will be at the Montclair Branch, Saturday, July 3, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

Citizens is the only major California institution that will make their services and branches available to help raise funds for the U.S. Olympic Team. A tax-deductible contribution will entitle a donor to one of 13 Olympic souvenir gifts.

Valley churches

REV. HILDA S. SPRAGIN

Church of Religious Science

The Rev. Hilda S. Spragin, minister of the Hazel Holmes Church of Religious Sceince at Hollywood, will be guest speaker at the First Church of Religious Science, Claremont at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services.

Mrs. Spragin will speak on "The Gift of Happy Chance."

Her first assignment was assisting the Antelope Valley Church of Religious Science.

Children's church and child care are provided at the 11 a.m. service. The Luminites, high school yough, meet at 12:30 p.m.

Valley Community Drive-in

The Valley Community Drive-In Church of San Dimas is now conducting its Sunday Evening Under the Stars programs of family-oriented, Christian films.

The full-length film "Survival" will be shown Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the drive-in area only.

The Rev. Melvin De Vries, pastor, will speak on the subject "Here's Life America" at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday services.

The Continental Orchestra and guest singers Spirit of Love will present a concert of contemporary Christian music at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the church. The two-hour performance will have the theme "A Celebration of Musical Praise" and feature anthems, hymns, spirituals and contemporary gospel music arranged for the group.

Admission is free. An offering will be received during the program.

Claremont Manor Forum

Robert A. Stafford, Claremont attorney, will speak on "Southern California Indians: Their Life and Ways" at the Claremont Manor Forum Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

Stafford is the founding director of California Indian Legal Services and for many years has worked with the Indians in this area.

United Church of Christ

The Rev. Carl A. Hansen, former conference minister of the Minnesota United Church of Christ, will preach on "Tempted As Are We" at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational.

The Summer Choir will sing "Send Out Thy Light," by Gounod, and Winifred Norton will play a flute solo, "Idylle," by Godard.

An elementary class will meet in the League of Youth Room at 10 a.m. Sundays to study "Having Fun with Our Heritage."

Christ Lutheran Church

Christ Lutheran Church in Chino is collecting clothing for the Navajo Lutheran Mission in Arizona and for the Lutheran World Relief.

Persons wishing to help in this endeavor may bring items to the church all day Sunday.

The Rev. A. L. Plueger, pastor, will conclude a sermon series on "How To Do Everybody a Favor" at 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. services Sunday.

Bible classes will meet at 9:30 a.m.

Covenant United Methodist

The Rev. Donald W. Coughenour has been reassigned for another year to the Covenant United Methodist Church, Pomona. He will speak on "Your Order, Please," at the 11 a.m. service Sunday and on "The Word Is a Lamp" at the 7 p.m. service.

The pastor and his wife will be welcomed at an ice cream social at 6 p.m.

Bethel Baptist Church

Worship services in Spanish will be held at the Bethel Baptist Church, Pomona, at 7 p.m. Tuesday. The Rev. Oscar Vega will lead.

At the 11 a.m. service Sunday, the Rev. Robert Stewart will speak on "Vision for Mission." Dennis Henderson will be guest soloist.

Valley Community Drive-in

The Christian film "A Thief in the Night" will be shown at 8:15 p.m. Sunday at the Valley Community Drive-in Church of San Dimas.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited. A voluntary offering will be received.

The Rev. Melvin De Vries will speak on the topic "Like Father, Like Son" at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday. Special recognition will be given to the oldest father in attendance that day.

Vacation Bible school begins Monday at the church and continues through July 1 from 9 a.m. to noon weekdays. The school is for children from 3½ to seventh grade age.

The general theme will be "Stand Up and Cheer — Jesus Sets Us Free." The program will include Bible study, handicrafts, play and music.

Registration may be made in advance or on the first day of school. A small fee is requested to offset the cost of materials.

A closing program will be held at 7 p.m. July 1, beginning with a potluck dinner. The program will also include singing, skits and a sharing of things done during the Bible school.

Parents may also enroll their children, 6 through 12, in the Christian Day Camp on the grounds of the church Monday, and continuing through Sept. 10. Hours of the camp are 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Fern Reese will direct the school and supervise such activities as Bible instruction and craft lessons, baseball, gymnastics, hiking, table tennis and assorted games. Swimming instruction and piano lessons will also be available.

United Church of Christ

Claremont United Church of Christ Congregational will sponsor a vacation church school next Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. for elementary youth.

Mrs. Doris Houser will direct the "The Bible Alive" program.

On the last day, a picnic and a trip to the Holy Land Exhibit in Los Angeles is planned.

Special music will be provided Sunday at the 10 a.m. service by the choir of the Sierra Arden United Church of Christ of Sacramento and the local church's summer choir.

New members will be received.

Greater New Light Baptist

The combined choirs of the Greater New Light Baptist Church, Pomona, will present their monthly musical at the church at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Under the direction of Mrs. Louise Shropshire, minister of music, they will sing a variety of gospel songs. Mrs. Helen Plummer, pianist, will accompany them. The public is invited.

Faith Lutheran Church

Faith Lutheran Church of San Dimas will close its week of vacation Bible school on Sunday with a program at 7 p.m. in the church auditorium.

The public is invited to the program and to an ice cream social on the church lawn beginning at 5 p.m.

After the closing program for the school, students will set up tents at the church for an overnight campout.

Summer worship services are held at 8 and 10 a.m. each Sunday.

Towne Avenue Nazarene

A competition for building a bigger and better Sunday school through friendliness will be explained at the 9:45 a.m. service Sunday at Towne Avenue Church of the Nazarene in Pomona by Supt. Gary Barlow.

The Rev. Clyde W. Rather, pastor, will speak at 10:45 a.m. service on the subject "A Governor Trembles." His 7 p.m. topic is "The Danger of Sin."

Al Dunn and Dave Freeman will conduct youth meetings at 6 p.m.

Pastor gets doctorate

The Rev. Ernest W. Morrison, pastor of the Chino Free Methodist Church, recently received his doctorate of philosophy degree from the California Graduate School of Theology in Glendale.

Mr. Morrison has pastored in the Free Methodist Church for 25 years and formerly was pastor of the Pomona church. He has been in Chino for six years.

His doctoral thesis was entitled "A Vessel unto Hour" and was based on the part nutrition plays in the mental and spiritual health of ministers and church laymen.

Sholom to honor settlers

Temple Sholom in Ontario will hold a Bicentennial Sabbath service at 8 p.m. Friday to pay tribute to the first group of Jewish settlers in America.

Parts of the Sabbath service will be chanted in the Sephardic tradition since the early settlers were of Spanish origin.

Rabbi Yisroel Klein will speak on the "Unique Tradition of Sephardim." Sephardim are Jews who settled in Spain and Portugal during the middle ages.

Catholic theologian sees in years ahead anti-Semitism's end

NEW YORK (AP) — A leading Roman Catholic theologian foresees the disappearance of Christian anti-Semitism in the years ahead, Vatican recognition of Israel and a Jewish "new view" of Jesus as a great prophet.

The Rev. Edward H. Flannery, for 10 years head of the U.S. bishops' secretariat for Catholic-Jewish relations, also predicts peace in the Middle East and eventual Arab appreciation of Israel as valuable to the whole region.

"Israel will finally be seen by its neighbors for what it is — a great democracy and model for socio-economic construction which can contribute powerfully to prosperity and quality of life in the entire Middle East," says he.

Father Flannery, of Washington, leaves his post this fall as American Catholicism's chief adviser on Judaism to return to his home diocese of Providence, R.I., where he will direct continuing education of priests.

He says religious or theological kinds of anti-Semitism will be the "first to disappear," but that secular forms of this "most durable of all hatreds" still will linger.

This means a major "historical reversal," he says, since Christian churches originally fired anti-Semitism, but are among the "first to repudiate it.

"The day is almost at hand when the Christian pulpit and classroom, the chief sources of anti-Semitism, will be the front line of the struggle against it," he writes in the interreligious quarterly, "Face to Face."

It is published by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, which works to combat anti-Jewish prejudice. In the current issue, several Catholic, Protestant and Jewish scholars contribute views on the future of Jewish-Christian relations.

The Rev. Dr. Krister Stendahl, dean of Harvard Divinity School, says Christians will "become increasingly aware of the apostle Paul's vision of a coexistence of Judaism and Christianity," both as kindred, saving faiths.

Rabbi Dr. Seymour Siegel of New York's Jewish Theological Seminary of America, says the two, once-clashing religions are beginning to be "the basis for love and mutual concern" and they can "stand together in combatting the forces of dehumanization and tyranny."

Father Flannery says secular anti-Semitism, its main form today and the kind mainfested in Soviet Russia, the Middle East, some Fascist parties and "liberal ideologies," will live on "in less virulent forms."

Its "unconscious character" makes it "an ailment peculiarly difficult to treat," he says. However, he says the "rabid anti-Zionism now affecting the United Nations and the international community" will come to be seen as "temporary insanity sustained by an oil politic that will lose its influence on world affairs as new sources of energy are successfully exploited."

With the coming "increase of empathy" between Christians and Jews, he foresees development of a "two-covenant theology," which recognizes Judaism as valid for Jews, but Jesus as essential to extend the faith to others.

He says that Christianity and Judaism undoubtedly will find their new relationship "cross-fertilizing and complementary," and he adds:

"Jesus will be reclaimed in Judaism as one of Israel's great prophets. The new view of Jesus will stem from ... the work of Jewish scholars addressing themselves to the subject of Jesus and the new view Jews will have taken of Christians and Christianity.

"As the horrendous memories of millenial persecution by Chrisitans recedes into the past, studies of the real Jesus and His teachings will be underaken on a larger scale and a consequent admiration of Him will emerge."

The rise of "mutual esteem" between Judaism and Christianity, he says, will enable them to "stand shoulder to shoulder to confront the problems of humanity as a whole, a humanity ever on the brink of self-destruction and return to barbarism."

Jews heartened by attitude of Catholic Church

NEW YORK (AP) — Through the Synagogue Council of America, the three U.S. wings of Judaism have made their first official repsonse to recent Roman Catholic statements on relations with Jews — and call the new attitude heartening.

Taking note of the recent Vatican guidelines and the U.S. bishops' pastoral message on the matter, the council hailed church acknowledgment that an "anti-Judaic theology" had been at the heart of past hostilites toward the Jews, adding:

"In dealing with the old notion that the Jews were guilty of deicide, the pastoral letter makes a point of observing that the 'Jewish people never were, nor are they now, guilty of the death of Christ.'"

The council also commended the bishops for urging Christian understanding of the Jewish link to Israel — a bond which the letter says has pervaded Jewish "'writing and worship throughout the two millenias a longing for the homeland, holy Zion.'"

Declared the Council, the umbrella grouping of U.S. Judaism, "Out of our fraternal relations, bonds will be forged that will strengthen our common endeavor before God."

BERNICE BEDE OSOL
For Sunday, June 27

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be sensible about your driving habits today. Being a few minutes late is far better than courting a mishap.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't try to sell others on ideas today that you're not completely sold on yourself. Your sales efforts could return to haunt you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) New projects should be started very cautiously today. Don't jump into anything without being certain all the pieces fit.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) To gain the full respect of persons you'll be involved with today; you must be frank and open. Don't camouflage your motives.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Normally you're an outgoing type who enjoys having others around, but today you have a tendency to hide your light under a bushel.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Give a wide berth to a friend today whose life is presently complicated. She could draw you into something sticky you needn't be a part of.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're likely to be in the spotlight today whether you desire it or not. Try not to do anything that could tranish your image.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Even though you feel very strongly about your views, you'd be wise to keep them to yourself today. Listen — and learn more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Think twice before involving yourself with new partners in joint ventures. Be sure they're what they represent themselves to be.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is not a good day to make major decisions hastily. If you guess wrong you could later have something nasty to unravel.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A lot depends upon the way you handle yourself today when others make requests. Being uncooperative sets the tone for their future actions.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be on guard socially today. Don't say or do anything to give one who likes to put others down something to tell her friends about.

Your Birthday June 27

Some acquaintances who had little of constructive value to offer will fade from the scene this year. They will be replaced by new, loyal friends.

Youth minister plans program

The Rev. Chuck Davis, youth minister at the Claremont Baptist Church, will work with junior high, senior high and college-age youth during the church's summer program.

The program will include a survey of the basics of the Christian faith, contemporary Christian problems and various socials and camping trips.

Davis is enrolled in the master of divinity program at Fuller Theological Seminary at Pasadena.

Davis and his wife are members of the Alhambra First Baptist Church where they are involved in the ministry with young married couples.

A potluck dinner will be held in the Fellowship Hall at 5 p.m. Sunday for Davis.

REV. CHUCK DAVIS

Want talks to resume

CHICAGO (AP) — The general board of the Christian Church (Disciples of Chirst) has unanimously approved resumption of unification talks with the United Church of Christ.

The 1.3-million-member Christan Church and the 2-million-member United Church had suspended union talks in 1966 to concentrate on a nine-denomination merger effort, but its slowed progress led the United Church recently to invite a resumption of the bilateral negotiations.

THE REV. E. EDWARD DILLON — He'll hold revival services at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, Pomona, at 11 a.m. Sunday, and at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

1,200 to attend Jehovah's assembly

More than 1,200 persons are expected to attend the semi-annual assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, California Circuit 2-B, next Saturday and Sunday in Norco.

The featured speaker at the assembly will be Malcome Van Ike, district overseer for Southern California. The theme of the assembly will be "Become Doers of the Word."

Among the local featured speakers will be J. D. Wengert, circuit overseer for the valley area.

The two-day program will include student talks and dramatizations.

The public service at 3 p.m. Sunday will have the theme "Are You Doing What God Requires of You?"

New Bible in green

CLEVELAND (AP) — A big, new edition of the King James version of the Bible is being issued with the words of Jesus in green.

Red-colored words "tend to dazzle the eye," says Peter Lloyd-Taylor of the William Collins-World Publishing Co. "Green is a much gentler color and easier on the eyes."

Christian music concert Sunday

The nationally known Continental Orchestra and special guests "Spirit of Love" will be heard in a concert of contemporary Christian music Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Upland Brethren in Christ Church.

Selected by audition from thousands of high school and college age people across the nation and around the world, the orchestra members are highly trained and talented musicians.

The orchestra has 30 members and is completely equipped with sound and lighting for the staging of its performance.

The Spirit of Love group won the vocal group competition at the 1975 Christian Artists' Music Seminar and Camp.

Bible school begins classes

The Alta Loma School of the Bible, designed for laymen and women, will begin its summer session on July 5 and 6 at King of Glory Lutheran Church in Alta Loma.

Two 12-hour courses will be offered. A course in Greek and Greek word studies will be taught by Steve Zelt on Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m. for four weeks. No previous language training or special language ability is required. Zelt is a student of Melodyland School of Theology in Anaheim and youth minister at King of Glory Church.

The second course on the Book of Philippians will be taught by the Rev. Tom Koske, pastor of King of Glory Lutheran Church and founder of the Bible school. This class will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. on Tuesdays.

The classes are open to the public. Registration fee is $5 and a $12 donation will be asked for each course.

Enrollment information may be obtained by calling 987-1275 or 987-4285. Registration will also be accepted at the first class.

Churches celebrate Bicentennial

The Chino Ministerial Association, consisting of 20 churches in Chino, will sponsor a Bicentennial celebration July 11 at 2 p.m. at Chino High School's gymnasium.

The program will consists of patriotic music by combined choirs of various Chino churches. They will be directed by The Rev. Gerald DeLuney of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Various ministers participating will give a short talk on the religious heritage of the country.

The Rev. Carroll G. Martin, minister of First Assembly of God Church, will be master of ceremonies.

Ten to attend Indiana meeting

Two persons from the La Verne Church of the Brethren and eight representing La Verne College represent the Pacific Southwest at a conference on the church and higher education at Earlham College in Richmond, Ind. this week.

The church representatives are the Rev. Leland Wilson, minister of the church, and Florence Crago.

Attending from La Verne College are Armen Sarafian, president, Lowell Brubaker and R. Truman Northup, trustees, Vernard Eller and Wayne L. Miller, faculty members, the Rev. John Gingrich, campus minister, and Randy Miller and Diane Shivley, students.

The conference is focusing its work on the church's relationship on higher education.

Back in La Verne, Bill Willoughby, a member of the church, will be guest speaker Sunday morning. Willoughby, chairman of the humanities division of La Verne College, will discuss "Now Abideth Hope."

REV. DAVID E. EDWARDS

Priest is honored

The Rev. Julio Roman, associate pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Pomona, was honored this week by the Pomona City Council for his work with Spanish-speaking youths in the city.

Father Roman has organized a youth group at the church and also works with young people at Garey High School.

Originally from Panama, he is also active as chaplain of the Knights of Columbus at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

A citation from the city was presented to Father Roman Monday by Mayor Ray Lepire.

European Nazarene minister in Ontario

The Rev. Frank Morley, who represents Europe on the General Council of the Nazarene Young People's Society, will attend the Sunday evening services of the First Church of the Nazarene in Ontario.

Also present at the 6:30 p.m. service will be Mr. Morley's wife and three children. The family has been in the United States to attend the recent General Assembly in Dalllas, Tex.

The Rev. Ron Fay, associate minister at the church, has returned from the General Assembly and will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

Trinity to bid pastor farewell

A farewell reception for the Rev. Dorsey Allen will be held Sunday at Trinity United Methodist Church in Pomona following the 10:30 a.m. worship service.

Mr. Allen, pastor of the church for the last 3½ years, will be succeeded by the Rev. David E. Edwards.

A new post as pastor of the United Methodist Church in Tempe, Ariz. awaits Mr. Allen. He and his wife, Adele, and four children will relocate there.

Mr. Edwards will give his first sermon as pastor of the Pomona church on July 4. He is currently pastor of the United Methodist Church in El Cajon.

He is a native of Los Angeles. He attended UC Berkeley, Cascade College and the Asbury Theological Seminary.

He was ordained in the church in 1962 and has served as pastor of churches in Taft and El Cajon.

He and his wife, Elisabeth, have three children, Mark, 18, Michael, 14 and Susan, 9.

Our Savior farewell for couple

A farewell reception for Mr. and Mrs. James Dallman will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. at Our Savior Evangelical Lutheran Church and School in Pomona.

Mr. Dallman has been principal of the church school for the last five years and has accepted a new position with Emmaeus Lutheran Church in Phoenix, Ariz., where he will begin a new school.

Mrs. Dallman has been a teacher at the school in Pomona.

Jehovah's to attend conventions

Chino congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend three conventions scheduled at Hollywood Park in Inglewood on July 29 to Aug. 1.

Theme of the meetings is "sacred service," and the program will consist of Bible lectures, symposiums, discussion periods and full-costume dramas, all focusing on problems in today's society.

Irish conflict held political, not religious

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — An Irish Presbyterian leader, the Rev. Dr. A.J. Weir, told the assembly of the Presbyterian Church U.S. (Southern) here that Ireland's conflict is not over religious differences, but over coinciding political differences — a quarrel not between churches but between communities associated with them.

For instance, he observed, if a person in Northern Ireland identifies himself as an atheist, "he is asked if he is a Catholic atheist or a Protestant atheist."

New Greek Theater preserves tradition

...Story on pages 4-5

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

By 1888 the name and fame of Pomona had traveled as far afield as New York City. And why shouldn't it have? That was the year, as reported in the New York Journal, that:

"The largest navel orange grove in the United States is in Pomona, Los Angeles County, California. It is owned by Seth Richards, formerly a very large land owner in Iowa. He has 100 acres in Pomona set out to 10,000 orange trees and in a few months will have another 100 acres set out to 10,000 more trees. What a sight an orange grove of 20,000 trees would be to an Eastern horticulturist!"

But the largest navel orange grove in the United States wasn't the only thing to which Pomonans were pointing with pride in 1888. That was also the year when construction began on cement sidewalks on both sides of Second Street. On Oct. 10 the City Council had accepted Bernard Reddicon's low bid for the work in which he agreed to build the walks for 13 cents per square foot and the curbing for 32 cents per lineal foot.

Thus it was not at all surprising that at a regular meeting of the Pomona City Council, the City Marshal was authorized to hire a clerk for 20 days, at a salary of $1.50 per day, to assist in the collection of city taxes. After all, those new cement sidewalks were going to cost a lot of money and Pomona's City Fathers wanted to make doubly certain ALL local property owners contributed their fair share to that civic improvment program.

Browne eyes top spot

The Phillipine Interzonal Tournament has been underway since June 12, in Manila. The top three finishers will compete with five others in a series of matches to determine the 1978 Challenger to World Champion Anatoly Karpov's title.

Amongst those vying for a top position in Manila are the U.S. players Walter Browne and Lubomir Kavalek. Browne, the U.S. Champion the last two times running, has a good chance for success in his very difficult task. But he will have to beat out such players as former World Champion Boris Spassky and world-class grandmasters Mecking, Polugaevsky, Ljubojevic and Hort.

Previous experience tells us that Browne will not be stopped for lack of trying. A description of one of Browne's losses shows us what his opponents must face:

"A bitter struggle! Bornwe could have accepted equality at any time. His ferocious will to kill determined that he would lose."

He improves with age

Always a top grandmaster, Viktor Korchnoi, now age 45, is achieving the best results of his career. First he extended Karpov a full 24 games in their brutal Challenger's match. Now he has by a slight margin outperformed Anatoly in the recent Soviet Cup Team Tournament, at the first board position.

Amongst the top world players, only the inactive Fischer and Karpox, himself, now outrank Korchnoi.

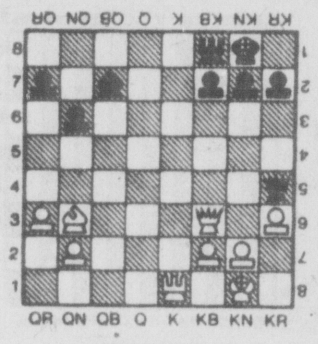

Here is the finale of a game Korchnoi played in the aforementioned team tournament:

In this position Korchnoi played 42. . . . KRxB and Anikayev resigned. He saw too late that after

Wedgewood agate bowl

By Dorothy Hammond

QUESTION: I have a treasured peice which has been in our family for many years. This bowl is nine inches in diameter, is in perfect condition and is marked WEDGWOOD on the underside. It is in various shades of brown and tan. Your opinion as to its value will be appreciated. Mrs. T.M.C.

ANSWER: Examples of Wedgwood's agate ware are rare and expensive. Prices for bowls start around $300 and go up.

In his work, Wedgwood learned how to use colored clays to imitate precious and semi-precious stone. For solid agate, he tinted various batches of clay, mixed them together and pressed them into a mold — carefully retaining the veining of the clay. The two halves were put together carefully in order that the seam did not show — and after clear glazing, the mixture became solid agate in appearance.

QUESTION: Have you any information on dolls marked "Q.T."? I recently bought one at an auction showing this trade mark, and am wondering about its origin and date of manufacturer. Mrs. A.P.C.

ANSWER: Sam Kalner, New York, N.Y., was the patentee for a doll bearing a "Q-T" trademark on May 6, 1937. I have no information as to your dolls manufacturer since a designated "patentee" is not necessarily the manufacturer.

James M. Nederlander is the new impresario of the New Greek Theater.

ON THE COVER

Nestled in the tree-shrouded hills of Los Angeles' Griffith Park stands the 4,400-seat New Greek Theater, which opened its summer season Friday night with Sammy Davis Jr. and Blood, Sweat and Tears. The stage is seen from the last row in the lower photograph. At upper right, the spotlight towers are nearly lost in the trees. At left, John Alydon is the Pirate King in "The Pirates of Penzance," to be staged here July 14 and 15 by the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company of London.

Every summer from late June to early October the hills of Los Angeles' sprawling Griffith Park come alive with the sound of music as the 46-year-old Greek Theater presents a varied program of opera, ballet, pop and rock performers, musical comedies and dramatic presentations.

The venerable amphitheater is "under new management" this year as James M. Nederlander of California, Inc., has taken over from James A. Doolittle, whose Greek Theater Association had operated the outdoor bowl for 24 years. The facility is now known as the New Greek Theater.

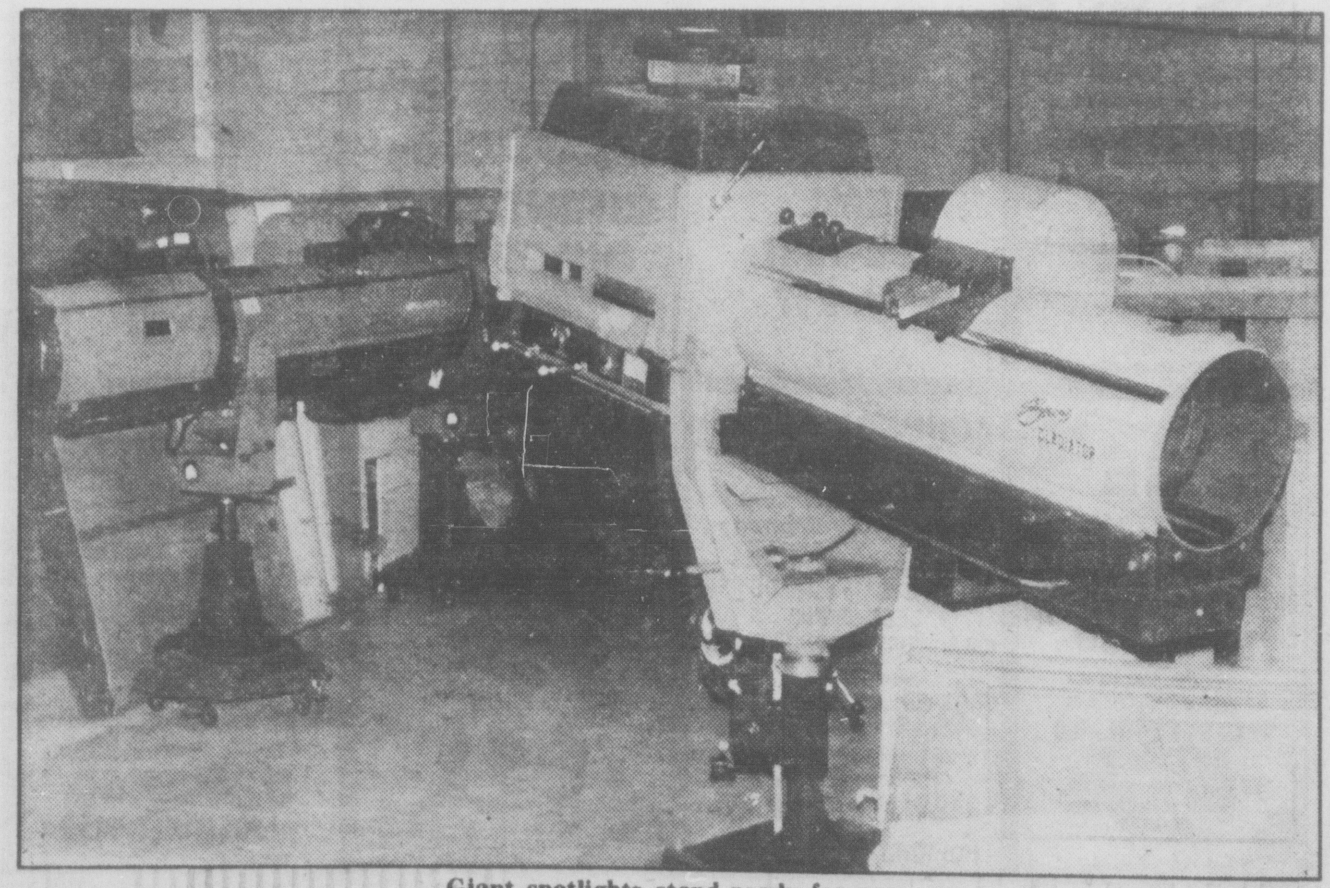

The summer season was officially launched Friday night by Sammy Davis Jr. and Blood, Sweat and Tears. The program will be repeated at 8:30 nightly through Monday. The Spinners, with guest star Donna Summer, play there Wednesday through July 4.

The 4,253-acre Griffith Park was presented to the City of Los Angeles by millionaire Col. Griffith J. Griffith. It is the largest city park in the nation. It is also the home of the Griffith Observatory and the Los Angeles Zoo. Griffith later gave the city funds that he stipulated be used "for an outdoor theater where people might have an opportunity to assemble in comfort for entertainment." Those funds brought about the construction of the 4,400-seat Greek Theater in 1930. It is under the city's Parks and Recreation Department.

For several years entertainment was provided by Gene Mann and the Hollywood Starlight Theater Association, then Doolittle took over in 1952. Now Nederlander has signed a three-year lease with the city to rent the amphitheater for $50,000 a year.

The pantheon of artists and groups that have performed on the Greeks's broad stage is impressive — Judy Garland, Danny Kaye, Maurice Chevalier, Jack Benny, Rudy Vallee. Among the many musicals presented there are "Pal Joey," "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying,"

Giant spotlights stand ready for use.

"Wonderful Town," "Sweet Charity" and "My Fair Lady."

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and the New York Ballet have performed there. The tree-lined walls of the theater have echoed to music of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra of London and other leading symphony orchestras, and many operas have been mounted there — "La Traviata," "Madama Butterfly," "Carmen" and others.

"I am well aware of the history of this great theater," Nederlander said as he took up the reins. "This has been a world-renowned theatrical institution. Performers, producers and theater-goers everywhere know about it, and there's no reason whatsoever that this magnificent facility should take a back seat to anyone. I have assured the City of Los Angeles that I will use every resource at my command to see that the Greek regains its position as one of the finest installations in the world."

Attendance in the past few years has been uneven as Doolittle attempted to balance purely cultural events with rock and pop music performances. The former did not always draw large audiences; most of the latter would be sold out. Nederlander's schedule for the summer indicates that he is catering heavily to popular tastes at the sacrifice of more aesthetic attractions.

The highlight of the season for Savoyards will be 10 performances of Gilbert & Sullivan operettas by the prestigious D'Oyly Carte Opera Company of London. The troupe will present "The Midado" July 9, 10, 11 and 13; "The Pirates of Penzance" July 14 and 15, and "H.M.S. Pinafore" July 16 and 18 and twice on July 17.

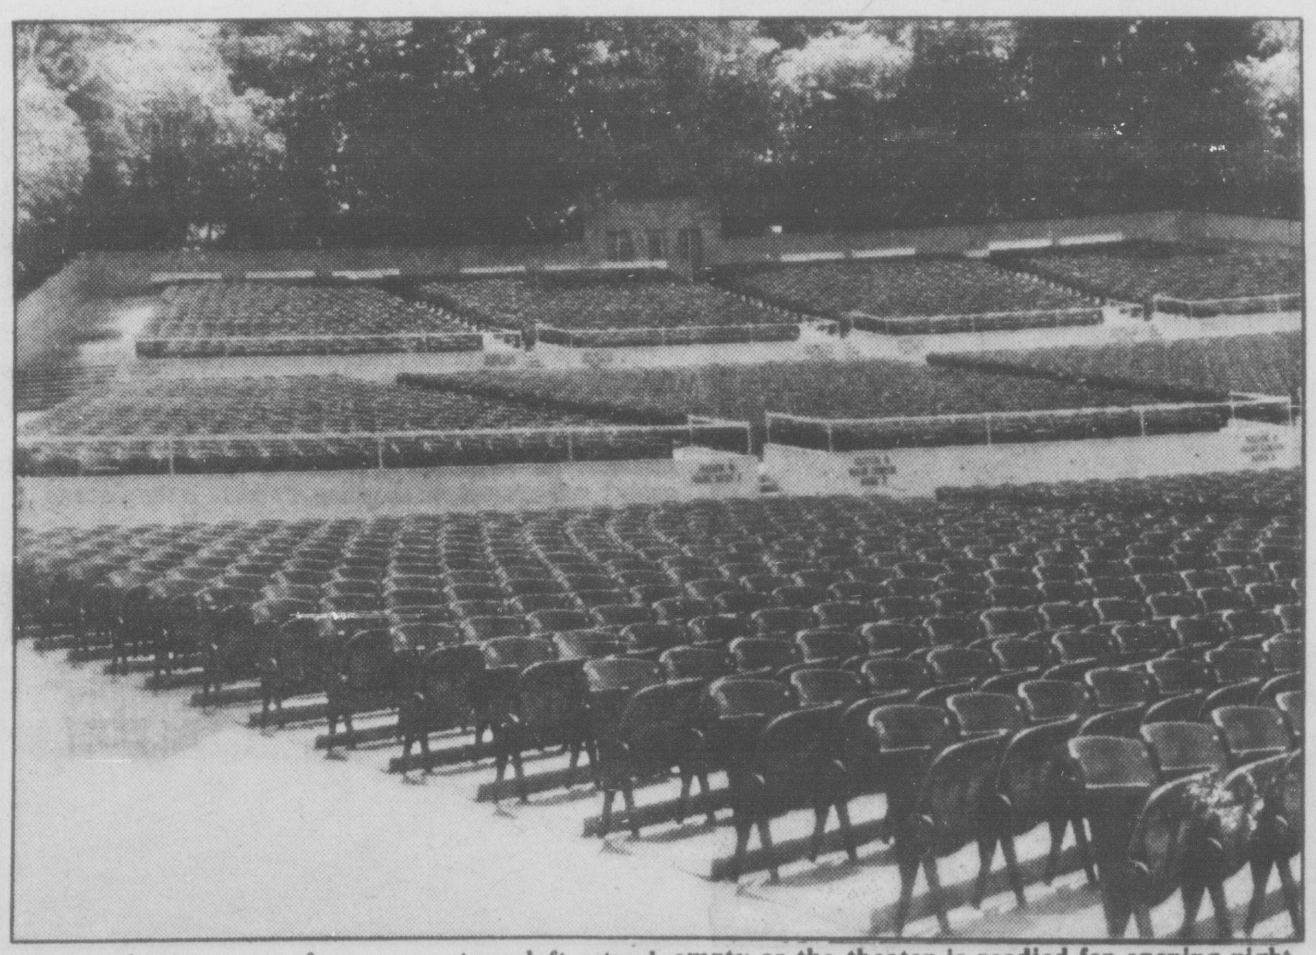

Other attractions at the Greek this summer will be the Chinese Acrobats of Taiwan, Harry Belafonte and his company, Shirley Bassey, Seals & Croft, Three Dog Night, Olivia Newton-John, Rich Little, Burt Bacharach and Anthony Newley, the Charlie Rich Show and George Burns and Carol Channing.

The Greek Theater provides free parking and picnic grounds for before-the-show suppers.

The popular vocal group, The Spinners, will perform at the theater Wednesday through July 4.

New manager confident facility can regain its position as one of the finest in world

Ted Baumgartner helps customer Jana Breaux decide on a cold cut variety.

Rose D'Amico and Nick LoCore offer friendly words to waiting customers.

LoCore, right, helps son, Joseph, stack olives on the shelves.

Market becomes valley landmark

Policelli Italian Market operators say they offer more than "the finest selection and variety of cold cuts in the valley." But they also try to extend to each individual customer a jovial and warm, hometown attitude.

Nick and Alfonsa LoCore began working with the original owner, Nick Policelli, in 1957. LoCore moved from clerk to manager to owner in 1970 under the tutelage of Policelli.

"Mr. Policelli remained with me in a supervisorial capacity until his death in 1973. He helped me make the right moves. I'm grateful to the man for providing me these opportunities and I haven't forgotten," LoCore said.

The Montclair market is a hub of activity, a friendly center with plain folk attitudes. Patrons enjoy the congeniality and humor of all six employes and the owners, and the market is seldom empty. Nearly all patrons are known on a first-name basis and many have been steady customers since the market opened 19 years ago.

"I, as a store owner, appreciate the dedicated customers who have made Policelli what it is today — a landmark in the Pomona Valley," LoCore commented. "First, you thank God and then the people who make you prosperous."

Policelli offers at least 50 varieties of cold cuts, including its fresh Italian sausage, Italian dry salami and roast beef pastrami cut from rounds; a selection of imported and domestic macaroni (pasta) and a full line of Progresso products.

The frozen food line includes Fioran ravioli, gnocchi (potato dumplings), tortellini (a home-made round noodle stuffed with meat and used in chicken or beef broth or as an appetizer), manicotti, lasagna, and veal parmigiana. Italian breads and rolls and imported and domestic wines also are offered.

The cheese line features such delights as imported Pecorino Romano for grating; fontina, typo and tilsit for mild eating and Provolone for sharp cheese lovers. Greek and near Eastern varieties of cheeses and a small deli of cracked green olives, Giardiniera garden salad, marinated mushrooms. Greek olives, German potato salad and marinated artichoke hearts also are palate possibilities.

LoCore's sons, Emil, Joseph and Nick Jr., and daughter Marie put together party platters of cold cuts and cheeses in varying sizes. LoCore assists the party-giver with culinary advice.

In addition to variety, Policelli affords savings to customers.

"Ninty per cent of the products in our store are cheaper than the supermarkets sales of the same merchandise," LoCore boasted. "Some of my steady prices are cheaper throughout the year than when supermarkets mark down material for short sales. If people are interested in quality and economy in shopping, Policelli is the place to go."

Store hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and closed Sundays and major holidays. The store is located at 4078 Holt Blvd., Montclair, just east of Mills Avenue.

Top students now feeling pressure

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — "It's nice to have the pressure off," David Germany said as he leaned back on the bed in his Princeton University dormitory room after his last exam.

His mind was pulling into focus the impressions of his four years at Princeton, which he later condensed into a thousand words for his valedictory address — a duty of the university's top-ranked graduate.

"I will give a speech and after that I will not be the valedictorian," he said quietly. "I was the valedictorian. It implies nothing about who I am or what I'll be in the future."

Across the tree-shaded campus, Susan Hurley, this year's salutatorian, was leaving her room to find the professor who was translating her commencement greeting into the Latin she used to deliver it, an old Princeton tradition at June commencement.

"Intellect is really very important to me," she says. "But I think there are too many people who get too caught up in it."

Although their thoughts are turning now from what has been to what will come, each of these 21-year-olds speaks freely but modestly of past achievement. If their experience is any indication, honors graduates at America's top universities are strongly motivated, practical, often introspective, pleased but not overwhelmed by academic excellence, and easily diverted by music and other pastimes.

Princeton's top two students — they had nearly all A's all four years—also are concerned that being labeled valedictorian or salutatorian may increase the pressures on them to succeed.

He didn't expect academic superiority four years ago. Now he is aiming for a doctor of philosophy degree in economics, his major, at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"There are many things that are beyond me. Applied math, calculus, things like that always came pretty easy to me. But I got into a course that started teaching math theory and I just sat there lost, dazed and confused. And there was a 15-year-old behind me who thought it was simple.

Classical music can distract him from books, as can his girlfriend and friends across the hall. Much of his time was devoted to campus activites, including intramural athletics and the yearbook he edited.

Eventually he hopes to find a teaching position or a job in the business world — a practical role, close to a final product.

Susan says,"... I want a law degree, to have some clout in the real world."

She studied philosophy at Princeton and will emphasize international law at Harvard Law School in the fall. Her home is Santa Barbara, Calif. She wants to travel and hopes to spend a year in France and Italy studying their languages. Free time at Princeton went to singing and studying Japanese art.

High grades were something "I just kind of took for granted," she says. "I don't think I consciously set the goal. I just never thought of doing anything else.

"It takes a lot of work. I'm extremely nervous and I can channel a lot of nervous energy into it."

"My desire is to experience life as fully as possible before I die. I'm really aware of how brief life is and that's why I want to live a life of adventure, instead of riches or status."

COME ON OVER

Olivia Newton-John, or Livvy as she's known to friends, has done it again with another brand new hit. It's hard to believe that in six years this young singer has won more awards than some people earn in a lifetime, and besides that, has become an internationally famous star; but this is Livvy s story. The granddaughter of a Nobel-rpize winning physicist and the daughter of a college professor who loved opera, Livvy shunned the academic world in favor of the music she always felt was in her blood. At 14, she formed a singing group with three friends, but had to quit when it interfered with her school work. At 16, she won a talent contest (the prize was a trip to England), and there was no holding her back this time. Livvy went to England and in 1971 recorded a Bob Dylan tune, "If Not For You", which won her a Grammy and launched her fabulous career.

Community gardens can be money-savers

A family growing vegetables on a community garden plot 25 feet by 30 feet can save $250 to $300 a year in fresh produce.

The information is contained in a free brochure just published by Gardens for All, Shelburne, Vt., a non-profit organization to encourage community vegetable gardening as a way toward individual and community self-sufficiency.

According to B. H. (Tommy) Thompson, director of Gardens for All, the color brochure explains what community gardening is, the benefits for families and communities, and the basic steps in getting a community gardening program started.

As defined in the brochure, community gardening is "gardening by groups of people on land they don't own, because they don't own enough land or their land is unsuitable for cultivation." The community gardening site is away from the gardener's home.

Thirty million non-gardeners in America would grow their own vegetables if they had the land, the brochure points out, citing research conducted on behalf of Gardens for All by the Gallup Organization, Princeton, N.J.

Mr. Thompson said that with population heavily concentrated in metropolitan areas, special efforts must be made to develop vacant land in and around cities for gardening purposes. In New York City alone, he said, there are some 29,000 vacant areas.

Community gardening is "very low cost public service," the brochure states. "More state and city governments should be encouraged to assist in making vacant land available and to appropriate funds to make it usable."

Community gardening is spreading rapidly in America, according to the brochure. "Everyone gains as more and more people begin to produce at least some of the food they consume. Community gardening helps to keep food prices down. It helsp people to become more self-sufficient and to cope with inflation and economic stress."

Organized four years ago in Vermont, Gardens for All functions as a national clearing house and information exchange for community gardening activity.

Copies of the new Gardens for All brochure are available by writing to Gardens For All, Bay and Harbor Roads, P.O. Box 371, Shelburne, Vt., 05482.

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

Clara Maass, the American nurse who gave her life during yellow fever research at the turn of the century, will be honored on a new 13-cent U.S. commemorative stamp. The date of issuance will be Aug. 18 at Belleville, N.J., the site of the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

She was born in East Orange, N.J., June 28, 1876. After graduating from the Newark German Hospital School of Nursing in 1895, she soon became the head nurse there. When the Spanish-American War broke out, she volunteered as a nurse with the U.S. Army. In 1900 she was sent to the Philippines to continue her work with yellow fever victims. Then she returned to Cuba where experiments were being conducted by a team that included Major Walter Reed and Major William Gorgas.

Nurse Maass again volunteered, this time to be bitten by the stegomyia mosquito to prove it was the carrier of yellow fever. Ten days later she died. She was the only American, and the only woman, to die aring the experiments which led to the virtual extinction of the disease.

In 1952 the Newark German Hospital became the Clara Maass Hospital in honor of its most famous nurse.

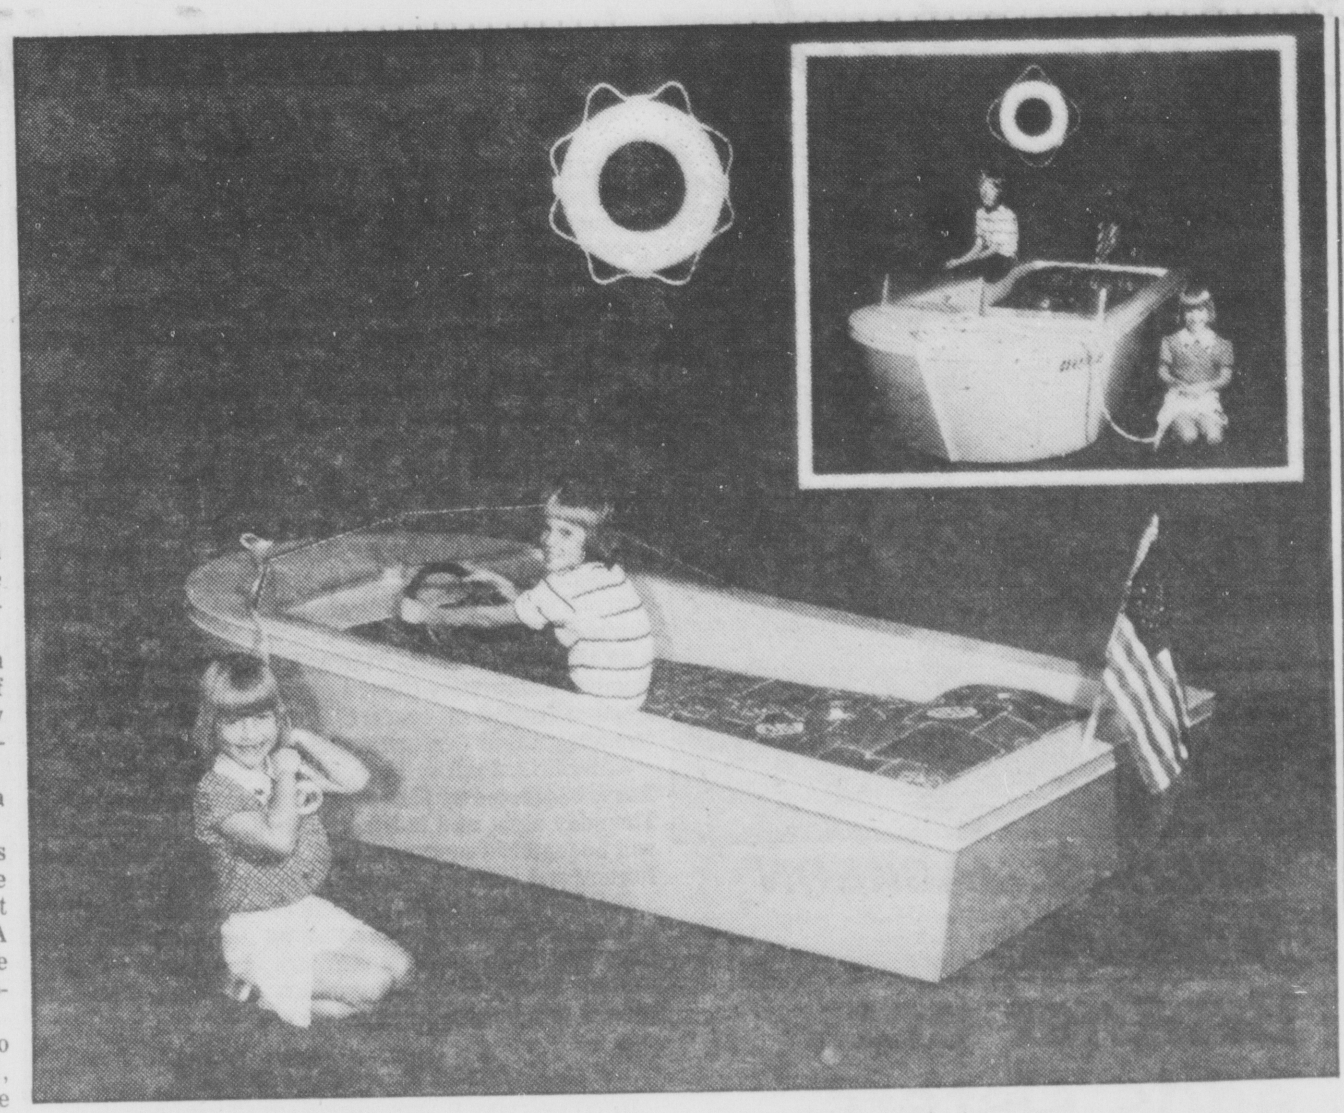

The design of the new stamp features a profile of Miss Maass against a light blue background. She is wearing the nursing cap and pin of the Newark German Hospital. At the upper right, in two lines of black type, appears "USA 13c." Across the bottom, in black type, is the name "Clara Maass." Beneath her name in blue is the inscription "She gave her life."

First day cancellation requests should be addressed to "Clara Maass Stamp, Postmaster, Belleville, N.J., 07109." The cost is 13 cents per stamp to be affixed to the self-addressed envelope which must accompany the order. Your order must be postmarked no later than Aug. 18.

Children's bed like a boat

By STEVE ELLINGSON

Imagine your children's faces when they get aboard this sleek, exciting speed boat bed, ready to zoom them off to dreamland. As you can see, it looks just like a motorboat, yet is a perfectly great bed for the young "salts" in your family.

Built principally of plywood, the speed boat bed measures 50 inches beam to beam, and 96 inches stem to stern, and it takes a standard 39-inch mattress. The plexiglass windshild is cut from scrap pieces available at hardware stores and lumber yards. The "metal" windshield frame is actually plywood painted silver. Paint the boat bed with a few enamel coats of your child's favorite right color, add a flag and maybe a ring-buoy. Chances are, you'll have trouble getting the kids out of bed.

So, ladies and gentlemen, it's "anchors aweigh" for a really fun project. To order the Speed Boat Bed, Pattern 574, send $2.50 (includes first class postage & handling) by cash, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, c/o: Pomona Progress Bulletin Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

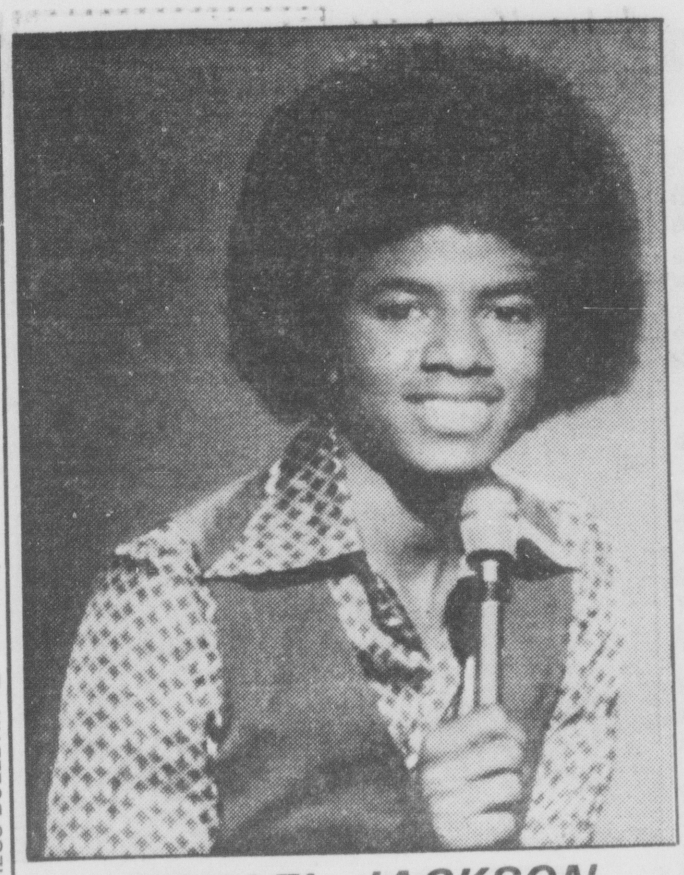

"Naval stores" today applies to pine products such as resin, tar, pitch and turpentine which mainly comes from the American Southeast. Originally the term included masts and cordage and before the establishment of the American colonies the main source was the Baltic region. In 1705 naval stores became enumerated articles only allowed to be exported from the place of origin to England, or another colony. This hindered colonial trade with other foreign nations, The World Almanac notes.

Morven, on the edge of Princeton, N.J., was the estate of signer Richard Stockton. Stockton's daughter, Julia, was married to Pennsylvania signer Benjamin Rush, who visited at Morven. British troops occupied the house during the Revolutionary War and managed to dig up two of three chests of valuables hidden by Stockton. The World Almanac notes that Morven is now the official residence of the governor of New Jersey.

MICHAEL JACKSON

'The Jacksons'

Brother act adds sisters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If anyone ever needed an hour to showcase their talent in a TV variety show, you'd think it would be the performer-packed Jackson family.

Yet the five brothers and three sisters who are starring in "The Jacksons" this summer on CBS-TV deliberately opted for a 30-minute format.

"We were offered an hour but we decided to do half an hour," explains Michael Jackson, who soared to fame six years ago as lead singer of the Jackson Five. He's now all of 17.

"We'd rather just give them (the audience) a little — make them want more. Then they'll be ready for us next week."

The Jackson clan was offered a weekly series by ABC two years ago but Michael says they turned it down because they were just too busy recording and touring to devote themselves to a one-hour TV show each week.

They still are, he notes — another reason for the 30-minute format. The family was able to knock off the four CBS summer shows — the second of which airs tonight — in less than three weeks.

Jackson says the musical clan is more willing to accept a long-running series commitment now — "there's a TV craze goin' on" — but if CBS wants them as a midseason replacement this winter, it will have to take them at half an hour.

Whether the network will buy the concept permanently he isn't sure, but he believes the channel-hopping public will.

"America is on the move," he declared. "It's hard to make 'em sit still for an hour unless somethin's goin' on - like somethin' dirty."

The latter came with a sly grin from the shy high school senior. He spoke quietly at a table beside the swimming pool at the tree-shrouded home where he lives with his parents and three siblings. His pet parrot squawked loudly from its nearby cage.

The five oldest sons of Joe and Katherine Jackson burst onto the national musical scene in 1970 with a string of records that hit the top of the sales charts and forever ended the days when their father had to operate a crane in a Gary, Ind., steel mill.

The original group consisted of Michael, Jackie, now 25, Tito, 22, Jermaine, 20, and Marlon, 19. Brother Randy, now 14, joined them on the concert circuit in 1973 and the three girls — Rebie, 26, La Toya, 20, and Janet, 10 — followed in 1974.

Only Jermaine will not be seen on the summer series. Michael says he was busy recording a solo album at the time they taped the shows.

Father Joe, the primary musical influence on the talented children, also got involved, serving as an executive producer. But Mother Katherine, who played clarinet in high school, would have none of it, Michael reports.

Two operas set at Citrus

The Summer Session Opera Workshop at Cal State Long Beach will present two contemporary American chamber operas in the Auditorium of Citrus College at 8 p.m. July 10. Admission is free.

The one-act operas will be fully staged and accompanied by orchestra.

"Hello Out There," by Jack Beeson, is based on the play by William Saroyan. It tells of two lonely people, a young gambler and a girl, who meet in a small-town Texas jail. It is, in Saroyan's words, "about the wonderful, lying, crooked people who believe themselves to be righteous in the murder of a hoodlum of a gambler-poet." Saroyan, in describing his reaction to Beeson's opera writes, "The music is quite wonderful — lyric, pure, simple . . . Jack Beeson has writ himself, and myself, and the rest of us, one real beaut of an American opera, out of Matador, Texas, by way of Fresno, California, and wherever Beeson hails from."

"Mike Fink" is a folk opera by the late California composer Morris Ruger. It concerns a romantic episode in the life of Mike Fink, legendary Indian fighter, keelboatman and trapper, who woos and wins Sally Ann, an attractive New Orleans belle. Mike's chief rival is Squire Jay, well-to-do dandy and the town's most eligible bachelor.

After much agonizing indecision, Sally Ann chooses the boisterous, handsome keelboatman over the respectable, stuffy squire. In the finale, the keelboat is cast off and amid congratulations of the townsfolks, the couple departs for New Orleans and a great wedding celebration.

Hans Lampl, conductor of the Cal State Long Beach Orchestra and musical director of music theater and opera, will be musical director and conductor for this production. Stage director will be John Noschese, Los Angeles singer and stage director.

The performance at Citrus College is presented with the cooperation of Citrus College Community Services.

Lesser earns more

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Film producer Sol Lesser has earned a Master of Science degree at the University of Southern California — at the age of 86.

Maker of "Our Town," "Stage Door Canteen" and 13 Tarzan movies, Lesser has been teaching at U.S.C.'s film school. He decided to become a student as well and wrote as his master's thesis "The Disciplined Procedural Model for Educating the Filmmaker at the Graduate Level."

Grace in films as director

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco, who gave up an Academy Award-winning film career as Grace Kelly to marry Prince Ranier, is returning to the movies — this time as a member of the board of Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp.

Board chairman Dennis C. Stanfill announced Tuesday that Princess Grace has agreed to become the firm's first female board director. She will be elected at the board's next meeting, scheduled for July 29 in Chicago, but a company spokesman did not know whether she would attend that meeting.

"She will contribute a valuable dimension, based on her experience in the motion picture industry and her many international interests and activities," Stanfill said.

Princess Grace married Prince Rainier on April 19, 1956.

Each director receives $7,500 as an annual retainer and $250 for every meeting he or she attends.

Bobby Darin film suit dismissed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A film biography of the life of singer Bobby Darin may be shown by NBC-TV, despite protests from the deceased performer's executor in Superior Court, a judge has ruled.

Attorney Gerald Lipsky, who filed suit on behalf of Darin, who died 2½ years ago, said that the proposed program violated publicity rights held by the estate.

John, Kate set for 'Someday'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A repeat pairing of John Wayne and Katharine Hepburn?

That's the plan of Hal Wallis, who teamed the superstars in "Rooster Cogburn," a sequel to his successful "True Grit." Now the producer has acquired another tale of Marshal Cogburn and Sister Eula Goodnight, "Someday."

Ford raps Agnew's remarks about Jews

President says statements in novel are wrong and 'unsavory'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says former Vice President Spiro Agnew's recent remarks about Jews "are wrong, both substantively and morally, and they struck me as an unsavory footnote to a chapter in our history that would best remain closed."

The White House made public on Friday a June 22 letter from Ford to Seymour Graubard of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The ADL said Graubard had asked about Agnew's remarks about Jews in his novel, "The Canfield Decision," and in interviews about the book.

The ADL said Agnew's remarks maligned Israel, Zionists and American Jews. It accused him of expressing "anti-Semitic canards."

In the novel, Agnew refers to Jewish cabals and Zionist lobbies. He said in interviews promoting the book last month that neither he nor the novel is anti-Semitic.

But Agnew said the American press is unduly influenced by Zionist opinion and U.S. policy in the Middle East is less than evenhanded.

"As you look around in ... the big news business you see a heavy concentration of Jewish people," Agnew said. "Now I'm not saying this is wrong, I'm saying it has to color to some extent their comprehension of what takes place."

"I'm not a bigot," he said. "But neither am I the kind of person who runs away from saying what he believes.

"From what I've seen ... of the powerful leadership of the American Jewish community, they're far too sensitive ... Now I understand that some of this comes out of years of ... oppression. But I think now they're big boys and they have to grow up and accept a certain amount of criticism ... criticism is not bigotry."

In his letter, Ford said Graubard had sought "my reaction to Mr. Agnew's recent public remarks."

Wrote Ford:

"I believe those remarks are wrong, both substantially and morally, and they struck me as an unsavory footnote to a chapter in our history that would best remain closed.

B1 bomber program is approved

$250 million school aid bill defeated

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Republicans and dissident Democrats defeated a $250-million school finance bill late Friday and thwarted Democratic leaders' attempt to pass a $12.86-billion state budget.

The deadlock forced legislators to delay their scheduled five-week recess until at least Monday.

The school aid bill got a 52-0 Assembly vote but fell two votes short of the needed two-thirds majority in the 80-member house. All 25 Republicans and two Democrats, Ken Meade of Berkeley and Tom Bane of Van Nuys, did not vote for it.

Meade and the Republicans have refused to vote for the budget until a school finance bill is passed. Meade said Oakland schools, some of which are in his district, can't open next fall without more state aid.

The Senate earlier passed its own $262-million school aid bill and then adjourned as the Assembly lingered in a stalemate.

The Senate-passed bill met Assembly Republicans' demands for more money — $18 per pupil — in the schools' foundation program, which places few restrictions on spending.

The Assembly bill ties up more of the money in special aid programs such as bilingual education.

Teacher groups and school boards backed the Senate version of the bill, which would make more money available for salaries.

Republicans credited Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.'s new willingness to approve $250 million more for schools to their resistance on the budget.

Assemblyman Jerry Lewis, R-Highland, said his GOP colleagues should use their newfound power to "push the governor to the wall" and get a greater commitment of money.

Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy told reporters the delay "is not going to present a crisis" but could become inconvenient for school districts if it continues.

QUICK WORK HALTS BLAZE

About 25 acres of brush were burned Friday evening in Sycamore Canyon north of San Dimas. Los Angeles County firemen and the U.S. Forest Service were kept busy mopping up after the valley's first brushfire of the season. Here, fireman Paul Rippens hoses down a hot spot. The blaze barely missed a sheriff's detention camp in the canyon. Residents in homes below the canyon were worried about the fire, but firemen knocked it down in one hour, after it broke out at 4 p.m. About 150 firemen and three helicopters battled the blaze.

Committee approves production of new supersonic planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees agreed Friday on a production go-ahead for the controversial B1 supersonic bomber.

In approving a compromise $32.5 billion weapons purchasing authorization bill, the conference deleted a Senate-approved restriction delaying a production contract for the first three planes at least until next Feb. 1.

The delay was designed by its sponsor, Sen. John Culver, D-Iowa, to give the next president, whoever he might be, a chance to review completed test data and decide whether the planned 244 B1 replacements for the B52 are worth the estimated $22 billion cost.

President Ford has indicated support for the B1 program, while Jimmy Carter, the potential Democratic presidential nominee, has expressed doubt about the wisdom of proceeding.

Culver said he would "continue to oppose this wasteful and unnecessary program." He said it will be an issue when the compromise bill returns to the House and Senate for final votes, and again during Senate consideration of the followup defense appropriation bill.

The Pentagon plans to award initial contracts for B1 production in November.

"Even if the next President cancels this program, we will waste over half a billion dollars before we can turn off the tap," Culver said.

The $32.5 billion weapons bill is $2 billion under Pentagon budget requests.

It includes $7.6 billion for Navy shipbuilding and conversion, authorizing a new Trident submarine, four nuclear attack submarines, and advance procurement items for a fourth Nimitz class nuclear powered aircraft carrier.

$5 million CCC measure for 1,200 jobs approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A $5-million California Conservation Corps to give 1,200 young people jobs, backed by Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., was sent to Brown's desk Friday.

Assemblyman Howard Berman, the Democratic floor leader, had to work several minutes gathering up needed votes before he won the needed two-thirds Assembly vote of 5422.

The Senate voted 28-1 to approve Assembly amendments a few hours later, sending the bill to the governor.

One supporter, Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello, said he had worked in the federal Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s, and considered it cheaper to put young people to work than to house them in detention centers.

But most of the debate was critical of the program.

Assemblyman Eugene Chappie, R-Roseville, termed the bill "great eyewash." Others said the idea was laudable but the bill wasn't well thought out.

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, said it was all very fine to get young people out enjoying "the wonders of nature."

But he termed the program "an expensive boondoggle" and said there were better ways to spend money to fight unemployment.

Under the bill, the California Youth Conservation Corps and the California Ecology Corps would be replaced by the newly created corps.

It would put unemployed persons under age 25 to work in fire prevention, erosion control, and urban park projects.

The bill's sponsor is Sen. Jerry Smith, D-Saratoga.

The bill is SB 1575.

Rules blacks can't be barred on race issue

Supreme Court acts to curb prejudice in private schools

A lawyer for an affluent private school in Virginia says it's "a restriction on the liberties of Americans," but the children of a black Miami bus driver saw it as one less lock on the door of a private school.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled 7 to 2 Friday that private schools cannot exclude blacks from enrolling because of their race. Religious schools were not included in the ruling.

"It means that private individuals operating private schools are not going to be able to select their pupils as they previously thought they were able to do," said Andrew Lipscombe, a lawyer for Fairfax-Brewster School in Bailey's Crossroads, one of the two Virginia schools named in the decision. The other was Bobbe's Private School in Arlington.

"Parents are not going to be able to have the association for their children that they wish, even in private situations — situations which in small, private schools are intimate," he added.

Many of the schools in the South sprang up following the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court integration decision and subsequent approval of civil rights laws. Others have been created recently in the North following school integration court orders.

For Valeria and Jacqueline Brown, ages 7 and 10, the decision brought them a little closer to a classroom in Dade Christian School in Miami.

But it was only a limited victory for bus driver Johnny Brown and his daughters because the court did not address itself to religious schools, and Dade Christian is sponsored by the New Testament Baptist Church.

"We had two blocks to get over and one of them has now been removed," said Brown's lawyer, Ellis Rubin.

Dade Christian maintains the Bible teaches that the races should live apart.

'Old Black Magic,' 'Blues in Night'

Johnny Mercer dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Johnny Mercer, the mellow-voiced blues singer who turned lyric writer with such hit songs as "Laura," "That Old Black Magic" and "Blues in the Night," died Friday. He was 66.

Mercer, who had undergone brain surgery Oct. 25 at Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena, died at his home in Bel Air, according to his business manager, James D. Freeman.

Cause of death was not immediately known.

After a career as a performer, Mercer became one of the music world's highest paid lyric writers. He was in demand for putting words to movie theme songs, especially after his haunting lyrics for the 1944 mystery, "Laura." He once remarked in a self-deprecating way:

"I tried to be a singer and failed. I tried to be an actor and failed. So I just naturally fell into lyric writing."

His efforts won him four Oscars: "The Atcheson, Topeka and the Santa Fe" in 1946; "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening," 1952; "Moon River," 1962; "Days of Wine and Roses," 1963.

Mercer was born in Savannah, Ga., and he never lost the soft drawl of his native country. He went north in 1929 to try his luck on the Broadway stage as an actor. Producers turned him down. In an effort to win a role in an edition of "Garrick's Gaieties," he wrote a song for the show, "Out of Breath and Scared to Death of You."

Flees with $522 and worthless food stamps

Pomona bank robbed by gunman

A gunman with a pockmarked face and long sideburns robbed a Pomona bank of $522 Friday, police said.

The robber walked into Lloyds Bank of California, 1095 N. Garey Ave. about 11:30 a.m. and handed a note to teller Linda Lou Friedman. The note said, "I have a gun."

Officers said the man had placed a brown leather briefcase on the counter and pulled open his jacket, exposing a handgun in his waistband. When the teller apparently moved slowly, he ordered her to "hurry up."

Mrs. Friedman handed him the $522 in $5 and $1 bills, police reported. The man also grabbed a canvas bank bag containing $1,000 in worthless cancelled food stamps from McCoy's Market.

He apparently left the bank on foot, investigators said. No car was seen leaving the location.

The robber was described as black, 25 to 30 years old, six-foot, 150 to 170 pounds, wearing a green watch cap, green shirt and plaid pants.

Detectives reportedly were checking as to whether the man was the same one who robbed the Home Savings and Loan Association on the Pomona Mall March 18.

Police seek landslide victims

TOKYO (AP) — Hundreds of police and rescuers dug through the mud looking for victims of landslides and floods in western Japan that killed at least 27 persons, officials said today.

The landslides, triggered by up to 33½ inches of rain in the past three days, left eight persons missing and 22 injured, officials said. Most of the damage was in the state of Kagoshima in southwestern Kyushu, the largest of Japan's four main islands.

No total damage estimate was available, but officials said damage to roads and other government property alone was more than $80 million.

Police said the rain touched off nearly 500 landslides, washed out 33 bridges and damaged or flooded more than 3,000 homes.

Japan National Railway said its tracks were damaged in 58 places in western Japan.

19,000 lose their jobs

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Nearly 19,000 airlines groundworkers were laid off Friday in the sixth day of a strike by Canada's commercial pilots in a dispute over allowing air controllers at some Quebec airports to speak French as well as English.

Tourist hotels also were discharging employes because of a severe slump in business.

$80,000 deficit noted

Budget of $15.7 million gets approval in Ontario

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

The Ontario City Council Friday adopted a $15.7 million budget for 1976-77 which shows an $80,000 deficit of appropriations over revenue.

City Manager Roger Hughbanks told council members that this, in itself, would not affect the present tax rate now set at $1.88 per $100 in assessed valuation.

Hughbanks said the future tax rate, including any increase, will hinge upon the employe salary negotiations now being conducted and the final assessments of city property which will not be known until August.

City Finance Director A. C. Gabriel, said he anticipated an 8.5 per cent increase in the assessments, but that his figure is just an estimate.

In last-minute revisions of the budget Friday noon, council members increased the allotment to the Ontario Chamber of Commerce by $7,500, making the total contribution $32,500.

The council also approved donations to one group of community organizations but denied the requests of six other organizations.

Approved in the budget were allocations to Mounted Police, $500; Mountettes, $200; Police Reserves, $500; West End Opera Association, $1,000; Valley Oratorio, $300; and West End Symphony, $1,000.

By a 2-2 vote, with Councilman Homer Briggs absent, the council turned down requests for funds from Alcoholics Rehabilitation, Reach Out West End, West End Boys Club, Suicide and Crisis Intervention Service, Inland Empire Human Development Corp. and West End Drug Abuse.

In denying the request, Councilwoman Faye Myers Dastrup said she didn't feel it was the function of the city to fund these agencies.

"While it's been done in the past, maybe this is the year to stop," she said.

"If the Boys Club gets money from the city, so should the Boy Scouts and the YMCA," added Councilman Beecher Medlin.

Councilman Robert K. Abel voted for the contributions and grumbled:

"If we're going to deny these groups, then we shouldn't fund the opera or symphony, either."

Mayor Paul Treadway also supported the contributions and pointed out that the matter can be brought before the full council later.

Hughbanks expressed optimism about cities again obtaining general revenue funds since the measure has already passed the House of Representatives.

But he also warned the council that it needs to be concerned over reducing the city's reserves in view of increased salaries and other rising costs which might face the city in the future.

The paramedic program approved by the voters will increase the property tax rate by 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation on July 1.

Chino board picks CSEA as bargainer

By JON MORRIS
PB Staff Writer

The Chino school board has officially recognized the local chapter of California School Employes Association (CSEA) as the exclusive bargarining agent for non-teaching employes.

Board members had previously rejected CSEA chapter 102 as the classified employes' agent under the new state collective bargaining law.

Administrator had recommended calling for an election to offer employes a choice between CSEA and "no representation."

However, officials said if agreement could be reached on which employes to be included in the bargaining unit, an election would be unnecessary.

Agreement on the unit was reached, officials indicated.

No other classified employe unit except CSEA filed a request for recongition as bargaining agent.

In a related matter, CSEA has presented its initial salary proposal to the board which requests 13.5 per cent increase, or $100 across the board.

Full medical and dental coverage, paid income protection insurance, a floating holiday, vacation extensions and other fringe benefits are requested by the workers.

In other business, a parent attitude survey has showed a majority favoring the year-round school program by 70 per cent-plus margins. Those surveyed were parents of children who attended the program at the elementary and junior high levels in the past year.

Only 12 per cent at the elementary level and 16 per cent at the secondary level were displeased with the year-round plan.

The proposal to extend YRS to Chino High School met with a more negative response, however. Forty-four per cent of the elementary parents and just 36 per cent of the secondary parents favored the move. Twenty-nine per cent at the elementary and 44 per cent at secondary level opposed it.

Responses came from nearly 4,000 parents out of more than 10,000 who received questionnaires in April.

In yet another action, board President Al McCombs cast the deciding vote with only three members present, to designate the Chino Champion as the district's official publication for the 1976-77 school year.

McCombs is the publisher of the bi-weekly newspaper.

A majority of the board was needed to approve it and since only three members were there, McCombs decided the issue.

"By law I can vote for it," he said.

Assist. Supt. Al Searfoss, noted that the state conflict of interest law says if his vote is needed for action on the issue, he may vote.

Arraignment set July 8

Hit-run suspect released from jail; no bail posted

A young Chino man, charged with murder and felonious hit-run driving in the death April 21, 1975 of Simeon Lee, 45, has been released from custody without having to post bail.

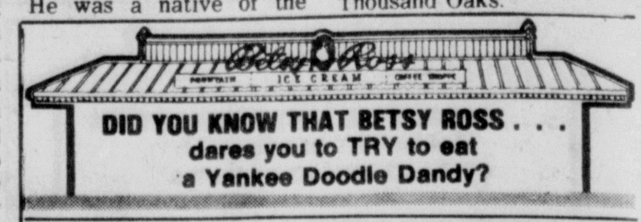

The action was taken by Pomona Municipal Court Judge Thomas F. Nuss Thursday when the defendant, Robert Charles Stone, 19, appeared with his attorney, Raymond Youngquist, before Nuss to request a reduction of the $15,000 bail set the day before by Judge James H. Piatt.

Piatt had ordered Stone jailed Wednesday after the young man surrendered himself to the court on a warrant issued by Nuss.

At the arriagnment Wednesday Stone's preliminary hearing was scheduled for July 8.

He is accused of running down Lee at night on the parking lot of Pep Boys at 336 E. Holt Ave. in Pomona. Lee had moved from Thousand Oaks to the city two days earlier in order to attend Cal Poly. He was a native of the Philippines.

Stone, of 12552 Ramona Ave., was charged in the death after police received information as the result of a $1,000 reward offered by relatives of Lee who live in Thousand Oaks.

Shooting of redtail hawk in S.D. angers naturalist

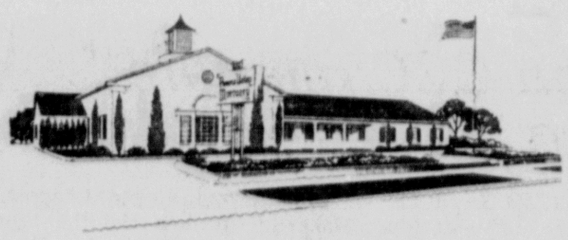

A naturalist at San Dimas Canyon Park voiced dismay about the shooting of a redtail hawk in the nature park last weekend.

"Nothing this cruel has ever happened here before," said Harold W. Jones, naturalist at the county-operated park. "Some one just opened fire on a helpless, caged bird."

According to Jones, the redtail hawk is a bird of prey that is considered an endangered species by naturalists and concervationists. It is protected by law and cannot be shot or kept in captivity. Only zoos and nature centers can be licensed to maintain such a bird in captivity.

The shooting occurred between 5:30 p.m. June 19 and 9 a.m. June 20. Sheriff's officers said the bird was wounded with what appeared to be an air gun just below the eye. The vandal also blew out five 200-watt light bulbs and punctured a clear glass pane door to a pine cove display.

Poisoning of rabbits suspected

Authorities are investigating the possible poisoning of show rabbits valued at $1,000 and belonging to a 15-year-old boy in Walnut.

The animals were found dead in their hutches at the rear of property owned by John Hamilton at 20136 Ferndoc Ave. There were two cases of sudden deaths among the animals and the Hamiltons suspect that they were poisoned.

Lawford marries

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Actor Peter Lawford got married Friday but someone forgot to bring the script.

In a ceremony that ranged from confusion to comedy, Lawford took as his third wife the former Deborah Gould of Miami. He is 52 and she is 25.

The seven-minute ceremony in the chambers of Arlington special judge Francis Thomas started on a confused note when Lawford forgot to bring the marriage license.

$3,100 to $62,000: hike in malpractice insurance at MSAC

The cost of malpractice insurance became an unexpected reality at Mt. San Antonio College this week leaving the board of trustees in shock.

James Simpson, vice president in charge of business services, told the board that last year the district paid $3,100 for "umbrella type" insurance that would protect four doctors who extend their practices to the college.

Simpson said each of the doctors spent about six hours a week at the college, treating those students who needed help. The college was paying them $27 an hour.

Simpson told the board Wednesday he has been informed that the malpractice insurance would go from $3,100 last year to $62,000 in 1976-77.

Board members sat stunned, unable to believe the 20-fold increase in the rates in one year.

Simpson said he was looking into the premiums and hoped to have a reduction in the rates.

Multimillion dollar subsidy

Pomona reoffered grant

A multi-million dollar federal grant program, once rejected by the Pomona City Council because it incorporates a subsidized housing program, is again being offered the city.

Congressman Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., announced today in Washington, D. C. that the Community Development Block Grant program, which would bring the city at least $877,000 per year for the next three years, is again being extended to the city.

This time the requirements of the subsidized housing program, Section 8 as it is known, are reduced, but the council will still have to accept the program in concept.

When the council rejected the grant earlier this year, however, the three members against it, Councilmen Charles Bader, Adrian Wright and Georgia Grove, seemed solidly against accepting even one subsidized housing unit in the city, let alone the 75 or 100 that would now be necessary.

There has been no indications any of the dissenting council members have altered their position.

What has changed since the council's action, according to Pomona City Administrator Jerrold Gonce, is that the city has convinced the federal government to allow two local senior citizens housing projects to be counted against the number of subsidized housing units required under Section 8.

One of the senior citizens complexes is Drake Manor in north Pomona, already built and occupied, and the other is the complex proposed by a non-profit affiliate of the Pomona Valley Council of Churches.

With those two projects now included, only about 75 or 100 new or rehabilitated residential units would be necessary to meet the federal guidelines, and receive the funds.

Gonce argues that most of the 75 or 100 families that would be aided under the program are already here in Pomona — meaning that the program would not be an enticement for poor families to move here.

That has been the main fear expressed by council members to date.

Ironically, even if the council continues to reject the program, Section 8 housing will exist in Pomona under the auspices of the county.

Gonce said that 16 such units already exist in the city.

Pomona is the only valley city to reject the program. Ontario, Chino, West Covina and other surrounding areas have already qualified for the grant program under the same conditions being required of Pomona.

Gonce said he would ask the council to again consider reversing its previous action at the first council meeting in July.

Not enough office space heads problem list at adult school

Inadequate office space tops a list of problems confronting the Claremont Adult School, according to the head of the school.

Charles W. Freitas suggests two alternatives for the coming year:

— That the school office be moved to an elementary or intermediate school site where a core of daytime classes could be provided. Freitas said that a small office or shared location at Claremont High should be retained to provide students and teachers of the night program there with needed services.

— That the Claremont Adult School office facilities remain at Claremont High but be located in an adequate office facility.

He told the school board that the district might consider buying or leasing a trailer or bungalow.

Freitas listed four main complaints about the program, but explained that they are only a few that evolved since the program was started in 1974.

He explained that all teaching supplies and materials are stored in the office, and that in the past two years need has increased for more space.

Freitas said that files have increased from two to 14 to handle records, that desks have increased from two to four, and that one additional typing station has been added for clerical work.

Freitas said that it is uncomfortable for prospective teachers or aides to be interviewed where telephones are ringing, people registering, and numerous other disturbances are occurring.

"The adult school interviews more applicants than any other school in this district because of the newness of the program, the scope of the curriculum, and the parttime status of the teaching staff, Freitas said.

He explained that a present or prospective student feels uneasy when he is explaining his educational background to a counselor if he feels others are listening.

Freitas said that no matter which alternative the board chooses, there is a definite need for daytime classes.

As a first-year program in 1974, the adult school began its operations in Room 400, a 21-by-15-foot room formerly used by the high school student council.

The council this year asked for the return of the room.

As the program has grown, a secretarial position was expanded to full time, and two parttime aides were hired.

The school's teaching staff numbers 50 to 80 parttime teachers and about five teacher aides.

Because of lack of space, the school has had few daytime classes, but each class has had maximum sign-ups, Freitas said.

Asked about the five percent growth cap placed on it by the state, Freitas said that the cap might come off this year.

Board member Mary Ellen Kilsby said she preferred that the adult school program be held at an elementary school instead of the district buying a portable.

Freitas said that 75 per cent of the students in the daytime classes are women, and that there is a great potential for more classes.

"We need a central location," he said. "The gain would be much more."

The Claremont school board in April voted unanimously to move the adult school, including offices, daytime classes and appropriate evening classes to Sycamore this fall.

When the recall of three school board members succeeded, the "new" board voted June 7 to rescind the old board's action and to leave the office facilities where they are.

The board did not take any action on Freitas' recommendations.

Procedures in disaster told

A booklet outlining recommended emergency procedures if a natural disaster interrupts natural gas, electricity or water service is available to valley residents at any office of the Southern California Gas Co.

The booklet is entitled "Your Utility Services — Do's and Don't's that should be followed in case of a disaster."

Five contestants in Miss La Verne Contest pause at city's Liberty Bell as they prepare for the contest July 3 that will determine who will represent the community during the next year. The girls are, from left, Teresa Beltran, Renee Marchese, Cherlyn Wanamaker, Teri Burton and Cheryl Burton. The queen will be chosen at a pageant at La Verne College.

La Verne plans fete

A communitywide celebration, complete with a queen contest, a parade, pancake breakfast and fireworks display, is scheduled for the July 4 weekend in La Verne.

Everything except admission to the queen pageant and the breakfast is free, according to Howard Blackburn, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce which is coordinating the Bicentenniel event.

Because the celebration falls on a Sunday, a religious tone will be injected into the celebration with a community church service scheduled at the Bonita High School football stadium during the morning.

The Bicentennial queen will be crowned at a pageant at the Dailey Theater in La Verne College at 7 p.m. July 3.

Tickets to the pageant cost $1 each and are available at the chamber office as well as from contestants.

Seven contestants are vying to represent the city during the Bicentennial year. They are Lori Weyers, Teresa Beltran, Cheryl Burton, Teri Burton, Renee Marchese, Christina Marquez and Cherlyn Wanamaker.

The pageant will be under the direction of La Verne Burns and Robin Espinoza.

The observances will pick up the next morning with an old fashioned pancake breakfast between 7 and 8:30 a.m. and again between 9:30 and 11 a.m. at the Bonita High School stadium.

A community church service will be held at the stadium between 8:30 and 9:30. The program is intended as a supplement to the usual Sunday services which will be held at the city's churches and will feature music by the Bonita High School band, and Bonita chamber singers.

In line with the Bicentennial theme, the program also will include a pageant on the religious heritage of La Verne, "Faith of Our Fathers — and Mothers." The pageant has been written especially for the event by Frank Ramirez, who has been involved in theater at La Verne College, and is based on a questionnaire sent to churches serving the community.

The traditional July 4 parade will start at 1 p.m. with groups forming at noon at the Bonita Stadium. Because of unusually heavy interest in participation, the route has been extended.

The parade will wind along downtown to Kuns Park where participants and spectators will be offered a free watermelon feed. Melons will be furnished by the La Verne Merchants and Businessmen's Committee and will be served by the parks and recreation department.

The feed will be followed by family games.

The Bicentennial celebration will end with free fireworks at the Bonita stadium starting at 8 p.m. under the direction of the La Verne Fire Department.

Faces lengthy sentence

A young Pomona man convicted a month ago of a variety of offenses including felonious assault, attempted armed robbery and burglary involving great bodily injury, faces a lengthy period in state prison.

He is Richard Miles, 22, who was sentenced to federal prison last January and who now has been sentenced to state prison by Pomona Superior Court Judge Sam Cianchetti.

A federal prison term of from two to six years was levied after Miles' conviction in U.S. District Court where he was charged with selling an illegal firearm to a government undercover agent. The state prison term was the result of his conviction last month in connection with a robbery attempt last November at the Top Hat Liquors, 565 Dudley St., where an employe was wounded.

The victim, Keith G. Olson, 22, of Claremont, was shot during a struggle with one of two men who tried to rob the place. The pair fled after the shooting, but one turned and fired into the store as they fled. Miles was arrested several days later.

In sentencing Miles, Cianchetti ruled that he may serve all of the state charges except one at the same time he is serving the federal prison term. But the exception, the offense of burglary involving bodily injury, is the most serious and calls for a 20-years-to-life term. That term must be served after the others have been satisfied, Cianchetti ruled.

Cub scout picnic in S.D.

Cub Scout Pack 417 in La Verne will hold a family picnic and fire ring Sunday in San Dimas Park, and a family camp-out and visit at Camp Pendleton July 17-18.

The pack is planning a family swim party and cookout at Las Flores Park in La Verne as an August activity.

At the last pack meeting, awards were presented to Darin Riggs, Gregory Reno, Dan Bennett, Steve Lossing, Glenn Buetler, Jason Burdick and Brent Morgan.

Morgan also was cited as top ticket salesman for Scout-O-Rama. He sold 100 $1 tickets to win a free week at Holcomb Valley Scout Camp.

Escapee captured

Garden Grove police have arrested a 29-year-old CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR MEN inmate who had walked away from the Chino prison June 14.

Richard Burton, serving a term for possession of narcotics and parole violation, was turned over to prison authorities in Garden Grove and returned to prison Wednesday.

Burton somehow walked out of the prison without being seen and hitchhiked to Garden Grove. When spotted by Garden Grove police he was sitting in a park. He offered no resistance to the arresting officers.

Picnic on July 11

The annual Worthington, Minn. picnic will be held Sunday, July 11, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Pearson Park in Anaheim.

S.D. chamber speaker takes the positive view at installation

A message from the guest speaker at the San Dimas Chamber of Commerce's installation banquet Thursday night: "Sing the song of America on the happy and positive side."

Stary Gange, a consultant with Southern California Gas Co., delivered a witty, impromptu address entitled "Energy That Makes America Grow," before the 100 persons attending at the San Dimas Canyon Golf Course.

Gange quipped that "Washington, D.C. is not a happy place. It is the only mental institution run entirely by its own inmates. Small towns will be the places for the re-building of the spiritual values of America."

As a high school boy, he asked a minister "Is this the only world we have?"

"He said yes. I asked if there was anyway to get out without dying. He said no, so make the best of it."

"So many people are so unhappy, dragging their way through life as though they're getting another crack at it. We have problems, yes. But lots of times it's challenging to walk into a group that is very unhappy and see if you can change the mood of the meeting," Gange advised.

Gange reported that he was 16 when the World War I Armistice was signed and 40 when World War II began, so he then asked "What do I do to pay the rent on the space I occupy in America? So I started volunteer work and speaking. I sing the song of America on the happy and positive side."

"The years ahead are going to be the best years for which all of us were made," he continued. "I'm not afraid of tomorrow. I've seen so much of yesterday. I once told some young boys in a correctional institution to give of your time, your energies and your talents. Make an advantage of a handicap. You can make a U-turn on a one-way street and become a success.

"There are so many positive things going on. Look for them. So many people read and believe the things on the front page of the metropolitan newspapers. Read the inside pages and worry on different levels.

"These are good years, our years and we're not coming this way again. Don't be afraid of tomorrow. It is a wonderful day and year we've been looking for. Get on your way to do things that must be done in this America of ours. A few people with courage can be the majority," he advised.

Judge Tom Nuss of the Pomona Municipal Court acted as installing officer for the 1976-77 officers and directors. The incoming chamber executives are Loren Wendt, president; John Perry, vice president; Jerry Jernigan, treasurer; and Lee Bell, Mike Cornett, Dick Gruszka, D.F. Hooper, Charles Krauskopf, Bill Masters, Butch Otting, Ursula Saulnier, George Twining, Bernice Walther, Sam Wesley and Dr. Doug Wyler, directors.

State GOP voters favor change in election system

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An overwhelming majority of California Republicans believe their party should change its winner-take-all primary election system, according to a poll released today.

By a margin of 63 to 25 per cent, Republicans favor a system where delegates would be allocated according to the size of the popular vote in a presidential primary, according to the nonpartisan California Poll.

Free clinic offers public check for mouth cancer

A free clinic to check for mouth cancer is being sponsored Wednesday and Thursday by the West End Branch of the American Cancer Society.

The check-ups are being cosponsored by the Loma Linda University Dental School, according to Dr. Gordon Rick, member of the education committee of the San Bernardino County American Cancer Society.

A mobile van from the university's dental school will be at the new ACS Treasure Chest, 219 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The public is invited to utilize the two-day opportunity to have a free mouth cancer check and to learn more about mouth cancer.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the ACS office Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 983-2784.

Piranha (pronounced pih RAHN yuh) is a small, blood-thirsty fish found in the rivers of South America.

They are perhaps the most ferocious fish in the world and are justly famous for their razorlike teeth, strong jaws and nasty temper.

Piranhas often travel in schools of several hundred. Seldom growing over 15 inches long, these vicious little fish, attacking in great numbers in a kind of feeding frenzy, swiftly chew up any animal unfortunate enough to come into contact with them.

Thousands of piranhas can strip the flesh of an animal as large as a horse in just a few minutes, leaving only a bare skeleton.

On rare, unlucky occasions, people have suffered the same fate.

The piranha's teeth are so sharp and its jaws so powerful that it can chop a piece out of a man or an animal as neatly as the sharpest razor.

Their usual diet, however, consists of other fish — sometimes even other piranhas!

A pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

KARL ROBERTS

Scout moving up to Eagle

Karl Roberts, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Roberts Sr. of Claremont, will be elevated to the rank of Eagle Scout at a Court of Honor Monday at 7 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Pomona.

He is a member of Boy Scout Troop 102 and has served as troop scribe and patrol leader.

Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., will take part in the ceremony and present Roberts with an American flag which has been flown over the Capitol in Washington, D.C.

Roberts, a June graduate of Claremont High School, completed school with a 3.9 grade point average. He was a member of the Science Club, Volleyball Club and Key Club on campus.

He plans to continue his education at UC San Diego.

The Eagle Scout award is the highest award attainable in Scouting. Only two per cent of all scouts nationally attain this rank.

Damien debaters in top 8

A debating team from Damien High School in La Verne was rated among the top eight teams in the country at the National Forensic League's national speech championship tournament in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mark Beltramo, valedictorian of the 1976 graduating class, and Steve McNamara, who will be a senior at Damien next year, represented the Southern California District in the competition.

They qualified by winning the district tournament held at Loyola University in February. Nationals were held June 13-17 at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Eighty-eight teams competed for national honors. The only teams to beat Damien in the final round were from Pennsbury High School in Pennsylvania and West Valley High School in Des Moines, Iowa.

Damien's losses to the first and second place teams occured in the sixth and eighth rounds of the 10-round tournament.

This was Damien's best performance in national finals although Damien speakers consistently have been nationally ranked.

During the year Damien debaters won first place at UCLA, Stanford University and Southern California championships.

Beltramo and McNamara were quarter finalists at the California finals held in May at the University of San Francisco.

Another Damien team, Bob Mocharnuk and Paul Hudson, were 1975 state champions. Beltramo and McNamara traveled to Colorado with their speech coach, Mrs. Barbara Busse.

Pomona NAACP wins high honor

The Pomona Valley Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has won the Thalheimer Award for excellent achievement from the national headquarters of the civil rights organization in New York City.

Gloster B. Current, director of branches and field administration for the national office, recently announced the award to the local branch for continued efforts in the areas of fair housing, employment, education and administrative acountability of public officials and city employes. The Thalheimer Award is the highest recognition an individual branch of the NAACP can receive.

Gertha Speiginer, president of the Pomona Valley branch, voiced pleasure with the news of the recognition.

"The NAACP is here. Our movement may be slow and quiet. We are often accused of doing nothing, but we are here, working 24 hours a day to correct the situations of inequity and deal with the fear of change," Mrs. Speiginer said. "I am impatient with injustice. The NAACP is an instrument to weld positive change. There is still a long way to go before such an organization is not needed in America."

Assemblyman William McVittie, D-65th Dist., recently presented Mrs. Speiginer with a plaque of commendation from the state legislature.

In presenting the resolution from the state Assembly, McVittie applauded the NAACP president as "the one person who stands out in local leadership."

Mrs. Speiginer, first vice president of the Southern Area Conference, NAACP, also won the President's Award this year from the San Gabriel Valley Branch, NAACP. President Dorothy Davis presented the second such award in the chapter's history to Mrs. Speiginer for outstanding and dedicated service.

Frogman, ballet classes offered

The Claremont Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring junior frogman and water ballet classes at El Roble pool.

The junior frogman classes will start Monday and July 12 at 5 p.m.

Water ballet classes will begin July 26, Aug. 9 and Aug. 23 at 5 p.m.

Each two-week session costs $5.50. Non-residents pay $6.75.

Registration will be accepted at the pool Monday through Friday between 1 and 4:30 p.m.

Further information on the classes may be obtained by calling El Roble pool at 626-9000.

Dr. Barnard's technique

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Heart surgeon Christiaan Barnard says he removed half the original heart from the man in whom he implanted a second heart in 1974.

Barnard, a pioneer in heart transplants, said he operated Monday on Leonard Goss, and that Goss now has, in effect, 1½ hearts. He said the patient is doing well.

Barnard said Goss, 48, had developed a dangerous infection in the original heart.

Barnard said he faced strong opposition from his surgical team in Cape Town's Groote Schuur Hospital. He said the team charged him with indulging in "meddlesome surgery" but that he felt he had to carry out the operation to save Goss' life.

Sinatra to wed in Oct.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Kirk Douglas will host a wedding for singer Frank Sinatra, 60, and longtime companion Barbara Marx, who is about 44, in Douglas' Beverly Hills home Oct. 10, according to Sinatra's spokesman.

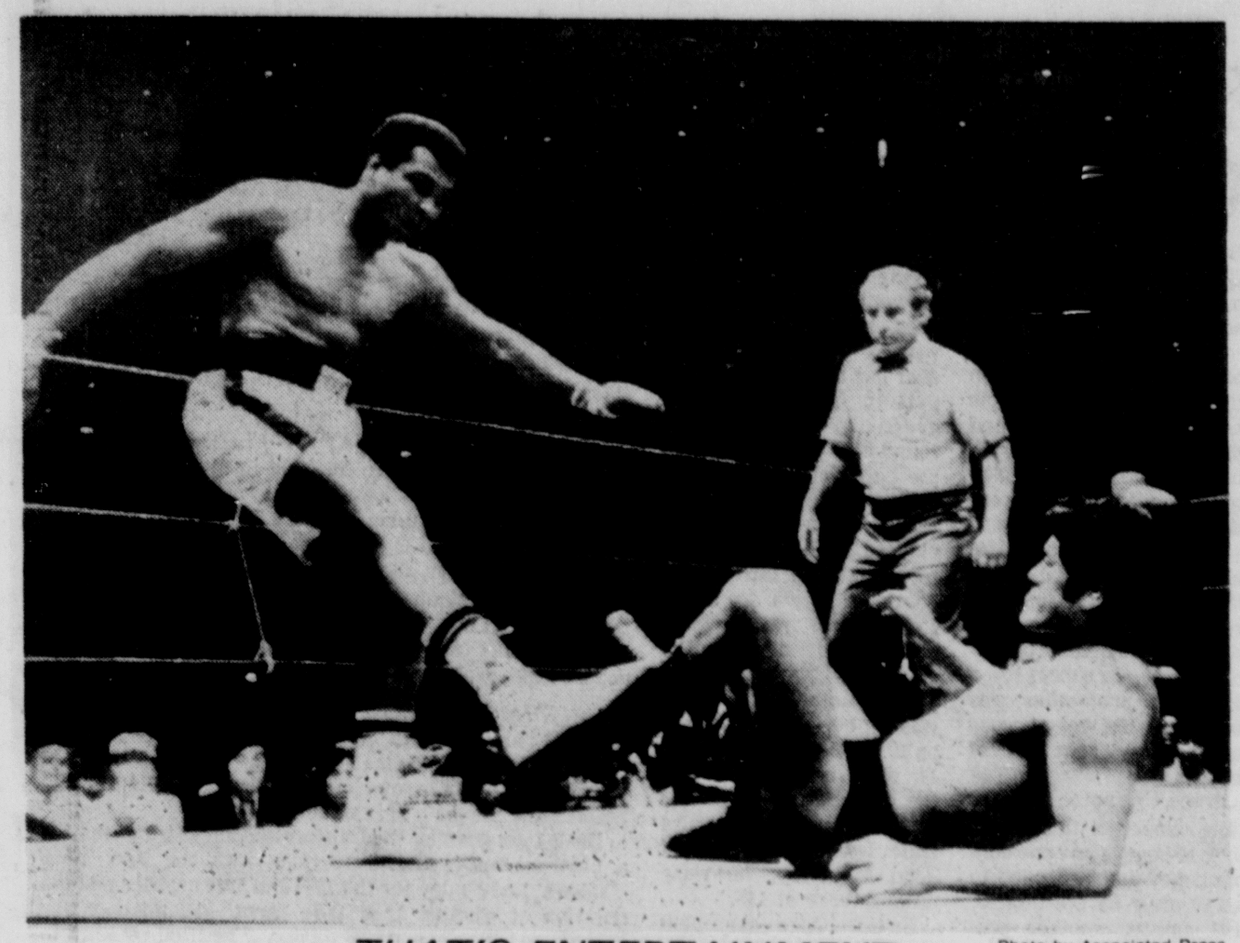

The spokesman, Lee Solters, said Tuesday that a reception is planned at the Hillcrest Country Club. Best man will be Freeman Gosden, the original Amos of the "Amos and Andy" radio show, with Mrs. Sidney Korshak, wife of a prominent attorney, serving as matron of honor, said Solters.

Mrs. Marx is the former wife of Zeppo Marx.

Halicki blanks L.A.

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — Manny Mota is still looking for his 100th pinch hit and Dusty Baker is hungry for a RBI.

Ed Halicki, the San Francisco Giants' 6-foot-7 righthander, is making the highlight of his career blanking the Dodgers and he did it again Friday night by striking out Mota with the bases full in the ninth inning to record an 1-0 victory.

Just three weeks ago, Halicki (6-10) hurled a two-out shutout over the Dodgers. L.A. has been blanked just three times this season at home and Halicki has two of them.

Mota, who hasn't had a successful pinchhit since May 23, swung and missed on Halicki's 1-2 pitch which the hurler described as a low slider.

"It was a slider down in the dirt," Halicki said. "It got him on a tough pitch."

Mota was batting for Baker, the advertised power hitter acquired from the Atlanta Braves during the winter. Baker has driven in only three runs in June and hasn't had a RBI in 10 games.

When Manager Walt Alston called for Mota to hit for Baker, Halicki was disappointed.

"I knew I could get Baker out," he said on the Dodgers' post-game radio show, "but I knew Mota would be tough because of his reputation."

The Giants elected to give Bill Russell an intentional walk to get to Baker, who has been dropped to the seventh spot in lineup because of his ineffective hitting.

"Russell hits me well," Halicki explained.

Baker said it was only the second time he has come out for a pinch-hitter in his major league career and Henry Aaron hit for him the first time.

"I guess you can't have two better hitters than Aaron and Mota hit for you," Baker said. "I'm disappointed I haven't hit the ball well."

Alston explained why he went to Mota. "I'm more interested winning the game than hurting somebody's feelings."

The Dodgers wasted an outstanding pitching performance from Burt Hooton (5-8), who didn't allow a hit until Bobby Murcer singled to left with two outs in the seventh inning.

San Francisco finally broke up the scoreless battle in the ninth when Chris Speier hit a two-out bloop single to center to score Derrel Thomas, who opened the inning with a single and went to second on a sacrifice bunt.

Ted Sizemore opened the bottom of the ninth with a single to left and advanced to second on Steve Garvey's ground out. Reggie Smith followed with a dribbler which went through the Giants' infield for a hit as pinch-runner Davey Lopes took third and Smith ended up at second.

Ed Goodson came close to winning it for L.A. but his hard drive down the right field line went foul and Halicki then struck him out. Russell then drew the walk and Mota fanned.

Halicki allowed only seven singles and the one intentional walk while striking out 10.

Asked to explain his success against the Dodgers, Halicki said, "I like this mound, stadium and crowd. I also became a Dodger hater in 1963 when they swept the World Series from the Yankees. I was 13 then and the Yanks were my team. I guess I am just carrying out my frustrations."

Now the Dodgers are frustrated.

DODGER DATA — Doug Rau (6-4) is slated to face John Montefusco (7-7) in this evening's 7 p.m. contest while Don Sutton (6-7) is the probable in Sunday's 1 p.m. game against John De'Acquisto.

Looking ahead a bit, San Diego's Randy Jones will probably pitch against the Dodgers here on Sunday, July 4.

Alston will miss tonight's game to be the best man for his grandson, Robin Ogle, at his wedding in Albuquerque, N.M.

Fans wll be permitted on the field from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Sunday for Camera Day.

Friday's loss was only the Dodgers second one-run defeat at home in 13 decisions.

Great fielding by Bill Buckner, Sizemore and Russell helped Hooton, who ended up pitching a four-hitter.

Ali 'bout' strictly dullsville

TOKYO (AP) — A "Martial Arts Championship" between standing boxer Muhammad Ali's gloves and lie-down wrestler Antonio Inoki's feet ended Saturday in a draw with neither hurt, both declaring themselves satisfied and a handful of spectators shouting for their money back.

Ali, the world heavyweight boxing champion, managed to land only two punches as he spent the match dodging Inoki's leg sweeps and kicks.

Inoki kicked him down a couple of times and once ended up sitting on him briefly.

How did the champ feel being down, with a wrestler on top of him?

"I was just letting time go by while I collected my $6 million," he said.

"Inoki is the best in his type of fighting, I'm the best in mine, and this shows that when two great stars fight each other, they don't get hurt," Ali added.

Asked how he could salvage a draw when he landed only two punches, Ali said he felt he was on the offensive and that counted for a lot.

He said he was not hurt except for his legs being bruised by Inoki's kicking.

Inoki said he felt he was hampered by the rules for this strange encounter, but added, "I have no regrets about the draw match."

At the final gong, a few bits of garbage were thrown into the ring. As the decision there were a few shouts from the $17 seats—cheapest in the house— from customers demanding money back.

But generally there was no outburst of protest against the verdict from the approximately 14,000 spectators in 16,000-seat Budokan—Martial Arts Hall— where a select group of Inoki's backers paid up to $1,000 for a ringside seat.

American referee Gene LeBell scored it 71-71, Japanese boxing judge Ko Toyama had Inoki winning 72-68 and judge Kokichi Endo, a Japanese wrestling specialist, gave the fight to Ali 74-72.

Ali weighed 218¼ pounds for the match and Inoki weighed 221½. Ali received $6 million and Inoki, president of his own wrestling association here, could earn as much as $4 million.

Despite massive pre-match publicity and countless threats of violence by both contestants, it was a tedious confrontation, with neither combatant making very much contact. Each was afraid to approach the territory which the other man had staked out for himself—Inoki dominating the center of the ring, Ali dancing along the ropes.

Inoki, challenging Ali's assertion that he could beat anybody any time, set the tone for this match at the opening bell when he rushed from his corner with a flying leap, landed on his backside and tried to snare Ali with his legs.

He kept this up throughout the 15 rounds and managed to bruise Ali's legs with his continuous kicking.

Ali circled around the ring, taunting the big Japanese wrestler and sticking his tongue out at him. But he stayed out of range of Inoki's long legs and did not throw a single punch until the seventh round. He grazed Inoki's ear with a jab in the 10th round, but did not land anything approaching a solid blow until late in the 13th, when an Ali left shook Inoki's head.

He landed one more sudden left to Inoki's head in the 14th round, but the wrestler was unfazed by the blow.

In the last round, the referee felt compelled to shout "Go, go, go," to the two fighters, and at the end fans at the Budokan Martial Arts Hall showered the ring with garbage—waste paper and orange peels.

The first real action of the bizarre boxer-wrestler confrontation came in the fifth round when one of Inoki's dozens of leg sweeps knocked Ali down briefly.

In the sixth, Ali tried to counter Inoki's tactics of lying on his back and swinging with his feet by grabbing the wrestler's legs. Inoki, who had spent most of the match on his back looking like an overturned beetle, quickly bounced up and sat on top of the surprised Ali. But with Ali under the ropes, the referee had to stop the action.

Ali also went down briefly after a couple of other Inoki kicks, but each time was back on his feet immediately.

Dr. Freddie Pacheco, Ali's personal physician, said Ali had suffered scrapes to the left shin bone and severe hematoma to his calf and thigh, but the doctor said Ali would be able to resume training in two weeks.

Ali's next scheduled defense of his heavyweight boxing crown is Sept. 28 at Yankee Stadium in New York, when he is slated to meet Ken Norton.

One brief variation to the pattern of Inoki lying on his back and kicking and Ali dancing along the ropes came in the 10th round when Ali stood in a corner waiting for Inoki. The wrestler grabbed Ali around the waist, but the referee broke it up because the two were in the ropes with Inoki's head butting against Ali's chest.

The rules, such as they were, of this encounter banned butting.

A more serious bout of grappling came in the 13th. Inoki had his arms around Ali's waist while Ali made funny faces and the referee struggled to move the two away from the ropes.

Inoki gave Ali a knee in the groin as the referee broke the clinch, and Inoki was penalized one point.

The referee examined Ali in his corner and the boxer made a move to leave the ring, but then returned immediately to the fight and landed his first punch of the day.

Nearly 14,000 fans were on hand at the Budokan and they seemed to accept the draw without much protest.

A's players vow to strike

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's voted Friday night to go on strike Sunday if owner Charles O. Finley did not use pitchers Vida Blue and Rollie Fingers and outfielder Joe Rudi by that time.

Player representative Jim Todd told reporters that the A's had held two meetings before their game with the Minnesota Twins and "decided to go on strike because Finley would not let them play."

Added Todd, "It is not in the best interest of the players the way it stands now."

Todd emphasized that there were no negative votes in the strike vote, although some players did abstain from voting.

Finley, contacted in Chicago and told of the players' decision to strike by Sunday, was quoted by Todd as saying: "If they go on strike. I'll call up 25 players from the minor leagues to play for me. I'll suspend any striking players the rest of the year."

Blue, Fingers and Rudi, three all-star players, have been a cause celebre since Finley attempted to sell them for $3.5 million on June 15. After the A's owner sold Blue to the Yankees for $1.5 million and Fingers and Rudi the Boston Red Sox for $2 million, the sale was negated by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for "not being in the best interests of baseball."

Kuhn not only used his power of office to stop the sales, he also ordered Finley to use the three superstars "in a normal manner."

However, Finley, obviously afraid of possible injury and loss of value to the trio, has steadfastly refused to use the players. He filed a $10 million law suit in Chicago Friday, hoping to overturn Kuhn's ruling.

Todd's official statement to the press:

"We have given Mr. Finley an ultimatum that if these three gentlemen are not in their former capacities, the way they were used formerly by Sunday, that we were going on strike and would not play.

"...Mr. Finley has told me that if we do this, he will bring up 25 players from the minor leagues and if he can do it, he will suspend us from baseball for the rest of the summer."

Royals snap losing streak vs. Angels

KANSAS CITY (AP) — John Mayberry erupted from a slump and drove in five runs with a pair of towering homers to power Kansas City past the California Angels 6-3 Friday night and end the Royals' six-game losing streak.

First baseman Mayberry, 1-for-19 when the game began, also made a spectacular play in the seventh inning, a diving, tumbling, shoestring catch of a pop fly bunt that killed a potenial Angel rally.

Jim Wohlford rapped out three hits, stole two bases and scored twice for the Royals.

Mayberry put loser Gary Ross, 5-9, in a 3-0 hole in the third inning with his first home run, scoring Wohlford and George Brett ahead of him.

The Angels fought back to within a run on Bobby Bonds' run-scoring triple in the fifth inning and a sacrifice fly by Dan Briggs in the sixth.

After Brett singled Wohlford home in the seventh, Mayberry again cracked a shot over the right field fence to make it 6-2.

Paul Splittorff, 7-6, was the victor. The Angels collected their third run in the eighth inning on pinch hitter Bill Melton's RBI single.

In notching his fifth consecutive triumph, Splittorff breeezed through the first two innings and then worked out of deep trouble in the third.

Three straight singles loaded the bases loaded with none out. Bonds, California's top slugger, lashed a hot grounder to Brett at third base, who threw home to force Andy Etchebarren. With the bases still loaded, Splittorff struck out Tommy Davis and got Ron Jackson on a long fly.

Mark Littell replaced Splittorff at the start of the seventh inning. The Royals said the left-hander injured the thumb on his pitching hand after being nicked by Jery Remy's grounder in the fifth inning. Splittorff was taken for precautionary X rays after the thumb began to swell.

Fred Newhouse comes back

EUGENE, ORE. (AP) — Fred Newhouse came back from the frustration of four years ago by making the U.S. Olympic track and field team in the 400-meter dash, while Maxie Parks and Herman Frazier lived up to their predictions Friday at the U.S. Olympic Trails.

The 27-year-old Newhouse recorded the world's third fastest 400 time in a semifinal heat at the same University of Oregon track in 1972, but in the final failed to make the team when he was passed in the stretch.

Friday, Parks was out fastest and led all the way in winning his second consecutive major meet following his stunning 44.82 time in the AAU championships two weeks ago. But Newhouse, an oil engineer in Baton Rouge, La., wheeled down the stretch to run second as the veteran Frazier leaned ahead of a group bunched at the finish to nab third.

Parks, formerly of UCLA, was clocked in 45.58 with Newhouse at 45.76 and Frazier at 45.84.

The time was far off the 44.1 recorded by the now-retired Wayne Collett in winning the 1972 trials, but this was a tension-packed race with no clear favorites.

Both Parks and Frazier have been erratic this year, but at the AAU Championships two weeks ago Parks said he was going to confound the experts and make the U.S. team, a statement Frazier had made a month earlier.

Marty Liquori failed to make the team in perhaps his last bid when he withdrew during the second heat of the 5,000 meter trials. The 26-year-old former Villanova runner pulled up early in the race when he aggravated a hamstring injury to his left leg.

Just seconds earlier, in fact just as the 400 was finishing, Larry Myricks of Mississippi soared 27 feet, 11-4 inches to take the lead in the long jump after Arnie Robinson had done 27-03-4. But Robinson came back on his next jump with a wind-aided 27-5½ jump to regain the lead in the event in which he is expected to win another medal in the Montreal Olympics.

Robinson, of San Diego, finished third for a bronze medal in the 1972 Games at Munich.

Placing third in the competition was Randy Williams, the defending Olympic champion, with a leap of 26-10. The 22-year-old Williams had been jumping poorly until six weeks ago, when he began looking like the same 18-year-old who did 27 feet in Munich.

The women's 400 team going to Montreal will be made up of Debra Sapenter, Sheila Ingram and Rosalyn Bryant, who was out fast in the final but faded in the home stretch.

Miss Ingram, of New York, won the near-blanket finish in 52.69.

Jeff Bennett, who nearly won a medal in the 1972 decathlon was forced to withdraw from the event, failing to make the team when he suffered another injury.

Jenner, however, fell behind and Los Angeles commercial artist Fred Dixon grabbed the first-day lead with 4,337 points. Bill Hancock of Chicago tied the American record for a decathlon high jump by clearing 7-1½ and moved into second after the first day with 4,248 points.

Jenner had 4,196 as all three men appeared to have a chance at breaking Jenner's world record 8,524 set here last year.

Favorites Rick Wohlhuter in the 1,500 and Dick Buerkle in the 5,000 easily advanced to finals of their events, both scheduled for Sunday's final session.

Chargers open camp on July 5

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers will hold their 1976 summer training camp at the University of California, San Diego.

The club said recently that rookies would report to the La Jolla campus on July 5, with veterans coming in the next week.

Women to nix Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chris Evert announced Friday that the world's top women tennis stars will not compete at Wimbledon next year because the All-England Club will not give them the same prize money as the men.

The quarrel came to a head on another day of sizzling heat at the championships. the men dominated the action on the courts, but the women made the news behind the scenes.

Miss Evert, president of the Women's Tennis Association, had a face-to-face meeting with Air Vice Marshal Sir Brian Burnett, chairman of the All-England Club. She said unless the women got equal prize money, they will boycott Wimbledon in 1977 and accept an offer of another tournament in the United States.

Burnett told her her demands will not be met. He said bluntly the women spend about half as much time on court as the men, and their general standard of play cannot be compared.

"That means WTA members will not be here next year," said Jerry Diamond, executive director of the WTA.

Feisty Finley files damage suit of his own

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Charles O. Finley of the Oakland A's filed a $10 million damage suit against baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn Friday, asking for a temporary restraining order to block Kuhn's edict which cancelled the biggest series of player sales in baseball history.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, charges Kuhn with violating antitrust laws, conspiring to deprive Finley of his rightful money from the sale of his players and several civil rights violations, said Finley's attorney, Neil Papiano of Los Angeles.

Also named as defendants were the American League, the National League, the Major League Executive Council, the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees. Thus far, the Commissioner's office, the American League office and the Yankees had no comment on the suit.

The suit stems from Kuhn's cancellation of the sale by Finley of Vida Blue to the Yankees for $1.5 million and of Joe Rudi and Rollie Fingers to the Red Sox for $1 million each.

Those sales came just prior to the baseball trading deadline of midnight, June 15 and Kuhn ruled last Friday that they were not in the "best interests of baseball." He then ordered that the three players be restored to the Oakland roster.

Finley, however, has refused to play the trio, despite Kuhn's teletype Thursday night directing Finley to "remove any restraint against the use of these players in Oakland games."

Meanwhile, Finley sent a telegram to Kuhn seeking clarification of Kuhn's teletype. Kuhn then sent a telegram to Finley Friday, warning that there would be "grave penalties" if the club does not use the three players "in a normal way.

"That is, decisions whether or to what extent these players actually participate in games should be based on precisely the same considerations that apply to other players on the A's roster and that governed these three players prior to June 15," Kuhn's telegram said.

The telegran was sent to both Finley in Chicago and A's Manager Chuck Tanner with the club in Oakland. The commissioner's message held both the owner and manager responsible for using the players.

After filing the suit, Finley said that none of the three players would start or play for the A's until legal aspects of the suit were cleared up.

Despite Kuhn's second telegram, Finley showed no sign of wavering.

"I will not play them," he reiterated Friday night. "I'm not concerned about the grave consequences. Tell him (Kuhn) to fire his guns."

Finley also said he was wiring the Yankees and Red Sox in an effort to get the players' status clarified.

"I request a specific reply to the following question," Finley's telegram to the teams read. "If the players appear in Oakland A's games between this date and Aug. 2, 1976 (when Finley's suit against Kuhn is to be heard in court), will the club accept ... (them) without recourse or offsetting claim against Oakland in the condition and with the records they have at the time any favorable decision is entered in our behalf?"

Finley said he would only play the trio is he receives positive replied from the Yankees and Red Sox.

"We'd be tickled to death to play them, but we have to protect ourselves against any lawsuits," he said. "They can sue us for playing their property. Bowie Kuhn, being an attorney himself, should know better than to send us telegrams like he's been sending."

Finley' suit asks the court to order the Yankees to pay Finley the $1.5 million and for the Red Sox to pay the $2 million, as was stipulated in the cash transaction for the three players.

According to the transcript, Finley told Kuhn at the meeting that he was having difficulty making a profit in Oakland and denied that he sold the three players in order to leave baseball.

"Am I trying to get out of baseball?" Finley asked rhetorically. "Am I trying to milk the goddam game dry to get out and make money? No! I am trying to keep it going."

Best is on hot streak

TORRANCE — George Best will seek to continue the torrid scoring streak that has brought him to the NASL point leadership when the Los Angeles Aztecs go after their 12th consecutive home victory at El Camino College against the Minnesota Kicks at 7:30 tonight.

Best, candidate for league MVP, recorded four goals and one assist in the two weekend games, moving him to the top of the NASL scoring race after 10 weeks of league play.

The Aztecs placed two players on the NASL Team of the Weeks as Bernie Fagan gained the honors for the second straight week, and Best for the second time this season.

The overtime penalty kick by Best that defeated Tampa 2-1 was his sixth game-winning goal this year, all of which have been at El Camino, and it was his brilliant unassisted goal that sent the game into the extra period.

Seals heading for Cleveland

NEW YORK (AP) — National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell all but eliminated doubt as to the destination of the California Seals Friday, saying "I'm as certain as I'm sitting in this chair" the franchise will relocate in Cleveland.

Campbell, speaking by telephone from his Montreal office, said there still are obstacles to be cleared in order for the transaction to take place. For example, the NHL Board of Governors will have to be convinced at its meeting in Chicago next Wednesday that the Cleveland territory has been vacated completely by the World Hockey Association's Crusaders, who said Tuesday they're moving to Hollywood, Fla.

It was of the utmost importance that the NHL wait until such action had taken place, for "we (the NHL) don't want to give any credence to the possibility that we had contributed to their leaving."

But the WHA Board of Trustees is expected to approve the Crusaders' move to Florida at their meetings in Toronto next Tuesday and Wednesday.

NHL permission for the Seals to relocate is expected to follow, with the Board approving a proposal by current team owner Mel Swig to move his franchise under the option granted him when he purchased the club last July.

Campbell revealed the NHL had agreed that, should Swig keep his club in its current Oakland home, "we (the NHL) would not move any club or grant a new franchise until May 1, 1978. The reason for this was to give Mr. Swig a market.

Montclair business salutes Olympics

Citizens Savings and Loan in Montclair, 5102 Montclair Plaza Mall, will be saluting the Olympic Games of past and present Monday through July 10.

Along with Olympic displays that include posters and other memorabilia, will be an appearance by former Olympic participant D.R. DeChaine, Jr. who represented the USA in Fencing on the 1968 Olympic Team. Mr. DeChaine will autograph copies of, "The Guinness Book of Olympic Records", to be given away free by Citizens during the 13-day salute. Mr. DeChaine will be at the Montclair Branch, Saturday, July 3, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

Citizens is the only major California institution that will make their services and branches available to help raise funds for the U.S. Olympic Team. A tax-deductible contribution will entitle a donor to one of 13 Olympic souvenir gifts.

REV. HILDA S. SPRAGIN

Pastor gets doctorate

The Rev. Ernest W. Morrison, pastor of the Chino Free Methodist Church, recently received his doctorate of philosophy degree from the California Graduate School of Theology in Glendale.

Mr. Morrison has pastored in the Free Methodist Church for 25 years and formerly was pastor of the Pomona church. He has been in Chino for six years.

His doctoral thesis was entitled "A Vessel unto Hour" and was based on the part nutrition plays in the mental and spiritual health of ministers and church laymen.

Sholom to honor settlers

Temple Sholom in Ontario will hold a Bicentennial Sabbath service at 8 p.m. Friday to pay tribute to the first group of Jewish settlers in America.

Parts of the Sabbath service will be chanted in the Sephardic tradition since the early settlers were of Spanish origin.

Rabbi Yisroel Klein will speak on the "Unique Tradition of Sephardim." Sephardim are Jews who settled in Spain and Portugal during the middle ages.

Church of Religious Science

The Rev. Hilda S. Spragin, minister of the Hazel Holmes Church of Religious Sceince at Hollywood, will be guest speaker at the First Church of Religious Science, Claremont at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services.

Mrs. Spragin will speak on "The Gift of Happy Chance."

Her first assignment was assisting the Antelope Valley Church of Religious Science.

Children's church and child care are provided at the 11 a.m. service. The Luminites, high school yough, meet at 12:30 p.m.

The Valley Community Drive-In Church of San Dimas is now conducting its Sunday Evening Under the Stars programs of family-oriented, Christian films.

The full-length film "Survival" will be shown Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the drive-in area only.

The Rev. Melvin De Vries, pastor, will speak on the subject "Here's Life America" at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday services.

The Continental Orchestra and guest singers Spirit of Love will present a concert of contemporary Christian music at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the church. The two-hour performance will have the theme "A Celebration of Musical Praise" and feature anthems, hymns, spirituals and contemporary gospel music arranged for the group.

Admission is free. An offering will be received during the program.

Claremont Manor Forum

Robert A. Stafford, Claremont attorney, will speak on "Southern California Indians: Their Life and Ways" at the Claremont Manor Forum Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

Stafford is the founding director of California Indian Legal Services and for many years has worked with the Indians in this area.

United Church of Christ

The Rev. Carl A. Hansen, former conference minister of the Minnesota United Church of Christ, will preach on "Tempted As Are We" at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational.

The Summer Choir will sing "Send Out Thy Light," by Gounod, and Winifred Norton will play a flute solo, "Idylle," by Godard.

An elementary class will meet in the League of Youth Room at 10 a.m. Sundays to study "Having Fun with Our Heritage."

Christ Lutheran Church

Christ Lutheran Church in Chino is collecting clothing for the Navajo Lutheran Mission in Arizona and for the Lutheran World Relief.

Persons wishing to help in this endeavor may bring items to the church all day Sunday.

The Rev. A. L. Plueger, pastor, will conclude a sermon series on "How To Do Everybody a Favor" at 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. services Sunday.

Bible classes will meet at 9:30 a.m.

Covenant United Methodist

The Rev. Donald W. Coughenour has been reassigned for another year to the Covenant United Methodist Church, Pomona. He will speak on "Your Order, Please," at the 11 a.m. service Sunday and on "The Word Is a Lamp" at the 7 p.m. service.

The pastor and his wife will be welcomed at an ice cream social at 6 p.m.

Bethel Baptist Church

Worship services in Spanish will be held at the Bethel Baptist Church, Pomona, at 7 p.m. Tuesday. The Rev. Oscar Vega will lead.

At the 11 a.m. service Sunday, the Rev. Robert Stewart will speak on "Vision for Mission." Dennis Henderson will be guest soloist.

Valley Community Drive-in

The Christian film "A Thief in the Night" will be shown at 8:15 p.m. Sunday at the Valley Community Drive-in Church of San Dimas.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited. A voluntary offering will be received.

The Rev. Melvin De Vries will speak on the topic "Like Father, Like Son" at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday. Special recognition will be given to the oldest father in attendance that day.

Vacation Bible school begins Monday at the church and continues through July 1 from 9 a.m. to noon weekdays. The school is for children from 3½ to seventh grade age.

The general theme will be "Stand Up and Cheer — Jesus Sets Us Free." The program will include Bible study, handicrafts, play and music.

Registration may be made in advance or on the first day of school. A small fee is requested to offset the cost of materials.

A closing program will be held at 7 p.m. July 1, beginning with a potluck dinner. The program will also include singing, skits and a sharing of things done during the Bible school.

Parents may also enroll their children, 6 through 12, in the Christian Day Camp on the grounds of the church Monday, and continuing through Sept. 10. Hours of the camp are 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Fern Reese will direct the school and supervise such activities as Bible instruction and craft lessons, baseball, gymnastics, hiking, table tennis and assorted games. Swimming instruction and piano lessons will also be available.

United Church of Christ

Claremont United Church of Christ Congregational will sponsor a vacation church school next Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. for elementary youth.

Mrs. Doris Houser will direct the "The Bible Alive" program.

On the last day, a picnic and a trip to the Holy Land Exhibit in Los Angeles is planned.

Special music will be provided Sunday at the 10 a.m. service by the choir of the Sierra Arden United Church of Christ of Sacramento and the local church's summer choir.

New members will be received.

Greater New Light Baptist

The combined choirs of the Greater New Light Baptist Church, Pomona, will present their monthly musical at the church at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Under the direction of Mrs. Louise Shropshire, minister of music, they will sing a variety of gospel songs. Mrs. Helen Plummer, pianist, will accompany them. The public is invited.

Faith Lutheran Church

Faith Lutheran Church of San Dimas will close its week of vacation Bible school on Sunday with a program at 7 p.m. in the church auditorium.

The public is invited to the program and to an ice cream social on the church lawn beginning at 5 p.m.

After the closing program for the school, students will set up tents at the church for an overnight campout.

Summer worship services are held at 8 and 10 a.m. each Sunday.

Towne Avenue Nazarene

A competition for building a bigger and better Sunday school through friendliness will be explained at the 9:45 a.m. service Sunday at Towne Avenue Church of the Nazarene in Pomona by Supt. Gary Barlow.

The Rev. Clyde W. Rather, pastor, will speak at 10:45 a.m. service on the subject "A Governor Trembles." His 7 p.m. topic is "The Danger of Sin."

Al Dunn and Dave Freeman will conduct youth meetings at 6 p.m.

Catholic theologian sees in years ahead anti-Semitism's end

NEW YORK (AP) — A leading Roman Catholic theologian foresees the disappearance of Christian anti-Semitism in the years ahead, Vatican recognition of Israel and a Jewish "new view" of Jesus as a great prophet.

The Rev. Edward H. Flannery, for 10 years head of the U.S. bishops' secretariat for Catholic-Jewish relations, also predicts peace in the Middle East and eventual Arab appreciation of Israel as valuable to the whole region.

"Israel will finally be seen by its neighbors for what it is — a great democracy and model for socio-economic construction which can contribute powerfully to prosperity and quality of life in the entire Middle East," says he.

Father Flannery, of Washington, leaves his post this fall as American Catholicism's chief adviser on Judaism to return to his home diocese of Providence, R.I., where he will direct continuing education of priests.

He says religious or theological kinds of anti-Semitism will be the "first to disappear," but that secular forms of this "most durable of all hatreds" still will linger.

This means a major "historical reversal," he says, since Christian churches originally fired anti-Semitism, but are among the "first to repudiate it.

"The day is almost at hand when the Christian pulpit and classroom, the chief sources of anti-Semitism, will be the front line of the struggle against it," he writes in the interreligious quarterly, "Face to Face."

It is published by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, which works to combat anti-Jewish prejudice. In the current issue, several Catholic, Protestant and Jewish scholars contribute views on the future of Jewish-Christian relations.

The Rev. Dr. Krister Stendahl, dean of Harvard Divinity School, says Christians will "become increasingly aware of the apostle Paul's vision of a coexistence of Judaism and Christianity," both as kindred, saving faiths.

Rabbi Dr. Seymour Siegel of New York's Jewish Theological Seminary of America, says the two, once-clashing religions are beginning to be "the basis for love and mutual concern" and they can "stand together in combatting the forces of dehumanization and tyranny."

Father Flannery says secular anti-Semitism, its main form today and the kind mainfested in Soviet Russia, the Middle East, some Fascist parties and "liberal ideologies," will live on "in less virulent forms."

Its "unconscious character" makes it "an ailment peculiarly difficult to treat," he says. However, he says the "rabid anti-Zionism now affecting the United Nations and the international community" will come to be seen as "temporary insanity sustained by an oil politic that will lose its influence on world affairs as new sources of energy are successfully exploited."

With the coming "increase of empathy" between Christians and Jews, he foresees development of a "two-covenant theology," which recognizes Judaism as valid for Jews, but Jesus as essential to extend the faith to others.

He says that Christianity and Judaism undoubtedly will find their new relationship "cross-fertilizing and complementary," and he adds:

"Jesus will be reclaimed in Judaism as one of Israel's great prophets. The new view of Jesus will stem from ... the work of Jewish scholars addressing themselves to the subject of Jesus and the new view Jews will have taken of Christians and Christianity.

"As the horrendous memories of millenial persecution by Chrisitans recedes into the past, studies of the real Jesus and His teachings will be underaken on a larger scale and a consequent admiration of Him will emerge."

The rise of "mutual esteem" between Judaism and Christianity, he says, will enable them to "stand shoulder to shoulder to confront the problems of humanity as a whole, a humanity ever on the brink of self-destruction and return to barbarism."

Jews heartened by attitude of Catholic Church

NEW YORK (AP) — Through the Synagogue Council of America, the three U.S. wings of Judaism have made their first official repsonse to recent Roman Catholic statements on relations with Jews — and call the new attitude heartening.

Taking note of the recent Vatican guidelines and the U.S. bishops' pastoral message on the matter, the council hailed church acknowledgment that an "anti-Judaic theology" had been at the heart of past hostilites toward the Jews, adding:

"In dealing with the old notion that the Jews were guilty of deicide, the pastoral letter makes a point of observing that the 'Jewish people never were, nor are they now, guilty of the death of Christ.'"

The council also commended the bishops for urging Christian understanding of the Jewish link to Israel — a bond which the letter says has pervaded Jewish "'writing and worship throughout the two millenias a longing for the homeland, holy Zion.'"

Declared the Council, the umbrella grouping of U.S. Judaism, "Out of our fraternal relations, bonds will be forged that will strengthen our common endeavor before God."

BERNICE BEDE OSOL
For Sunday, June 27

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be sensible about your driving habits today. Being a few minutes late is far better than courting a mishap.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't try to sell others on ideas today that you're not completely sold on yourself. Your sales efforts could return to haunt you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) New projects should be started very cautiously today. Don't jump into anything without being certain all the pieces fit.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) To gain the full respect of persons you'll be involved with today; you must be frank and open. Don't camouflage your motives.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Normally you're an outgoing type who enjoys having others around, but today you have a tendency to hide your light under a bushel.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Give a wide berth to a friend today whose life is presently complicated. She could draw you into something sticky you needn't be a part of.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're likely to be in the spotlight today whether you desire it or not. Try not to do anything that could tranish your image.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Even though you feel very strongly about your views, you'd be wise to keep them to yourself today. Listen — and learn more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Think twice before involving yourself with new partners in joint ventures. Be sure they're what they represent themselves to be.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is not a good day to make major decisions hastily. If you guess wrong you could later have something nasty to unravel.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A lot depends upon the way you handle yourself today when others make requests. Being uncooperative sets the tone for their future actions.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be on guard socially today. Don't say or do anything to give one who likes to put others down something to tell her friends about.

Your Birthday June 27

Some acquaintances who had little of constructive value to offer will fade from the scene this year. They will be replaced by new, loyal friends.

THE REV. E. EDWARD DILLON — He'll hold revival services at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, Pomona, at 11 a.m. Sunday, and at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Christian music concert Sunday

The nationally known Continental Orchestra and special guests "Spirit of Love" will be heard in a concert of contemporary Christian music Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Upland Brethren in Christ Church.

Selected by audition from thousands of high school and college age people across the nation and around the world, the orchestra members are highly trained and talented musicians.

The orchestra has 30 members and is completely equipped with sound and lighting for the staging of its performance.

The Spirit of Love group won the vocal group competition at the 1975 Christian Artists' Music Seminar and Camp.

Bible school begins classes

The Alta Loma School of the Bible, designed for laymen and women, will begin its summer session on July 5 and 6 at King of Glory Lutheran Church in Alta Loma.

Two 12-hour courses will be offered. A course in Greek and Greek word studies will be taught by Steve Zelt on Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m. for four weeks. No previous language training or special language ability is required. Zelt is a student of Melodyland School of Theology in Anaheim and youth minister at King of Glory Church.

The second course on the Book of Philippians will be taught by the Rev. Tom Koske, pastor of King of Glory Lutheran Church and founder of the Bible school. This class will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. on Tuesdays.

The classes are open to the public. Registration fee is $5 and a $12 donation will be asked for each course.

Enrollment information may be obtained by calling 987-1275 or 987-4285. Registration will also be accepted at the first class.

REV. DAVID E. EDWARDS

Priest is honored

The Rev. Julio Roman, associate pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Pomona, was honored this week by the Pomona City Council for his work with Spanish-speaking youths in the city.

Father Roman has organized a youth group at the church and also works with young people at Garey High School.

Originally from Panama, he is also active as chaplain of the Knights of Columbus at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

A citation from the city was presented to Father Roman Monday by Mayor Ray Lepire.

Trinity to bid pastor farewell

A farewell reception for the Rev. Dorsey Allen will be held Sunday at Trinity United Methodist Church in Pomona following the 10:30 a.m. worship service.

Mr. Allen, pastor of the church for the last 3½ years, will be succeeded by the Rev. David E. Edwards.

A new post as pastor of the United Methodist Church in Tempe, Ariz. awaits Mr. Allen. He and his wife, Adele, and four children will relocate there.

Mr. Edwards will give his first sermon as pastor of the Pomona church on July 4. He is currently pastor of the United Methodist Church in El Cajon.

He is a native of Los Angeles. He attended UC Berkeley, Cascade College and the Asbury Theological Seminary.

He was ordained in the church in 1962 and has served as pastor of churches in Taft and El Cajon.

He and his wife, Elisabeth, have three children, Mark, 18, Michael, 14 and Susan, 9.

Our Savior farewell for couple

A farewell reception for Mr. and Mrs. James Dallman will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. at Our Savior Evangelical Lutheran Church and School in Pomona.

Mr. Dallman has been principal of the church school for the last five years and has accepted a new position with Emmaeus Lutheran Church in Phoenix, Ariz., where he will begin a new school.

Mrs. Dallman has been a teacher at the school in Pomona.

Irish conflict held political, not religious

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — An Irish Presbyterian leader, the Rev. Dr. A.J. Weir, told the assembly of the Presbyterian Church U.S. (Southern) here that Ireland's conflict is not over religious differences, but over coinciding political differences — a quarrel not between churches but between communities associated with them.

For instance, he observed, if a person in Northern Ireland identifies himself as an atheist, "he is asked if he is a Catholic atheist or a Protestant atheist."

Youth minister plans program

The Rev. Chuck Davis, youth minister at the Claremont Baptist Church, will work with junior high, senior high and college-age youth during the church's summer program.

The program will include a survey of the basics of the Christian faith, contemporary Christian problems and various socials and camping trips.

Davis is enrolled in the master of divinity program at Fuller Theological Seminary at Pasadena.

Davis and his wife are members of the Alhambra First Baptist Church where they are involved in the ministry with young married couples.

A potluck dinner will be held in the Fellowship Hall at 5 p.m. Sunday for Davis.

REV. CHUCK DAVIS

Want talks to resume

CHICAGO (AP) — The general board of the Christian Church (Disciples of Chirst) has unanimously approved resumption of unification talks with the United Church of Christ.

The 1.3-million-member Christan Church and the 2-million-member United Church had suspended union talks in 1966 to concentrate on a nine-denomination merger effort, but its slowed progress led the United Church recently to invite a resumption of the bilateral negotiations.

1,200 to attend Jehovah's assembly

More than 1,200 persons are expected to attend the semi-annual assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, California Circuit 2-B, next Saturday and Sunday in Norco.

The featured speaker at the assembly will be Malcome Van Ike, district overseer for Southern California. The theme of the assembly will be "Become Doers of the Word."

Among the local featured speakers will be J. D. Wengert, circuit overseer for the valley area.

The two-day program will include student talks and dramatizations.

The public service at 3 p.m. Sunday will have the theme "Are You Doing What God Requires of You?"

New Bible in green

CLEVELAND (AP) — A big, new edition of the King James version of the Bible is being issued with the words of Jesus in green.

Red-colored words "tend to dazzle the eye," says Peter Lloyd-Taylor of the William Collins-World Publishing Co. "Green is a much gentler color and easier on the eyes."

Churches celebrate Bicentennial

The Chino Ministerial Association, consisting of 20 churches in Chino, will sponsor a Bicentennial celebration July 11 at 2 p.m. at Chino High School's gymnasium.

The program will consists of patriotic music by combined choirs of various Chino churches. They will be directed by The Rev. Gerald DeLuney of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Various ministers participating will give a short talk on the religious heritage of the country.

The Rev. Carroll G. Martin, minister of First Assembly of God Church, will be master of ceremonies.

Ten to attend Indiana meeting

Two persons from the La Verne Church of the Brethren and eight representing La Verne College represent the Pacific Southwest at a conference on the church and higher education at Earlham College in Richmond, Ind. this week.

The church representatives are the Rev. Leland Wilson, minister of the church, and Florence Crago.

Attending from La Verne College are Armen Sarafian, president, Lowell Brubaker and R. Truman Northup, trustees, Vernard Eller and Wayne L. Miller, faculty members, the Rev. John Gingrich, campus minister, and Randy Miller and Diane Shivley, students.

The conference is focusing its work on the church's relationship on higher education.

Back in La Verne, Bill Willoughby, a member of the church, will be guest speaker Sunday morning. Willoughby, chairman of the humanities division of La Verne College, will discuss "Now Abideth Hope."

European Nazarene minister in Ontario

The Rev. Frank Morley, who represents Europe on the General Council of the Nazarene Young People's Society, will attend the Sunday evening services of the First Church of the Nazarene in Ontario.

Also present at the 6:30 p.m. service will be Mr. Morley's wife and three children. The family has been in the United States to attend the recent General Assembly in Dalllas, Tex.

The Rev. Ron Fay, associate minister at the church, has returned from the General Assembly and will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

Jehovah's to attend conventions

Chino congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend three conventions scheduled at Hollywood Park in Inglewood on July 29 to Aug. 1.

Theme of the meetings is "sacred service," and the program will consist of Bible lectures, symposiums, discussion periods and full-costume dramas, all focusing on problems in today's society.

New Greek Theater preserves tradition

...Story on pages 4-5

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

By 1888 the name and fame of Pomona had traveled as far afield as New York City. And why shouldn't it have? That was the year, as reported in the New York Journal, that:

"The largest navel orange grove in the United States is in Pomona, Los Angeles County, California. It is owned by Seth Richards, formerly a very large land owner in Iowa. He has 100 acres in Pomona set out to 10,000 orange trees and in a few months will have another 100 acres set out to 10,000 more trees. What a sight an orange grove of 20,000 trees would be to an Eastern horticulturist!"

But the largest navel orange grove in the United States wasn't the only thing to which Pomonans were pointing with pride in 1888. That was also the year when construction began on cement sidewalks on both sides of Second Street. On Oct. 10 the City Council had accepted Bernard Reddicon's low bid for the work in which he agreed to build the walks for 13 cents per square foot and the curbing for 32 cents per lineal foot.

Thus it was not at all surprising that at a regular meeting of the Pomona City Council, the City Marshal was authorized to hire a clerk for 20 days, at a salary of $1.50 per day, to assist in the collection of city taxes. After all, those new cement sidewalks were going to cost a lot of money and Pomona's City Fathers wanted to make doubly certain ALL local property owners contributed their fair share to that civic improvment program.

Browne eyes top spot

The Phillipine Interzonal Tournament has been underway since June 12, in Manila. The top three finishers will compete with five others in a series of matches to determine the 1978 Challenger to World Champion Anatoly Karpov's title.

Amongst those vying for a top position in Manila are the U.S. players Walter Browne and Lubomir Kavalek. Browne, the U.S. Champion the last two times running, has a good chance for success in his very difficult task. But he will have to beat out such players as former World Champion Boris Spassky and world-class grandmasters Mecking, Polugaevsky, Ljubojevic and Hort.

Previous experience tells us that Browne will not be stopped for lack of trying. A description of one of Browne's losses shows us what his opponents must face:

"A bitter struggle! Bornwe could have accepted equality at any time. His ferocious will to kill determined that he would lose."

He improves with age

Always a top grandmaster, Viktor Korchnoi, now age 45, is achieving the best results of his career. First he extended Karpov a full 24 games in their brutal Challenger's match. Now he has by a slight margin outperformed Anatoly in the recent Soviet Cup Team Tournament, at the first board position.

Amongst the top world players, only the inactive Fischer and Karpox, himself, now outrank Korchnoi.

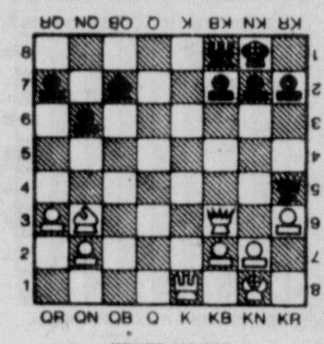

Here is the finale of a game Korchnoi played in the aforementioned team tournament:

In this position Korchnoi played 42. . . . KRxB and Anikayev resigned. He saw too late that after

Wedgewood agate bowl

By Dorothy Hammond

QUESTION: I have a treasured peice which has been in our family for many years. This bowl is nine inches in diameter, is in perfect condition and is marked WEDGWOOD on the underside. It is in various shades of brown and tan. Your opinion as to its value will be appreciated. Mrs. T.M.C.

ANSWER: Examples of Wedgwood's agate ware are rare and expensive. Prices for bowls start around $300 and go up.

In his work, Wedgwood learned how to use colored clays to imitate precious and semi-precious stone. For solid agate, he tinted various batches of clay, mixed them together and pressed them into a mold — carefully retaining the veining of the clay. The two halves were put together carefully in order that the seam did not show — and after clear glazing, the mixture became solid agate in appearance.

QUESTION: Have you any information on dolls marked "Q.T."? I recently bought one at an auction showing this trade mark, and am wondering about its origin and date of manufacturer. Mrs. A.P.C.

ANSWER: Sam Kalner, New York, N.Y., was the patentee for a doll bearing a "Q-T" trademark on May 6, 1937. I have no information as to your dolls manufacturer since a designated "patentee" is not necessarily the manufacturer.

James M. Nederlander is the new impresario of the New Greek Theater.

Every summer from late June to early October the hills of Los Angeles' sprawling Griffith Park come alive with the sound of music as the 46-year-old Greek Theater presents a varied program of opera, ballet, pop and rock performers, musical comedies and dramatic presentations.

The venerable amphitheater is "under new management" this year as James M. Nederlander of California, Inc., has taken over from James A. Doolittle, whose Greek Theater Association had operated the outdoor bowl for 24 years. The facility is now known as the New Greek Theater.

The summer season was officially launched Friday night by Sammy Davis Jr. and Blood, Sweat and Tears. The program will be repeated at 8:30 nightly through Monday. The Spinners, with guest star Donna Summer, play there Wednesday through July 4.

The 4,253-acre Griffith Park was presented to the City of Los Angeles by millionaire Col. Griffith J. Griffith. It is the largest city park in the nation. It is also the home of the Griffith Observatory and the Los Angeles Zoo. Griffith later gave the city funds that he stipulated be used "for an outdoor theater where people might have an opportunity to assemble in comfort for entertainment." Those funds brought about the construction of the 4,400-seat Greek Theater in 1930. It is under the city's Parks and Recreation Department.

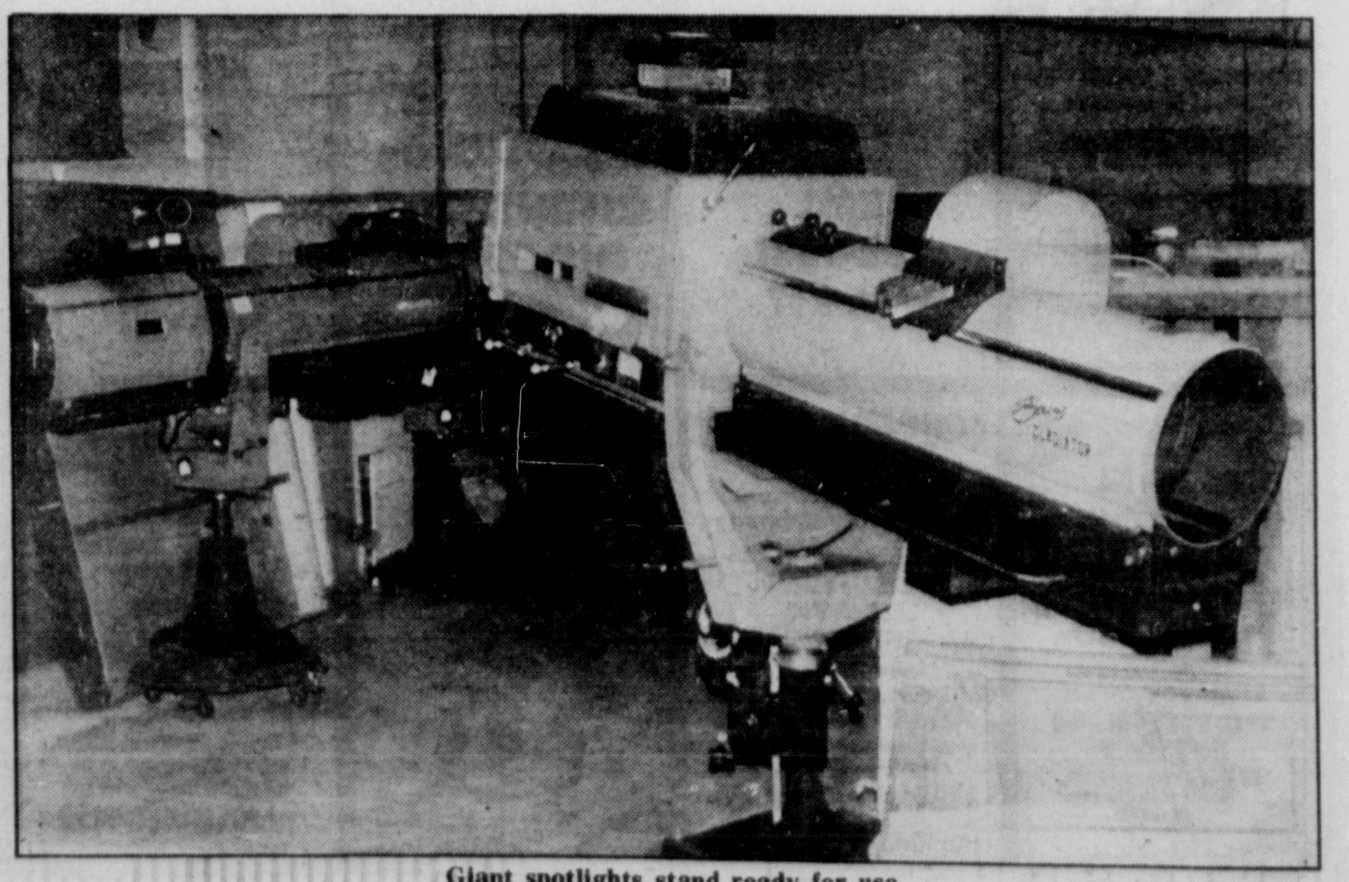

For several years entertainment was provided by Gene Mann and the Hollywood Starlight Theater Association, then Doolittle took over in 1952. Now Nederlander has signed a three-year lease with the city to rent the amphitheater for $50,000 a year.

The pantheon of artists and groups that have performed on the Greeks's broad stage is impressive — Judy Garland, Danny Kaye, Maurice Chevalier, Jack Benny, Rudy Vallee. Among the many musicals presented there are "Pal Joey," "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying,"

ON THE COVER

Nestled in the tree-shrouded hills of Los Angeles' Griffith Park stands the 4,400-seat New Greek Theater, which opened its summer season Friday night with Sammy Davis Jr. and Blood, Sweat and Tears. The stage is seen from the last row in the lower photograph. At upper right, the spotlight towers are nearly lost in the trees. At left, John Alydon is the Pirate King in "The Pirates of Penzance," to be staged here July 14 and 15 by the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company of London.

Giant spotlights stand ready for use.

"Wonderful Town," "Sweet Charity" and "My Fair Lady."

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and the New York Ballet have performed there. The tree-lined walls of the theater have echoed to music of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra of London and other leading symphony orchestras, and many operas have been mounted there — "La Traviata," "Madama Butterfly," "Carmen" and others.

"I am well aware of the history of this great theater," Nederlander said as he took up the reins. "This has been a world-renowned theatrical institution. Performers, producers and theater-goers everywhere know about it, and there's no reason whatsoever that this magnificent facility should take a back seat to anyone. I have assured the City of Los Angeles that I will use every resource at my command to see that the Greek regains its position as one of the finest installations in the world."

Attendance in the past few years has been uneven as Doolittle attempted to balance purely cultural events with rock and pop music performances. The former did not always draw large audiences; most of the latter would be sold out. Nederlander's schedule for the summer indicates that he is catering heavily to popular tastes at the sacrifice of more aesthetic attractions.

The highlight of the season for Savoyards will be 10 performances of Gilbert & Sullivan operettas by the prestigious D'Oyly Carte Opera Company of London. The troupe will present "The Midado" July 9, 10, 11 and 13; "The Pirates of Penzance" July 14 and 15, and "H.M.S. Pinafore" July 16 and 18 and twice on July 17.

Other attractions at the Greek this summer will be the Chinese Acrobats of Taiwan, Harry Belafonte and his company, Shirley Bassey, Seals & Croft, Three Dog Night, Olivia Newton-John, Rich Little, Burt Bacharach and Anthony Newley, the Charlie Rich Show and George Burns and Carol Channing.

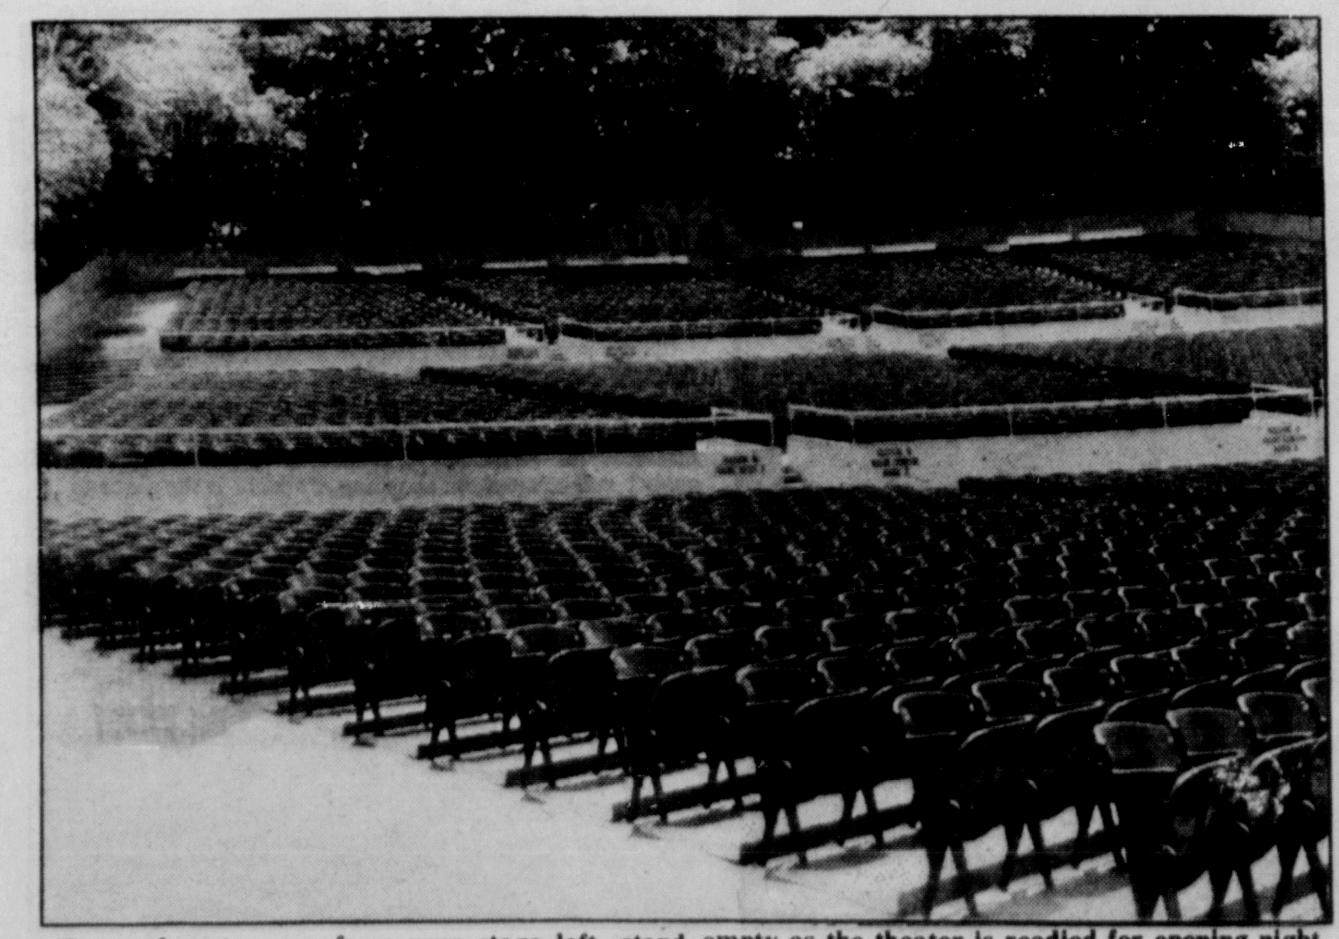

The Greek Theater provides free parking and picnic grounds for before-the-show suppers.

The popular vocal group, The Spinners, will perform at the theater Wednesday through July 4.

New manager confident facility can regain its position as one of the finest in world

Rows of seats, seen from near stage left, stand empty as the theater is readied for opening night.

Ted Baumgartner helps customer Jana Breaux decide on a cold cut variety.

Rose D'Amico and Nick LoCore offer friendly words to waiting customers.

LoCore, right, helps son, Joseph, stack olives on the shelves.

Market becomes valley landmark

Policelli Italian Market operators say they offer more than "the finest selection and variety of cold cuts in the valley." But they also try to extend to each individual customer a jovial and warm, hometown attitude.

Nick and Alfonsa LoCore began working with the original owner, Nick Policelli, in 1957. LoCore moved from clerk to manager to owner in 1970 under the tutelage of Policelli.

"Mr. Policelli remained with me in a supervisorial capacity until his death in 1973. He helped me make the right moves. I'm grateful to the man for providing me these opportunities and I haven't forgotten," LoCore said.

The Montclair market is a hub of activity, a friendly center with plain folk attitudes. Patrons enjoy the congeniality and humor of all six employes and the owners, and the market is seldom empty. Nearly all patrons are known on a first-name basis and many have been steady customers since the market opened 19 years ago.

"I, as a store owner, appreciate the dedicated customers who have made Policelli what it is today — a landmark in the Pomona Valley," LoCore commented. "First, you thank God and then the people who make you prosperous."

Policelli offers at least 50 varieties of cold cuts, including its fresh Italian sausage, Italian dry salami and roast beef pastrami cut from rounds; a selection of imported and domestic macaroni (pasta) and a full line of Progresso products.

The frozen food line includes Fioran ravioli, gnocchi (potato dumplings), tortellini (a home-made round noodle stuffed with meat and used in chicken or beef broth or as an appetizer), manicotti, lasagna, and veal parmigiana. Italian breads and rolls and imported and domestic wines also are offered.

The cheese line features such delights as imported Pecorino Romano for grating; fontina, typo and tilsit for mild eating and Provolone for sharp cheese lovers. Greek and near Eastern varieties of cheeses and a small deli of cracked green olives, Giardiniera garden salad, marinated mushrooms. Greek olives, German potato salad and marinated artichoke hearts also are palate possibilities.

LoCore's sons, Emil, Joseph and Nick Jr., and daughter Marie put together party platters of cold cuts and cheeses in varying sizes. LoCore assists the party-giver with culinary advice.

In addition to variety, Policelli affords savings to customers.

"Ninty per cent of the products in our store are cheaper than the supermarkets sales of the same merchandise," LoCore boasted. "Some of my steady prices are cheaper throughout the year than when supermarkets mark down material for short sales. If people are interested in quality and economy in shopping, Policelli is the place to go."

Store hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and closed Sundays and major holidays. The store is located at 4078 Holt Blvd., Montclair, just east of Mills Avenue.

Top students now feeling pressure

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — "It's nice to have the pressure off," David Germany said as he leaned back on the bed in his Princeton University dormitory room after his last exam.

His mind was pulling into focus the impressions of his four years at Princeton, which he later condensed into a thousand words for his valedictory address — a duty of the university's top-ranked graduate.

"I will give a speech and after that I will not be the valedictorian," he said quietly. "I was the valedictorian. It implies nothing about who I am or what I'll be in the future."

Across the tree-shaded campus, Susan Hurley, this year's salutatorian, was leaving her room to find the professor who was translating her commencement greeting into the Latin she used to deliver it, an old Princeton tradition at June commencement.

"Intellect is really very important to me," she says. "But I think there are too many people who get too caught up in it."

Although their thoughts are turning now from what has been to what will come, each of these 21-year-olds speaks freely but modestly of past achievement. If their experience is any indication, honors graduates at America's top universities are strongly motivated, practical, often introspective, pleased but not overwhelmed by academic excellence, and easily diverted by music and other pastimes.

Princeton's top two students — they had nearly all A's all four years—also are concerned that being labeled valedictorian or salutatorian may increase the pressures on them to succeed.

He didn't expect academic superiority four years ago. Now he is aiming for a doctor of philosophy degree in economics, his major, at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"There are many things that are beyond me. Applied math, calculus, things like that always came pretty easy to me. But I got into a course that started teaching math theory and I just sat there lost, dazed and confused. And there was a 15-year-old behind me who thought it was simple.

Classical music can distract him from books, as can his girlfriend and friends across the hall. Much of his time was devoted to campus activites, including intramural athletics and the yearbook he edited.

Eventually he hopes to find a teaching position or a job in the business world — a practical role, close to a final product.

Susan says,"... I want a law degree, to have some clout in the real world."

She studied philosophy at Princeton and will emphasize international law at Harvard Law School in the fall. Her home is Santa Barbara, Calif. She wants to travel and hopes to spend a year in France and Italy studying their languages. Free time at Princeton went to singing and studying Japanese art.

High grades were something "I just kind of took for granted," she says. "I don't think I consciously set the goal. I just never thought of doing anything else.

"It takes a lot of work. I'm extremely nervous and I can channel a lot of nervous energy into it."

"My desire is to experience life as fully as possible before I die. I'm really aware of how brief life is and that's why I want to live a life of adventure, instead of riches or status."

COME ON OVER

Olivia Newton-John, or Livvy as she's known to friends, has done it again with another brand new hit. It's hard to believe that in six years this young singer has won more awards than some people earn in a lifetime, and besides that, has become an internationally famous star; but this is Livvy s story. The granddaughter of a Nobel-rpize winning physicist and the daughter of a college professor who loved opera, Livvy shunned the academic world in favor of the music she always felt was in her blood. At 14, she formed a singing group with three friends, but had to quit when it interfered with her school work. At 16, she won a talent contest (the prize was a trip to England), and there was no holding her back this time. Livvy went to England and in 1971 recorded a Bob Dylan tune, "If Not For You", which won her a Grammy and launched her fabulous career.

Community gardens can be money-savers

A family growing vegetables on a community garden plot 25 feet by 30 feet can save $250 to $300 a year in fresh produce.

The information is contained in a free brochure just published by Gardens for All, Shelburne, Vt., a non-profit organization to encourage community vegetable gardening as a way toward individual and community self-sufficiency.

According to B. H. (Tommy) Thompson, director of Gardens for All, the color brochure explains what community gardening is, the benefits for families and communities, and the basic steps in getting a community gardening program started.

As defined in the brochure, community gardening is "gardening by groups of people on land they don't own, because they don't own enough land or their land is unsuitable for cultivation." The community gardening site is away from the gardener's home.

Thirty million non-gardeners in America would grow their own vegetables if they had the land, the brochure points out, citing research conducted on behalf of Gardens for All by the Gallup Organization, Princeton, N.J.

Mr. Thompson said that with population heavily concentrated in metropolitan areas, special efforts must be made to develop vacant land in and around cities for gardening purposes. In New York City alone, he said, there are some 29,000 vacant areas.

Community gardening is "very low cost public service," the brochure states. "More state and city governments should be encouraged to assist in making vacant land available and to appropriate funds to make it usable."

Community gardening is spreading rapidly in America, according to the brochure. "Everyone gains as more and more people begin to produce at least some of the food they consume. Community gardening helps to keep food prices down. It helsp people to become more self-sufficient and to cope with inflation and economic stress."

Organized four years ago in Vermont, Gardens for All functions as a national clearing house and information exchange for community gardening activity.

Copies of the new Gardens for All brochure are available by writing to Gardens For All, Bay and Harbor Roads, P.O. Box 371, Shelburne, Vt., 05482.

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

Clara Maass, the American nurse who gave her life during yellow fever research at the turn of the century, will be honored on a new 13-cent U.S. commemorative stamp. The date of issuance will be Aug. 18 at Belleville, N.J., the site of the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

She was born in East Orange, N.J., June 28, 1876. After graduating from the Newark German Hospital School of Nursing in 1895, she soon became the head nurse there. When the Spanish-American War broke out, she volunteered as a nurse with the U.S. Army. In 1900 she was sent to the Philippines to continue her work with yellow fever victims. Then she returned to Cuba where experiments were being conducted by a team that included Major Walter Reed and Major William Gorgas.

Nurse Maass again volunteered, this time to be bitten by the stegomyia mosquito to prove it was the carrier of yellow fever. Ten days later she died. She was the only American, and the only woman, to die aring the experiments which led to the virtual extinction of the disease.

In 1952 the Newark German Hospital became the Clara Maass Hospital in honor of its most famous nurse.

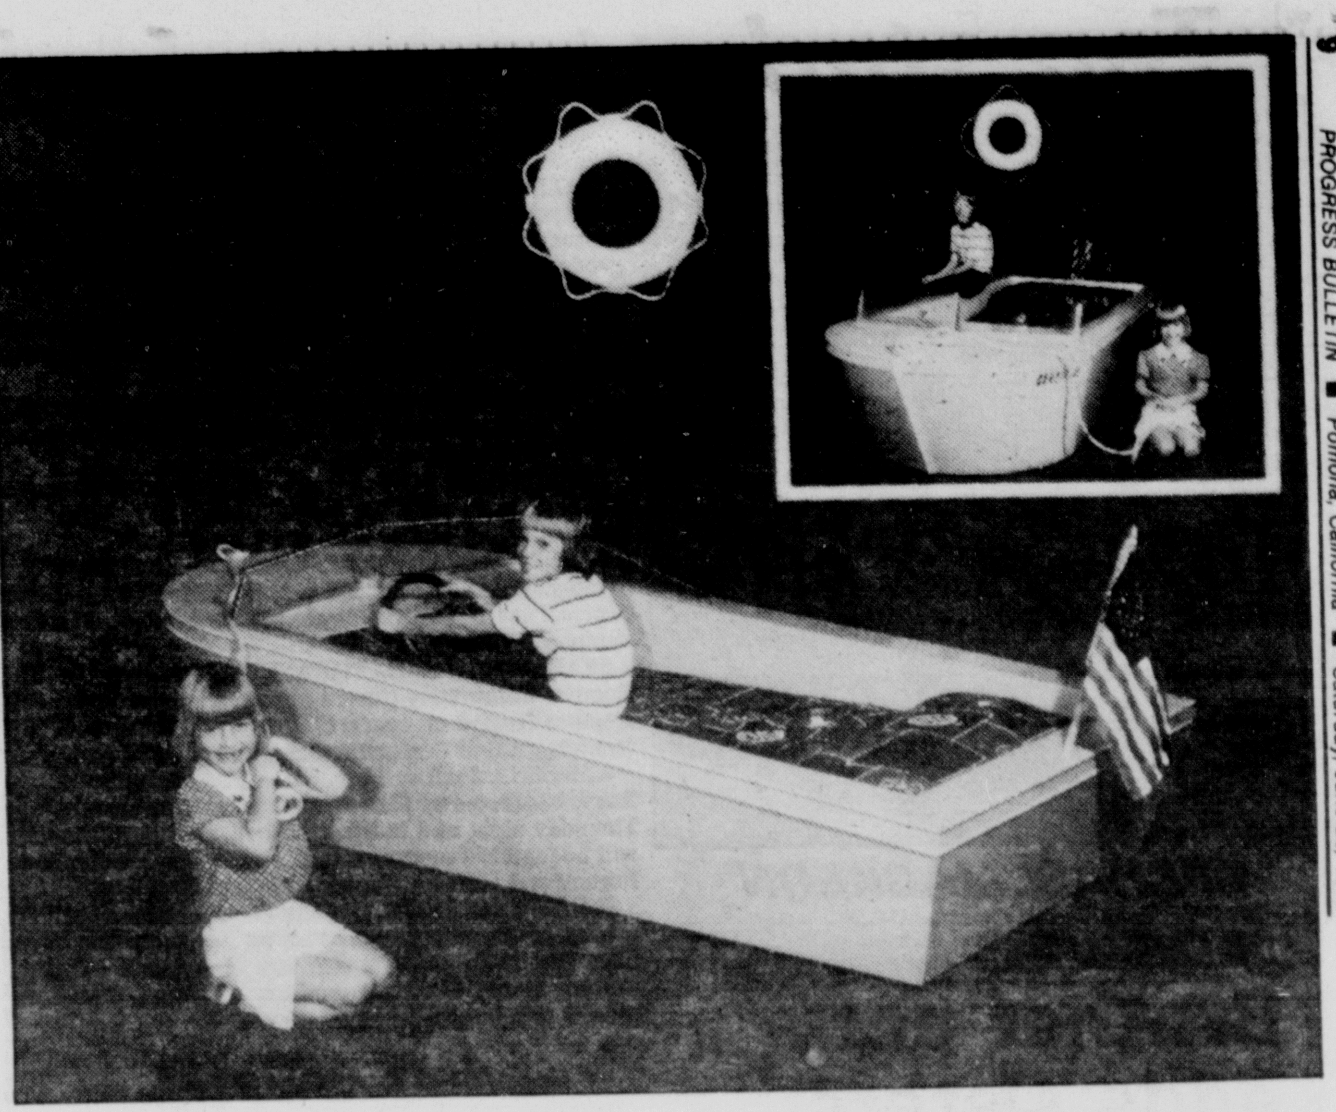

The design of the new stamp features a profile of Miss Maass against a light blue background. She is wearing the nursing cap and pin of the Newark German Hospital. At the upper right, in two lines of black type, appears "USA 13c." Across the bottom, in black type, is the name "Clara Maass." Beneath her name in blue is the inscription "She gave her life."

First day cancellation requests should be addressed to "Clara Maass Stamp, Postmaster, Belleville, N.J., 07109." The cost is 13 cents per stamp to be affixed to the self-addressed envelope which must accompany the order. Your order must be postmarked no later than Aug. 16.

Do-it-yourself

Children's bed like a boat

By STEVE ELLINGSON

Imagine your children's faces when they get aboard this sleek, exciting speed boat bed, ready to zoom them off to dreamland. As you can see, it looks just like a motorboat, yet is a perfectly great bed for the young "salts" in your family.

Built principally of plywood, the speed boat bed measures 50 inches beam to beam, and 96 inches stem to stern, and it takes a standard 39-inch mattress. The plexiglass windshild is cut from scrap pieces available at hardware stores and lumber yards. The "metal" windshield frame is actually plywood painted silver. Paint the boat bed with a few enamel coats of your child's favorite right color, add a flag and maybe a ring-buoy. Chances are, you'll have trouble getting the kids out of bed.

So, ladies and gentlemen, it's "anchors aweigh" for a really fun project. To order the Speed Boat Bed, Pattern 574, send $2.50 (includes first class postage & handling) by cash, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, c/o: Pomona Progress Bulletin Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

"Naval stores" today applies to pine products such as resin, tar, pitch and turpentine which mainly comes from the American Southeast. Originally the term included masts and cordage and before the establishment of the American colonies the main source was the Baltic region. In 1705 naval stores became enumerated articles only allowed to be exported from the place of origin to England, or another colony. This hindered colonial trade with other foreign nations, The World Almanac notes.

Morven, on the edge of Princeton, N.J., was the estate of signer Richard Stockton. Stockton's daughter, Julia, was married to Pennsylvania signer Benjamin Rush, who visited at Morven. British troops occupied the house during the Revolutionary War and managed to dig up two of three chests of valuables hidden by Stockton. The World Almanac notes that Morven is now the official residence of the governor of New Jersey.

MICHAEL JACKSON

'The Jacksons'

Brother act adds sisters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If anyone ever needed an hour to showcase their talent in a TV variety show, you'd think it would be the performer-packed Jackson family.

Yet the five brothers and three sisters who are starring in "The Jacksons" this summer on CBS-TV deliberately opted for a 30-minute format.

"We were offered an hour but we decided to do half an hour," explains Michael Jackson, who soared to fame six years ago as lead singer of the Jackson Five. He's now all of 17.

"We'd rather just give them (the audience) a little — make them want more. Then they'll be ready for us next week."

The Jackson clan was offered a weekly series by ABC two years ago but Michael says they turned it down because they were just too busy recording and touring to devote themselves to a one-hour TV show each week.

They still are, he notes — another reason for the 30-minute format. The family was able to knock off the four CBS summer shows — the second of which airs tonight — in less than three weeks.

Jackson says the musical clan is more willing to accept a long-running series commitment now — "there's a TV craze goin' on" — but if CBS wants them as a midseason replacement this winter, it will have to take them at half an hour.

Whether the network will buy the concept permanently he isn't sure, but he believes the channel-hopping public will.

"America is on the move," he declared. "It's hard to make 'em sit still for an hour unless somethin's goin' on - like somethin' dirty."

The latter came with a sly grin from the shy high school senior. He spoke quietly at a table beside the swimming pool at the tree-shrouded home where he lives with his parents and three siblings. His pet parrot squawked loudly from its nearby cage.

The five oldest sons of Joe and Katherine Jackson burst onto the national musical scene in 1970 with a string of records that hit the top of the sales charts and forever ended the days when their father had to operate a crane in a Gary, Ind., steel mill.

The original group consisted of Michael, Jackie, now 25, Tito, 22, Jermaine, 20, and Marlon, 19. Brother Randy, now 14, joined them on the concert circuit in 1973 and the three girls — Rebie, 26, La Toya, 20, and Janet, 10 — followed in 1974.

Only Jermaine will not be seen on the summer series. Michael says he was busy recording a solo album at the time they taped the shows.

Father Joe, the primary musical influence on the talented children, also got involved, serving as an executive producer. But Mother Katherine, who played clarinet in high school, would have none of it, Michael reports.

Two operas set at Citrus

The Summer Session Opera Workshop at Cal State Long Beach will present two contemporary American chamber operas in the Auditorium of Citrus College at 8 p.m. July 10. Admission is free.

The one-act operas will be fully staged and accompanied by orchestra.

"Hello Out There," by Jack Beeson, is based on the play by William Saroyan. It tells of two lonely people, a young gambler and a girl, who meet in a small-town Texas jail. It is, in Saroyan's words, "about the wonderful, lying, crooked people who believe themselves to be righteous in the murder of a hoodlum of a gambler-poet." Saroyan, in describing his reaction to Beeson's opera writes, "The music is quite wonderful — lyric, pure, simple . . . Jack Beeson has writ himself, and myself, and the rest of us, one real beaut of an American opera, out of Matador, Texas, by way of Fresno, California, and wherever Beeson hails from."

"Mike Fink" is a folk opera by the late California composer Morris Ruger. It concerns a romantic episode in the life of Mike Fink, legendary Indian fighter, keelboatman and trapper, who woos and wins Sally Ann, an attractive New Orleans belle. Mike's chief rival is Squire Jay, well-to-do dandy and the town's most eligible bachelor.

After much agonizing indecision, Sally Ann chooses the boisterous, handsome keelboatman over the respectable, stuffy squire. In the finale, the keelboat is cast off and amid congratulations of the townsfolks, the couple departs for New Orleans and a great wedding celebration.

Hans Lampl, conductor of the Cal State Long Beach Orchestra and musical director of music theater and opera, will be musical director and conductor for this production. Stage director will be John Noschese, Los Angeles singer and stage director.

The performance at Citrus College is presented with the cooperation of Citrus College Community Services.

Lesser earns more

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Film producer Sol Lesser has earned a Master of Science degree at the University of Southern California — at the age of 86.

Maker of "Our Town," "Stage Door Canteen" and 13 Tarzan movies, Lesser has been teaching at U.S.C.'s film school. He decided to become a student as well and wrote as his master's thesis "The Disciplined Procedural Model for Educating the Filmmaker at the Graduate Level."

John, Kate set for 'Someday'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A repeat pairing of John Wayne and Katharine Hepburn?

That's the plan of Hal Wallis, who teamed the superstars in "Rooster Cogburn," a sequel to his successful "True Grit." Now the producer has acquired another tale of Marshal Cogburn and Sister Eula Goodnight, "Someday."

Grace in films as director

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco, who gave up an Academy Award-winning film career as Grace Kelly to marry Prince Ranier, is returning to the movies — this time as a member of the board of Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp.

Board chairman Dennis C. Stanfill announced Tuesday that Princess Grace has agreed to become the firm's first female board director. She will be elected at the board's next meeting, scheduled for July 29 in Chicago, but a company spokesman did not know whether she would attend that meeting.

"She will contribute a valuable dimension, based on her experience in the motion picture industry and her many international interests and activities," Stanfill said.

Princess Grace married Prince Rainier on April 19, 1956.

Each director receives $7,500 as an annual retainer and $250 for every meeting he or she attends.

Bobby Darin film suit dismissed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A film biography of the life of singer Bobby Darin may be shown by NBC-TV, despite protests from the deceased performer's executor in Superior Court, a judge has ruled.

Attorney Gerald Lipsky, who filed suit on behalf of Darin, who died 2½ years ago, said that the proposed program violated publicity rights held by the estate.
